

VARIED PROGRAM PREPARED FOR HALLOWEEN

PARADE, BONFIRE, PARTY

Plans are now being made for the annual Halloween festivities on Saturday, October 30, sponsored by the Barrington Park Board.

The main attraction for grades one through five will be a parade at one o'clock in the afternoon which will begin and terminate at the playground. Then a bonfire has been planned for grades four through six. It will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Seventh through twelfth grades are cordially invited to a blue-jean, plaid shirt party from 8:30 to 11:30. The fee will be twenty-five cents per person.

Refreshments of cider and doughnuts will be served at a cider bar by the members of the Future Homemakers of America.

Dancing and games will be the main entertainment of the evening. Music will be provided by the Barrington Dance Band, under the direction of Mr. Fred.

For those not interested in dancing, there will be games in the band room. Some of these games are as follows: fortune telling, ducking for apples, dart throwing at balloons, rummy with an expert, penny tossing, miniature golf, and bean bag throwing. Everyone should try his luck, for prizes of delicious refreshments will be awarded to the winners.

Remember! A pair of jeans and twenty-five cents will admit you to an evening of fun and amusement October 30 at 8:30.

ARTISTS TO DECORATE WINDOWS

Along with the other Halloween plans will be the decoration of store windows.

The artists will be divided into three groups: fourth, fifth, and sixth grades; seventh and eighth grades; and high school. Three prizes will be awarded in each division for the best Halloween drawings.

The art department of the school will provide the materials, and the work will be done under the supervision of Miss Stubenrauch and Mr. Smiley. The high school students will confine their decorating to windows on Lake County side of town, and the grades to the Cook County side.

Thirty-six Art I and Art

"GHOST WANTED" TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK

Those great days you've been waiting for are almost here. Yes, on November 5 and 6 you will all be able to see the exciting junior class play, "Ghost Wanted." The cast and committees have been working very hard to assure all of you an enjoyable evening of entertainment.

The play takes place on a lonely island called Ramshead Rock. The excitement begins when two adventure-loving boys, Hugo Bromley (Forrest Berghorn) and Jeffrey Hall (Bri Anderson), answer a newspaper ad entitled "Ghost Wanted." When they arrive at Ramshead Rock, they meet Granny Kate (Belle Gorman), a friendly little old lady, and her two lonely granddaughters, Gale and Ginger (Pat Wayne and Joan Gruene-wald).

II students will exhibit their artistic ability on thirty-four windows. They will work during class time today, all tomorrow morning, and during study periods tomorrow. The results should be well worth one's tour of the windows.

ELECTION RALLY HELD MONDAY

The Campaign rally for national and state officers was held on Monday in the auditorium. This was the second event in a series of pre-election activities being sponsored by the American history classes and the discussion clubs, under the direction of Miss Sheel. The third and concluding event is the election of state and national officers by the student body, which is being held today.

The rally should be rated as a success. It was very plain that a good deal of work and planning had been put into the rally by the sponsoring organizations. The addition of signs and music, together with demonstrations, added a great deal of color to the meeting.

MUDSLINGING AS A MEANS OF PERSUASION

It is hardly necessary to assert that mudslinging, the lowest form of argument, appeals either to those who are so unenlightened that they actually believe what is said or to those who are ill mannered enough to laugh at what they would like to think is amusing. Mudslinging is truly nothing short of sheer slander.

Whenever it becomes essential and when there is no other course than to employ this as a means of persuasion, it is because the person using it cannot maintain his position from a positive standpoint. He is merely able to be cynical and to find fault with that which he is opposed; he is not able to uphold his own cause by supplying enough facts to convince his audience sufficiently.

One who slings mud accomplishes nothing besides the ability to display a warped sense of humor, and those who listen and are amused only verify their ignorance.

Rights Party and their candidates, J. Strom Thurmond and Fielding Wright, stand for. He was followed to the rostrum by Kit Lasch and Carol McCoy, who spoke for the Progressive Party's candidate, Henry Wallace, and Socialist Norman Thomas, respectively.

Then Jack Tukey spoke in behalf of Thomas Dewey, while Jim Frey supported Harry Truman for reelection. In the race for governor Dick Aspinwall presented a timely and very effective speech for Adlai Stevenson in reply to Donna Duerwachter's plea for Dwight Green. Peter Fischer spoke on C. Wayland Brooks' record in the Senate. Kit Lasch should be congratulated on his fill-in talk in behalf of Paul Douglas.

Miss Gorman made a seconding speech for Truman and Ted Huszagh supported Dewey.

The speeches, with one or two exceptions, were well planned and appropriate. Unfortunately several members of the audience went a little too far in express-

BRONCHOS WIN HOMECOMING GAME, 38-0

As far as football was concerned, this year's homecoming was the best homecoming ever, for Saturday the Bronchos overwhelmingly defeated the Northbrook Vikings by a score of 38 to 0.

There was never any doubt as to which team was the better. The Bronchos wasted little time scoring their first touchdown. Baumann climaxed this first drive by an eight yard jaunt around left end. However, most of the scoring did not take place until the second quarter when 26 points were tallied.

It was J. Hansen who culminated the Bronchos' second drive to pay dirt. The point after the touchdown was good and Barrington led 13 to 0. Scoring methods were changed briefly as J. Hansen scored the next touchdown after blocking a punt and running fifteen yards for the third touchdown of the afternoon. Kranz scored the fourth Broncho touchdown by ploughing through the middle of Northbrook's line, and then added the extra point, which made the score 26 to 0.

The fifth Barrington touchdown revolved around what should be called the play of the game. Shuett intercepted a Northbrook pass on the fifty yard line and raced fifty yards down the sideline for a touchdown. The blocking on this play was terrific. About a half dozen blocks were thrown, and more than one Viking almost sailed out of the park.

The final touchdown of the afternoon was moved by Kranz, who ran twenty-one yards around right end for pay dirt.

Barrington gained a total of 419 yards to Northbrook's 130, making twelve first downs to three firsts for the Vikings. The Bronchos attempted a mere six passes. Only two were completed officially, but two others were nullified by penalties.

Last Saturday's game was probably the Bronchos' best all year. The line played magnificently, and the backfield was performing at its usual high standard. The record for scoring in one game was tied, and the number of points in conference play was boosted to 102. The Bronchos have not yet been scored upon.

BRONCS MEET ANTIOCH TOMORROW NIGHT

HOPE TO CLINCH CONFERENCE CROWN

The Bronchos will be aiming for their fourth conference win and sixth victory of the year when they take the field against the Antioch Indians tomorrow night at Antioch. It should be remembered that just last week Antioch upset the highly favored Grant Bulldogs by a 7-0 score. This has put the Bronchos in a favorable position for the Northwest Conference Championship. A victory over Antioch will place Barrington as undisputed winners of the crown, an achievement long awaited by B.H.S.

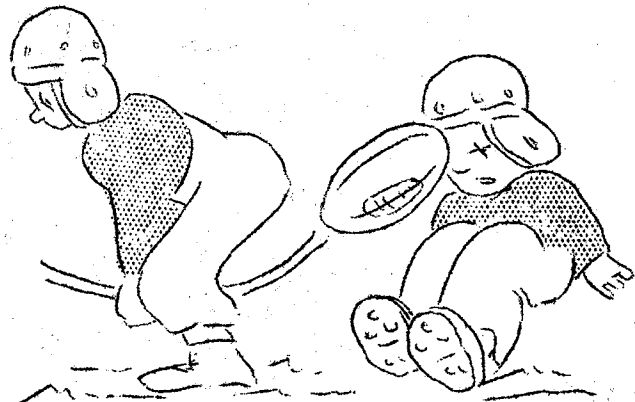

The Bronchos have rolled up 102 points and held their opponents scoreless in conference play, and they'll be out to increase the former and keep the latter right where it stands now.

Let's all get over to Antioch and give the Bronchos the support they need for a victory. This will be our last night game of the season. Kickoff is at 7:30.

PONIES DEMOLISH NORTHBROOK, 26-6

Last Monday the frosh-sophs followed the varsity to make it a twin victory at Northbrook.

At the end of the first quarter it was clear as to whose ball game it was. Hartwig lugged the ball to Barrington's thirty-nine on the kick-off. The first play gained no yardage, but on the second one Aevermann took the ball sixty-one yards through the center of the line for a touchdown. A very effective block by Popp enabled him to get away. Popp tried to kick the extra point, but it was wide. Several minutes later Aevermann again ran about sixty yards to score. This time the kick was good.

Northbrook started to push the Ponies back, but couldn't score, and lost the ball on downs. Then Popp toted the ball for seventy-one yards and another score. His try for the conversion was short.

In the last minutes of the third quarter Northbrook was forced to punt, and the Pony backfield was befuddled. Popp touched the ball and was unable to gain control of it. A Viking fell on the rolling ball in the end zone for their lone tally. The extra point was no good.

Thompson ran forty yards in the fourth period, starting a march down field. Paulson tossed a short pass to Whitmer, who then trotted over. Popp kicked the extra point.

HOMECOMING DANCE GOES OVER BIG

The annual Homecoming dance "Where Old Friends Meet" began at eight thirty Saturday evening.

The gymnasium was adorned with autumn shades and branches of colorful leaves. Cardboard footballs bearing the names of the senior players decorated the front of the stage. As in the past, other footballs designating each class and the number of its graduates were spaced along the sides of the gym.

Harry Clarke and his Noveltones furnished versatile music for those who were present. Request numbers were performed willingly, and the dancers enjoyed this informality.

Chuck Smith and Roger Shales, accompanied by the orchestra, combined their talents to entertain the Homecoming throng. Chuck played "Sentimental Journey" with Roger in "Ragtime Cowboy" and "Hawaiian War Chant."

The intermission was filled by Miss Baer and the boys' ensemble. They presented three selections: "Oklahoma," "Down by the Old Mill Stream," and "Sophomoric Philosophy." The entertainment was fine, but there was one criticism. There should have been more.

Miss Gorman and the F. H. A. provided cider and cookies as refreshments.

The dance was very well attended. The Class of 1948 received a box of candy, since, with twenty-five members in attendance, it had the largest representation of alumni. The Class of '47 was next high with seventeen. There was a good representation from the present student body.

All in all, the Homecoming Dance of 1948 can be considered a success.

his arrival, and many strange things begin to happen.

When a monster appears in the house, everyone becomes frightened except Professor de Vallan and Madam Zolga, who are delighted that they have finally found a zombie.

The rest of the week-end proves to be quite an adventure for all, with one quick thrill after another. If you enjoy spine-chilling adventures and screams in the night blended with hilarious comedy, you'll enjoy "Ghost Wanted."

365 PARENTS ATTEND SCHOOL

On Tuesday, October 26, the parents received a taste of what the students have five days a week. At eight o'clock in the gymnasium the regular meeting of the P.T.A. was called to order. After the meeting the program was turned over to Mrs. Caroline Mitchell, who had worked out a very interesting program with the theme: "Education--an Investment in People."

First on the Parents Go to School Night program was a quiz for all parents and faculty. Lollipops were awarded by Mr. Moon to those having the most correct answers. Succeeding the quiz, Miss Katherine Baer led the group in community singing consisting of favorite songs for various age groups. These ranged from the kindergarten's "Jack and Jill" with motions to the a cappella choir's favorite, "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Next on the program was a tour of the building. On the tour parents chatted with teachers and saw the various rooms.

The following high school students served as ushers throughout the building: Belle Gorman, Art Webb, Giles Mellon, Pat Carr, Forrest Berghorn, Doris Ann Jahnke, Bill Kuffel, Lynette Herbert, Roland Ryden, Marilyn Patterson, Margaret Whittenberg, Donna Pinkerman, and Betty Catlow.

Those activities stressed most were stage sets for the junior class play explained by Art Webb, Richard Biek, and Belle Gorman and speeches given concerning the issues and candidates of the election. Jack Tukey, Glenn Brandt, Dick Huszagh, Ted Huszagh, Joy Paulson, Donna Duerwachter, Dick Aspinwall, Jim Frey, Kit Lasch, Peter Fisher, and Carol McCoy presented speeches.

Immediately after the tour the evening of fun ended with parents and faculty again assembling in the gymnasium for refreshments.

The attendance of the program was very high. Among the audience were approxi- (Cont. on page 6, col. 2)

The annual magazine drive begins today. There will be the usual magazines, among them "The Saturday Evening Post," "Ladies Home Journal," "Jack and Jill," "The Country Gentleman," "Holiday," "Coronet," "Life," "Reader's Digest," and "Better Homes and Gardens."

Every morning in our respective classes the pupils will turn in their orders with the money to an appointed captain and a treasurer. They in turn will submit their class records and money to Mr. Chiles' bookkeeping class.

The highest first hour class in quota for the drive will receive a full day's trip to Chicago. Each day the top first hour class will receive a box of candy. Also each day the highest sales person will receive $1.00. In addition to the above, various individual awards, based on credits from the magazines sold, will be presented. These prizes range from compacts to pen and pencil desk sets and to Philco radios.

Let's all get behind this campaign with atomic power and shove it over the hill of success. Each of us will benefit either personally or through his class. Let's show the world that we're really out to sell!

SQUARE DANCERS ENTERTAIN AT VETERANS' HOSPITAL

On Sunday, October 24, ten members of the exhibition square dance group visited a Great Lakes mental ward for privileged patients. These men were veterans of both wars.

The dancers were Richard Biek, Peggy Reeve, Dick Rippy, Leon Hick, Lynette Herbert, Jeannie Noyes, Joanne Meenan, Audrey Meyer, Ken Shuett, and Dick Puffer. They found the men a very attentive audience, and, of course, had a good time dancing. As a reward for their program, the square dancers were served ice cream and cookies.

MUSICAL NOTES

Homecoming was here and is over with, and nothing remains but fond memories. In the music department you can hear joyous voices singing. Could it be because their float won in the contest? It was really a clever idea, and all those who worked on it deserve congratulations for making it a success.

Saturday night at the dance the Boys' Ensemble made its first appearance. They sounded good and made a fine impression, showing the alumni that B.H.S. is still as good as it was when they were here. Nice work, fellas. Their three numbers were "Oklahoma," "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," and "Sophomoric Philosophy." The last one, having to do with "Why Study?" concerns a question we all wonder about. All in all, the boys did a swell job. We hope to hear more from them soon. Those participating were Frank Kelsey, Richard Biek, Richard Miller, Duncan Aspinwall, Dick Puffer, Dave Fredin, Bill Meyer, Bri Anderson, Linden Chiles, Jack Wichman, Don Miller, Bill Anderes, Charles Smith, and Richard Rip-py.

Since next week-end is the time all witches, goblins, and black cats appear, there will be a dance Saturday night. Everyone should be there. Our own B.H.S. dance band will play. You had a sample or two of the musicians at Homecoming, so you know they're bound to be good. Tell all your friends to come and help celebrate Hallowe'en by having fun, but not being destructive.

ing disapproval of various candidates, but on the whole the meeting was very well conducted. It is unfortunate that the student body was so overwhelmingly in favor of one or two candidates, as this decreased the spirit of competition which made the convention last spring such a great success, but the generally good results should encourage the school to try the idea again in the future.

CHEF CLUB MEMBERS

PROVE THEIR WORTH

The Chef Clubbers prepared and ate their first dinner last Friday night. The dinner was the prelude for the construction of the club's float. The supper was the "hamburger plus extras, a la carte" type. Of a total membership of twenty, twelve members were present. It was, according to the club's executives, a very successful dinner. The usual evidences of amateur hamburger cooking, however, were present. There were some hamburgers that showed signs of "mooing" and others that would make a good showing against charcoal gum. Dave Deyoe, Dunlop Anderson, and Gale Whitmer very ably acted as managers of the dinner. Thanks to Miss Gorman's benevolent supervision, the evening added up to a very successful dinner.

After the kitchen had been cleaned up, the fellows went to Gale Whitmer's grandmother's home. There they built the float. And what a job the boys did; it was common knowledge, direct from the "grape vine," that the music department just squeaked by with first honors against the Chef Club.

over last year's attendance of 250. The eighth grade class won in attendance, having thirty-seven parents at the meeting. The large number present is proof of the interest of the parents in the school and its activities.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club held its regular meeting Friday. In a short business session, the group discussed last-minute plans concerning the homecoming float.

A recording of the play Andromache by some members of the club provided entertainment. It was very well done, considering the fact that the members had not had much rehearsal. The cast included Belle Gorman, Betty Ethers, Pat Carr, Richard Ellerbrake, and Chuck Wilkes.

SOPHOMORES—MUSIC DEPT. WIN FLOAT PRIZES

The parade was exceptionally good this year. The floats were all very colorful and showed much originality and hard work.

The seniors used a live goose on theirs, which distinguished it from all the other class floats. The juniors presented the idea of a bowling alley, the pins representing the Vikings, with the Viking being shaved. The sophomores should feel honored to win against such stiff competition.

Although there were many good organization floats, the music department proved to be the best. They used a clever idea by having Bill Meyer's dog listening to his master's voice. The dog represented the Vikings, the phonograph the Bronchos.

More Bicycles than ever before were decorated for judging. Carol Cling decorated a cart and pulled it. She won the $1.50 prize that was given for the most original decoration.

The judges for the parade were Tommy Johnson, Art Conrad, and Howard Wenzel.

FRESHMAN SPEECH CLUB

In third period yesterday the Freshman Speech Club completed the tryouts for "Aunt Betsie," a pantomime to be given in an assembly.

The cast is as follows:

Reader-----	Saralu Thomas
Betsy MacPherson-----	Marilyn Esh
Benjamin Pringle-----	Helen Haines
Jonathan-----	Frances Bentley

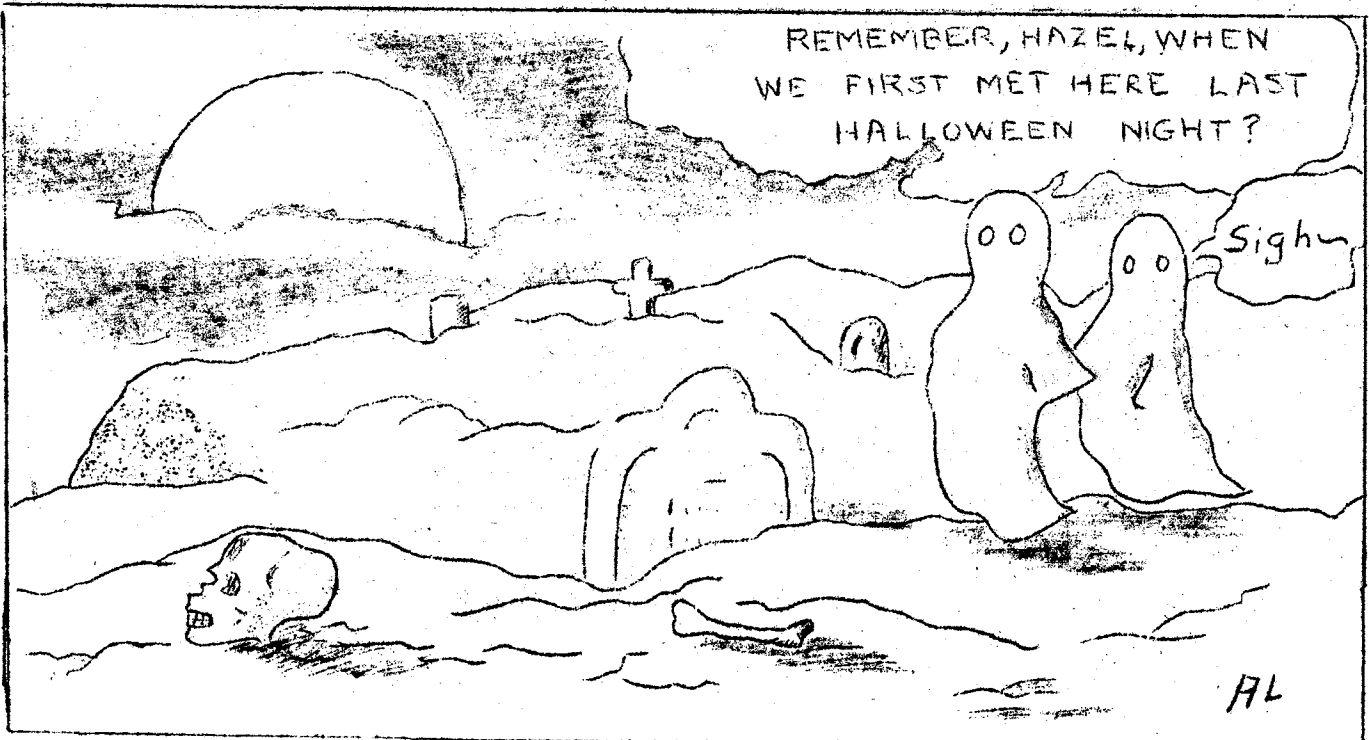

Miss Baer, Miss Umbdenstock, Miss Sheel, and the Freshman Speech Club are making plans for the Armistice Day Program, which will be given November 10.

LATIN CLUB

It was announced in the meeting yesterday that all dues definitely have to be paid by the end of this week.

Next week Don Miller and Belle Gorman will entertain the club with a make-up demonstration. It should prove to be very interesting.

A panel discussion was given by Sue Shepard, Barbara Schauble, Giles Mellon, and Richard Biek. Their topic was "Problems in Directing Plays." Many good points were brought out by the group.

KAROUSING KID

Homecoming is over for another year, but wasn't it fun? The parade was the best yet, and the outcome of the game was just what everyone wanted. The big crowd at the dance proved it was a success, too. But there's still one thing that is puzzling me. How did the band leader get Barbara Schauble's shoes?

Lynette Herbert gave a "Come As You Are" party a week ago Monday at the early hour of 6 A. M. Most of the kids were unprepared for it, and some of the results were quite hilarious.

On a recent biology test the following completion question was asked: Parasites whose hosts are man and swine are _____. After he had used the rest of the answers, Steve Roake decided it had to be an octopus. You had better study harder, Steve.

All the shouting, cheering, and parading were really worth while for the rally last Monday. All agreed? It ended in a beneficial way, too—an extra half hour for lunch.

We have a new senior among us who goes by the name of Ed Wolthausen. He has lived in Barrington before, but he recently lived in Wauconda. His favorite hobby is electronics.

Vera Holtze also went to grade school here six years ago. Last year she went to the Waterman School, but she decided to come to B. H. S. for her freshman year. She likes to sew and drive a tractor. Some combination, huh?

The Timothy Christian School sent us another new freshman. Her name is Amelia Vanderveen. Amelia likes cats, dogs, and horses. In other words, just give her any animals.

Tom Stone is a new freshie who hails from St. Angele School in Chicago. Tom said he likes the friendly spirit here at B. H. S. That should make us all feel extra good.

More introductions next week.

PERSONALITIES OF THE WEEK

First this week we have Margaret Whittenberg. Known to her friends as "Maggie," she was born on November 15, 1931. Here is another "little package" in which the best things come, for Margaret is only five feet tall. Her hobbies are living and reading. During her high school years she has been a member of Freshman Speech Club, Discussion Club, F.H.A., Broncho, Girls' Glee Club, and in addition has been a librarian and done secretarial work.

Her plans for the future include Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School and a position in California, where she hopes to work up to the position of private secretary. Her greatest accomplishment, according to her, is "never having a serious fight with the better half of the Whittenberg-Jahnke team."

Tall, blond, and green-eyed is Frederick K. Van Steenderen. His height is six feet three inches, and he was born June 21, 1930. His hobbies all seem to concern the out-of-doors—for they include hunting and canoe trips and anything to do with agricultural advancement.

Fritz is very interested in agriculture; his ambition is to have a large cattle ranch of his own somewhere out West.

The most exciting incident of his life was, and I quote, "When I passed my physical examination for the U. S. N. R." (Congratulations, Fritz. That would be an exciting event in anyone's life!)

His advice to underclassmen is this: "Keep your eyes and ears open and your mouth closed. It is an old proverb that says, 'He who talks repeats something already known. He who listens learns something new!'" visor.

This is the migratory season, and it is an excellent opportunity for the students to view the various waterfowl.

Forty-five to fifty students have accepted the invitation and expect to enjoy the sightseeing next Friday between ten o'clock and noon.
