

"NIGHT MUST FALL" TO BE STAGED THIS WEEK END BY SENIORS

Friday and Saturday evenings the powerful drama, "Night Must Fall," will be presented by the senior class. This production has received much acclaim from critics as a play that holds the audience's attention until the final curtain.

Some of the character parts in the play include a snappy, elderly woman who has to be waited on all the time; the cook, lazy and humorous with her cockney brogue; the maid, a slovenly young girl who is very naive; and the young boy who has homicidal instincts. The entire play is in English dialect.

One of the questions that will keep the audience guessing is, "Will Dan open the hatbox?" This single question will not allow a person's mind to wander from the action taking place on the stage.

Special music for the production is being composed by Mr. Fred and his harmony class. This mood music will create a silence, full of suspense and wonder, throughout the audience before the curtain is raised for each act.

Because "Night Must Fall" is an intense drama, it is not recommended for small children who are not accompanied by adults.

DISTRICT LATIN CONTEST MARCH 18

Saturday, March 18, the district Latin contest will be held in Barrington. Barrington will be host to a Latin contest for the second time, the first time being in 1948, when the sectional examination was held here.

Barrington, which this year is competing in Class A, is entering six students; Linda Stade and David Koss, Latin I, Peter Sturtevant and Mary Titterton, sophomores; Kit Lasch and Jim Frey, seniors. Kit and Jim will be writing comprehensive examinations covering both Cicero's and Vergil's writings. Winners in the state contest are awarded tuition scholarships to various colleges. All of Barrington's entrants except the freshmen have won awards in previous years. Kit and Mary won the state contest last year in Vergil and Latin I, respectively.

Following the exam, the contestants will be served a luncheon and will be entertained with several plays on classical themes.

JAMES FREY WINS ESSAY CONTEST

Winners of the American Legion Auxiliary Essay Contest have been announced. The students submitted essays on the topic "How Can

PLAY-WRITING CONTEST CLOSES MARCH 13

On March 13 the play-writing contest will be over. All students are invited to submit radio plays about world peace or understanding in observance of International Theatre Month. All entries will be judged, and the author of the prize play will hear it presented over the air by the Radio Club.

Here are some suggestions for topics. Life in another country could be depicted to draw America's interests to other countries. Both of the topics that Miss Sheel gave her students for essays might be used. One could take the idea, "Peace with Honor for America" and expand it into a good play. "How American Youth Can Preserve Liberty" lends itself well to radio treatment.

The project is sponsored by UNESCO, and Barrington is among the high schools, colleges, and other organizations especially invited to participate. The Theatre is a propaganda agent and this is an opportunity to use it for good propaganda.

Wouldn't you like to hear your own play over the radio? This is a worthy activity in which to participate, and it would be well worth your time,

American Youth Preserve Liberty?"

SENIOR RUMMAGE SALE PLANS MATERIALIZE

Members of the senior class are completing plans for their rummage sale, March 24 and 25. The sale is to be held at the old Landwer store next to McLeister's. From all indications this should be a very desirable location. The sale will probably begin at noon, Friday, and continue through Saturday evening.

Various committees have been organized, with Sarah Mee acting as chairman of the entire sale.

Since this is a class project, seniors are urged to participate whole-heartedly in the sale. Help from other groups will be appreciated. Complete cooperation is necessary to make the sale a success.

GURNEE BAND IS HEARD IN ASSEMBLY

Barrington had as its guests last Friday a 90 piece concert band from Gurnee High School. Their program included a great variety of music from "The Thunderer" by Sousa to a medley of tunes that might be found on a disc jockey program. This last was conducted by the student president of the band. Mr. Loblaw was the director of the band.

Several solos, including a trombone trio, a marimba duet, a baritone solo, and a trumpet trio were played by outstanding members of the band. In one march four twirlers performed. An all-girl dance band played several popular songs. The band completed the program with "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The program was very well planned. This, as well as the skill of the performers and the great variety of the program, contributed to a very entertaining assembly. The school is looking forward to another performance by the Gurnee band sometime in the future.

SPANISH CLUB TO PRESENT TWO PLAYS

On Friday, March 17, the Spanish Club will present two skits. The first will be a radio skit from Buenos Aires. The second will be a melodrama called "The Perils of Paulita." This is an original play by Duncan Aspinwall, Gloria Janisch, and Ann Bell.

The cast will consist of members of the Spanish Club. Between the two plays Marilyn Briggs will play "Malaguena" on the piano, and Freddie Herriman will sing in Spanish "Noche Y Dia," which in English means "Night and Day."

This assembly should be a good one. It is certain to bring many laughs.

BARRINGTON COMPLETES ONE OF ITS MOST SUCCESSFUL BASKETBALL SEASONS

From the standpoint of games won the basketball season just completed was a shade less successful than last year's. The 1949-50 version of the Bronchos, however, in many ways surpassed all previous teams. This year's aggregation was the first team in many years to win the conference championship with an undefeated record. Moreover, the squad ran up impressive scores against all conference opposition.

Although the current team enjoyed less success in the Regional Tournament, they surpassed all previous efforts in the District. They were not even tested in that tournament, and perhaps this lack of opposition accounted for the defeat last Wednesday at the hands of Niles Township. Even so, Niles' victory was an upset; this was the first Barrington team ever to go into the Regional Tournament as a favorite. Had they come through against Niles, they would have had a good chance to win the tournament.

But the highest praise that can be given this team is that it was the first Barrington squad in history to engage non-conference opposition of the highest quality. Almost every non-conference date was filled with leading teams of the Chicago area--Dundee, Lake Forest, Foreman, Hebron, West Aurora, Marmion, Zion-Benton. No other Barrington team had been willing to schedule such rugged opposition, and if the '49-'50 team has a less impressive record than last year's, the cause is apparent.

The Bronchos, in winning the conference championship for the third consecutive year, were not even hard pressed until the very last game of the season, when a determined Palatine club came back with a spectacular second half rally to tie the game in the final minutes. In other contests, particularly home games, the Bronchos were easy winners. They did not have to come from far behind, as last year's team did, to win at Antioch, nor were they threatened by Bensenville.

In non-league games during the regular season the Bronchos broke even in eight engagements. Two of the losses were inflicted by Dundee, who won the opener, before the Bronchos had hit their stride, and also copped the repeat game at Dundee. The other two defeats came at the hands of teams from Aurora. Marmion Military Academy beat the Bronchos by 1 point on February 4. West Aurora, the toughest team the Bronchos faced all year, beat them two weeks before, 50-44. West was ranked among the top five teams in the state all year. Barrington emerged victorious over four non-league foes: Lake Forest, whom they also defeated in the first round of the District Tournament; Foreman; Hebron; and Zion-Benton. In the Foreman encounter the Bronchos came up with one of their best games and defeated the Chicago team handily. Foreman has been one of Chicago's better teams all season and was one of two teams to beat highly-ranked Marshall. Hebron's Little Giants were also Broncho victims in a close contest, and Zion fell in the season's finale.

Barrington breezed by Lake Forest, Antioch, and Grayslake in its own District Tournament before losing to Niles in the first round of the Evanston Regional. Far behind at the half, they rallied superbly to make a new game of it and close out a brilliant season.

Seniors, most of them veterans of two and three years of varsity competition, who rounded out their careers at Evanston Wednesday are Guy Armanetti, Jim Frey, Kenny Shuett, George Hansen, Forrest Berg-horn, and Dick Aspinwall. These boys and Coach Harman have erected a record which should stand for many years to come.

BARRINGTON UPSET IN FIRST REGIONAL GAME, 42-41

On Wednesday, March 1, the Bronchos played their last game of the season, and with it went the suspense, excitement, and noise that accompanied the games all through the season. Niles pulled an upset over the favored Barrington quintet.

The first quarter offered promises of a close game. Barrington took the ball on the initial tip-off, and within 45 seconds George Hansen had scored the first (Cont. on page 4, col. 2)

BARRINGTON WINS FRESHMAN TOURNAMENT

BARRINGTON, BENSENVILLE, ELA, PALATINE FIRST ROUND VICTORS IN FROSH TOURNEY

By virtue of their wins on Monday Barrington, Bensenville, Ela, and Palatine moved into the semifinals of the Barrington Freshman Tournament.

The Barrington freshmen, led by Freddie Cochran, easily bypassed their opponents, Wauconda, 35-16. Cochran scored 17 points, one more than the entire Wauconda team. Barrington assumed an easy 12-3 lead at the end of the first quarter. They added only three points to their margin in the next two quarters, but outscored Wauconda 11 to 7 in the final period to win by 19 points, 35-16.

In the second game played, Bensenville walloped Grant 40-17. As was the case in the first contest, the winning team had a player who scored more points himself than the entire losing team combined. Syzmonik scored 20 points, half the total of his own team's scoring.

In the closest game of the first round of the tournament Ela defeated Northbrook 30-26. Ela enjoyed a 9 to 5 lead at the end of the first quarter, but played on equal terms with Northbrook throughout the rest of the game. Kay was the leading scorer for Ela with 18 points.

In the final game of the first round Palatine knocked off Grayslake, 38-20. After trailing 7-5 at the end of the first quarter Palatine came back to score 33 points equally distributed throughout the final three periods, while their opponents were able to score only 13. Schrage, who made nine free throws without a miss, led the Palatine scoring with 15 points, and Hall scored 9 for the losers.

BARRINGTON, PALATINE WIN 2ND ROUND

Tuesday Barrington defeated Ela, and Palatine stopped Bensenville to move into the finals.

In the first game Freddie Cochran again led the Barrington freshmen to an easy victory. Both teams got off to a very slow start, and the score stood only 6-2 in Barrington's favor at the end of two points and followed with a free throw awarded him on a foul on the shot. Niles, as they were to do throughout the game, scored a long shot. Broncho rebounding was good in the first quarter and those following considering the height of the opponents. Steve Roake, however, was too much overshadowed by his opponent to play his usual game of ball. Niles was quick also to block Barrington's overhead passes.

A left-hand hook shot by Niles in the last few seconds squelched the Barrington attempt to retain an 8-6 lead at the quarter. The turning point of the game came in the second quarter. Spectators had to blink twice to make themselves believe that Kenny Shuett and Jim Frey missed easy set-ups. Niles shot the works, outscoring Barrington 16 to 7, and left the floor at half-time leading 24-15. Prospects were not too bright for a Barrington victory.

All the praise should be placed on the Bronchos' play in the second half. Despite the fact that a number of shots were missed in the third quarter, Barrington outscored Niles 16 to 6, to lead 31 to 30 at the end of the third period. General play in this quarter was a beautifully manipulated as any throughout the game. The lead changed seven times in the fourth quarter, leaving spectators, and probably players, hysterical. Barrington's defensive play was much superior to that of the first half, even though Niles continued to hit on long shots and hook shots. The free throw percentage was excellent for both teams, Barrington's being superior by one-tenth, .739.

Only the Evanston-New Trier game in the finals surpassed this in excitement.

the first quarter. The pace picked up in the second quarter as Barrington scored 14 points to Ela's 7. The final score was Barrington 35 and Ela 23.

The second contest saw Palatine outplaying Bensenville, 32-18. After trailing 5-2 at the end of the first quarter, the winners outscored their opponents 12 points to 1 in the second quarter, and Bensenville was never in the game again.

In the finals last night Barrington defeated Palatine 35-17. An account of the game will appear next week.

NORTHWEST CONFERENCE VOCATIONS DAY IS MONDAY

Barrington High School is sponsoring the Northwest Conference Vocations Day to be held Monday, March 13. The general session will be held in the gymnasium from 12:55 to 1:40 P. M. At this session Miss Donelda Schaible, Personnel Director of the Washington National Insurance Company, will deliver the main address.

The group sessions will meet from 1:50 to 2:50 and from 3:00 to 4:00 P. M. These meetings will be attended by 525 seniors from Antioch, Barrington, Ela, Northbrook, Bensenville, Grant, Palatine, and Wauconda. Outstanding speakers will present occupational fields to interested students, and every senior will have the opportunity to participate in the study and discussion of two fields of vocational endeavor. Approximately half of each session will be used to answer the questions presented by the students. Twenty-two vocations are to be represented. Barrington seniors will introduce the speakers.

Mr. Joseph Friedlander, vice-president of Jewel Tea Company, will speak on business administration. David Deyoe will introduce Mr. Friedlander in the first session; Bill Trankle, in the second.

Miss Florence Bodenbach, supervisor of home economics education, is the speaker in the home economics division. The introductory speaker has not yet been announced.

Mr. Walter Bartz of this school will preside in building trades. Vernon Krabbe will introduce him to the group.

Gloria Klein will present Mr. Harry Adolphs, of the American School of Beauty Culture, who will talk on beauty culture.

Music is to be under the direction of Dr. Hans Resenwald of Chicago Music College. He will be introduced by Martha Fontaine and Gloria Klein.

Mr. C. A. Hughes, Cook County Farm Adviser, will discuss agriculture. Art Webb is scheduled to introduce him.

Mr. W. A. Gerbosi, vice president and general manager of Jewel Tea Company, will speak on selling and sales promotion. Guy Armanetti will handle the introductory ceremonies.

Mr. Fordham, from the department of physical education and athletics at the University of Illinois, is to explain the field of physical education. Kenneth Shuett and George Hansen will present him.

Bookkeeping and accounting is under the direction of Mr. Robert E. Koehler of Chicago. He will be introduced by James Herrlin and David Deyoe.

Helen Piffner and Joan Gruenewald will make the introductory remarks when Miss Sue Williams takes over the field of secretarial work. Two speakers have been engaged to cover the secretarial-stenographic work. Mr. P. M. Pair, vice-president and director of The Gregg College, will handle the stenographic field. He will be presented by Pat Johnson and Donna Duerwachter.

Mechanics will be handled by Mr. W. J. Faust of the Universal Oil Products Co. Vernon Neuman and Vernon Krabbe will introduce him.

Teaching is under the direction of Dr. John Carrington, Director of Laboratory Experiences at Illinois State Normal University. Richard Aspirwall and Joyce Anderson are to make the introductions.

Miss Emily C. Cardew, president of the Illinois League of nursing Education, will speak on Nursing. Also in the field of nursing will be Miss Bozarth, who will discuss physiotherapy. No student has been selected to make the introductions.

Mr. Ray Mertes of the United Airlines will speak on aeronautics. He will be presented by John Beutel.

Mrs. Ruth Wade Ray of the Vogue School will discuss Interior Decoration. Joy Paulson and Lois Heidke will introduce her.

Miss Nancy Upp, assistant dean of students, School of Social Service Administration, the University of Chicago, will speak on social service. Janet Parmalee will introduce the speaker.

Mr. Robert Lasch, editorial writer for Sun-Times, will speak on writing and journalism. Kit Lasch and Jim Frey will make the introduction.

Forestry and conservation will be handled by Mr. Donovan Larson from the Forestry Division, State of Illinois. He will be introduced by Jack Wichman and John Beutel.

No speaker has been announced yet for the engineering class, and no student is (Cont. on page 7, col. 1)

THE EASTER PARADE

--BY JANET KRONENBERGER

Have you heard
 The news of late?
 Well, if you haven't,
 Let's bring you up to date.
 It's the Dames' Dance,
 The girls' big chance
 To up and ask
 The masculine gender
 To take a ride
 On their front fender.
 The "Easter Parade"
 Is the name
 By which this dance
 Will get its fame;
 8:30's the time.
 On April the first
 Come and let THE SOPHOMORES
 Quench your thirst.
 Don't forget girls--
 You make a corsage
 So make it a good one;
 Make it a real camouflage.
 $1.20 per couple,
 That's all you have to pay.
 It'll cost $1.00
 If you come the other way.
 So hop like a bunny
 And ask your hare
 To the "Easter Parade."
 Be sure you're there.

as yet slated to make the introduction.

Radio and television is under the supervision of Mr. Robert Gill, Belmont Radio Corporation, who will be presented by Roger Shales and Dick Aspirwall.

Mr. R. W. McCoy, commercial artist, will speak on art. Jack Brandt and Sarah Mee will introduce him.

The winner of the local contest is James Frey, Marilyn Briggs placed second and Audrey Witte third. An essay by Martha van Steenderen won honorable mention.

The winning essay will go on to the District Contest. Local prizes will be awarded to the winners.

G.A.A.

The roller skating party is next Monday, kids, and we really hope that all of you will turn out and make it a big success. It begins at 8:00 P.M. The price is 60¢, including tax. The more the merrier!

The girls' athletic organizations all over the country are entering a basket-shooting contest. Twenty members from each school will enter, and the ten coming out with the best scores will compete with the best from all the other schools. This tournament will be held Tuesday afternoon, March 21. If you want to see some "hot shots," come on over to the gym.

The bowling tournament was called off because the rules are that we must have eight practices before the actual tournament and at the time of the contest. We didn't have enough. Maybe next year, kids.

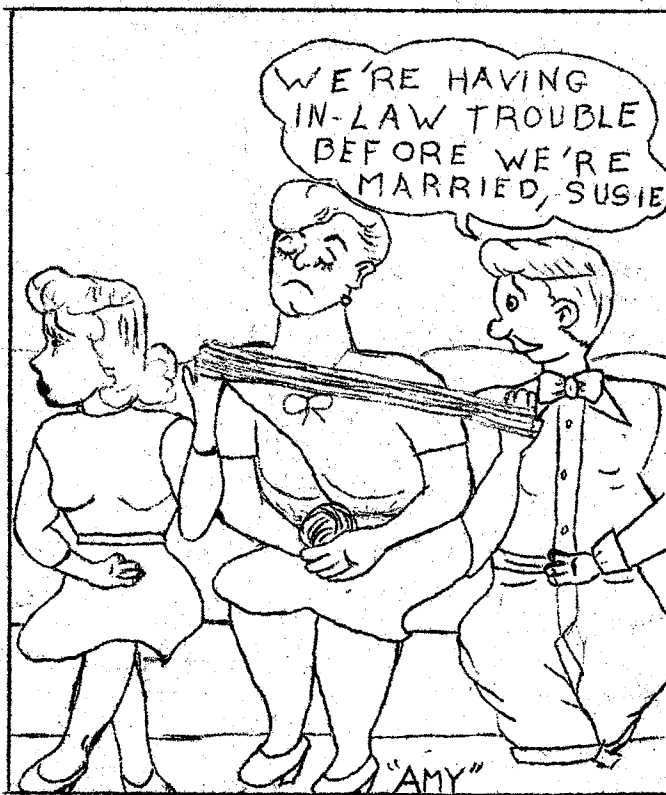

The G. A. A. pins the gals are wearing are cute, aren't they? We hope you've noticed them.

Don't forget the roller skating party.

Bye for now,

G. A. A.

ACTION DISPLAYED IN NATURAL HISTORY CLUB

In the middle of a report by John Beutel last Friday at the Natural History Club the door flew open and five screaming students burst in. They were dressed in coats and hats and carried everything from a globe to a bottle. Much to everyone's surprise, they ran around the table and out of the room again. It was all part of a scientific experiment to see how observant people are. After everyone had quieted down, Mr. Watson passed out paper and asked the members ten questions about the things that they had seen. He asked what the students were carrying, how many boys and girls there were, and similar questions. Jane Naylor and Joy Mantor were the only ones that could answer as many as eight of them correctly. Some of the members made the grand score of three.

The club was again surprised when Peggy Reyer dumped three salamanders on the table. Everyone proved courageous enough to handle them. Then Peggy and Carol McCoy told a little about salamanders. They pointed out that salamanders are not like lizards, as many people think. They also showed that salamanders are harmless.

Everyone left the meeting with the hope that there would be more "active" meetings.

COAL STRIKE IS TOPIC OF DEBATE

The recently terminated coal strike furnished the subject of debate for the Monday Discussion Club. The main point that was discussed was methods of dealing with a strike to prevent national chaos. Some students were outspoken in their criticism of President Truman's policy toward the strike, and suggested that the Taft-Hartley Act was not invoked immediately because of reasons of politics. It was also brought out that some of the members so critical of Socialism and nationalism of industry last week were advocating government operation of the mines this week.

There was more active participation in the discussion than is sometimes the case. Almost everyone contributed to the debate.

SQUARE DANCERS APPEAR ON TELEVISION

Barrington High should be proud of its square dancers for the steps they have taken toward fame. Saturday night's television performance was a huge success. The most intricate and gay routines were taken from the dancers' repertoire to provide five minutes of lively entertainment. The theater audience showed the greatest appreciation and enjoyment of the dancers; and the producers of the show were quite generous with their compliments on the style, costumes, and sparkle of the dancers. Pearl necklaces were given to the girls and gold tie clasps to the boys.

After arriving at the Civic Opera House Studio the group practiced and received make-up. After rehearsing the entire program they waited for the big moment, 8:00 P. M., when "Square Dance Time" would be on the air. There was a short fashion show by the sponsor, singing, and square dances done by another group.

Though the dancers created a sensation, the great surprise came to Barrington TV viewers when Forrest Berghorn suddenly appeared on the scene. Part of the program consisted of audience participation in a square dance, and Bergie must have looked like a prospective television star, for he was soon performing before the cameras. Mr. Chiles, take note.

OLYMPIC GAMES PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT FOR LATIN CLUB

The meeting of the Latin Club on Friday, February 24, was called to order by the president, Jack Schwemm. After a short business meeting the Olympic games were continued from a previous meeting of the club.

Art Webb proved victorious in four events--the javelin throw, the foot race, wrestling, and the chariot race. Pete Devereaux took first place in the jumping contest, and Tom Stone was winner of the discus-throwing event.

At the close of the meeting Kay Shepherd read a selection from the Novel, "The Last Days of Pompeii." Latin classes had previously seen a full-length movie of the book.

KAROUSING KID

Gee, if this weather keeps up much longer we're all gonna have cases of spring fever. Goodbye, teachers; goodbye, books; goodbye, school!

Swing your partners. Our exhibition square dance team has done it again. Last Saturday night they turned in another great job of dancing--this time on television. From the looks of things Johnny Calkins really enjoys himself. The camera man must have noticed it too and gave him a star-studded build-up.

Those frosh gals! How can they take it? At a slumber party at Jeanne Richardsons last week end they really went berserk. (That means wild!) They couldn't keep Betty Johansen from slumber land, though. She dropped off--to sleep--at eleven o'clock. Some of her hardy companions, however, plodded on till dawn.

They can't stay away. Birdie Lee Gross, who left Barrington in sixth grade, has come back to B.H.S. after a rather long visit in California--five years to be exact. Birdie has come just in time to keep the junior class at the same number, as Marilyn Zimmerman has recently quit school.

Well, his heart was in the right place anyway. After the Folk Festival Mr. Chiles discovered that a shade and a Venetian blind in Miss Sheel's room were down. As she thought that one of the dancing groups had performed this foul deed, he felt it was up to him to right the wrong. After his slaving over it hours on Sunday, Monday morning Miss Sheel informed him that it had been that way since Friday. How discouraging!

Although her parents have moved to Elgin, Pat Johnson is determined to graduate from B.H.S. She is staying with Eileen Kadansky until June. Jean Johnson, however, is now a member of the sophomore class of Elgin High.

At the moment I imagine about eight of our seniors are sitting on "pins and needles." Tomorrow night is the big night for the cast of "Night Must Fall." Best of luck to all of you! We know you'll be great.

Hey, you gals, don't let anyone get the jump on you. Ask your favorite guy to the Dames Dance before someone else does.

WHOSE BIOG?

The first gal interviewed for this week measures almost 5' 6" and has blue eyes and dark blonde hair. She entered this cruel world on April 24, 1932.

One afternoon last summer she and one of her girl friends decided to go swimming in Elgin. They sauntered into the Y.M.C.A. building and asked for their own sizes in bathing suits as they laid their money on the counter. After being asked seemingly stupid questions by the desk clerk, the girls finally realized their whereabouts. Talk about red faces! What was that post card you received from the Y.M.C.A. the following week about, hmmmnnn?

Her likes include the color blue, typing, working in Jewel, her boss, and Plymouths and Fords. Among her dislikes are Latin, tight skirts, activity study hall, pickled Pigs' feet, and levis. Her chief pet peeve is people who call her by her middle name when they want to tease her.

Her ideal man is tall, has dark wavy hair, very deep blue eyes, a build similar to Atlas's, was a half-back for a neighboring town's football team, and goes by the name Bob.

Who else could she be but Jane Porter.

The second person for this week is a 5' 9", dark-blond-haired, blue-eyed fella. He arrived in Nellie Berghorn's house on December 1, 1932.

He has two ambitions, the first of which is to get on a newspaper's photographic staff. His other is some day to be in that earning bracket in which one has to pay 97% of one's income to the government.

Tearing up a parking ticket with a servant of the public--a policeman--watching over one shoulder is what he considers to be his present unusual incident. It should be added that the guardian of the law was in a good mood.

Among his likes are chocolate malts, T-bone steaks, staying up late, bowling, tennis, and doing his homework at Brandt's house and looking at television instead. His dislikes are having had to push the "Yellow Atom" practically every night after school, and Miss L.'s English tests.

The ideal woman of Jim Herrlin, whom you have been reading about, will eventually be a 5' 2" blue-eyed blonde. It seems everyone wants one like that.

Did you know that the last time the Cubs won the World Series was in 1908.

K. K.
