A franchise for fifty years was granted and the work must begin within one year and be completed in three. The company must grade from curb to curb that part of the streets over which their cars run and keep same in good condition between tracks and two feet outside. A "T" rail will be used and will be flush with the street level. A double track will be built through the village. Cars for passengers must run each way at least every two hours. Street crossings over over which the cars run will be lighted by electricity.

The committee on sidewalks reported that no sidewalks had been constructed to comply with the recent ordinance and the street commissioner was instructed to proceed to build same and charge costs to the property owners.

St. Ignatius College 68, Palatine 0.

Palatine suffered a severe defeat at the hands of the St. Ignatius college foot ball team last Saturday afternoon. Palatine was clearly outclassed, the college team having the training, weight and experience. Palatine held them for short gains for a time, but to save themselves from injury they did not fight hard after the college boys had scored a few time. Palatine had the ball only twice and lost it once on a steal and the second time punted back from the kick-off.

Palatine will play C. & N. W. team this afternoon on the Palatine ground.

The entries for the third International Live Stock exposition at Chicago Union stock yards, November 29 to December 6, are all in and General Manager Skinner is happy over the outlook. There are more entries this year than at last year's show in nearly all breeds, showing how earnestly the breeding interests of the country are undertaking to demonstrate the value of their breeds as meat producers.

Mr. Skinner said: "Having visited a great many of the show yards this season, I am particularly pleased that about all the good things of the year are going to 'round up' here. The animals entered are the prize winners at the various fairs, and I am sure that the exhibit will make the most critical judges marvel at its excellence."

A REPUBLICAN VICTORY

In the State and County Elections Held Tuesday, November 4th.

Lake County Solid—Lyon, Shurtleff and Desmond Elected to the Legislature—Stearns Runs Well.

The republicans carried the country in the elections held Tuesday, the result being a clear indorsement of the policies advocated by President Roosevelt and conservative leaders of that great party. A summary of the general result will be found on page 4.

Lake county remains solidly republican on the state and county tickets but the candidate for the legislature, George R. Lyon, was badly knifed in his home city, Waukegan, and in several towns in the county by republicans who supported A. K. Stearns.

The democratic ticket was snowed under and deserved the defeat. The leaders and lieutenants of the democratic party in Lake county violated every rule of political faith by working diligently for a renegade, bolting republican, Arthur Kendall Stearns, in an effort to defeat their own candidate, William Desmond of McHenry county, one of the most honorable and highly esteemed gentlemen in the 8th Senatorial district and a true democrat. Such treachery on the part of democratic leaders is sufficient to disgust the members of the party who believe in straight political work, and has accomplished just that result.

The democratic party of the 8th district had, in the late election, an opportunity to add to its strength, but its support of a man who had no claim upon the party, a traducer of its policies, has driven from its councils the best element it contained. The party in the district is dead and the leaders sacrificed it on the Stearns altar.

The republicans of Lake county who indorsed the nominee of their convention, George R. Lyon, and pledged to him their support, will without doubt find a day of reckoning when the next convention convenes to select officials. By comparing the vote on legislative candidates in Lake county it will be discovered that the republicans while giving good support to their county ticket proved treacherous to their legislative nominee.

Wauconda township had no cause to desert the regular candidate for A. K. Stearns. In fact that township was under bond to the regular organization from the moment Mr. Price was nominated for county treasurer.

Avon, Libertyville and Waukegan also knifed Mr. Lyon. Little Cuba remained firm—both republicans and democrats—continuing to "stand pat" for their regular nominees. Although treacherous republicans and democrats used their utmost efforts to defeat Lyon and Desmond and elect Mr. Stearns they failed, as the vote of the district will show.

Legislative Vote.

Lake County—Lyon, 4254; Stearns, 4001; Shurtleff, 2597; Desmond, 1633; Mawman, 2969.

McHenry County—Shurtleff, 5281; Lyon, 4874; Stearns, 666; Desmond, 3906; Mawman, 5351.

Boone County—Lyon, 1778; Shurtleff, 1855; Stearns, 1070; Desmond, 469; Mawman, 347.

Total vote of the district:
Lyon.....10,904
Shurtleff..... 9,734
Desmond..... 6,018
Stearns..... 5,724
Mawman..... 3,841
Desmond's plurality over Stearns is 291.

The vote for county officers in Lake County was as follows:

Sheriff—Powell, (r)	3651
" Sheaben, (d)	1150
County Clerk—Hendee, (r)	3539
" Sauer, (d)	1003
County Judge—Jones, (r)	3561
" James, (d)	1097
Treasurer—Price, (r)	3507
" Selp, (d)	1118
Co. Supt.—Gaggin, (r)	3516
" Rogers, (d)	1194

Barrett Wins in Cook County.

Complete returns in Cook county show that the entire republican ticket is elected by safe majorities, with the exception of the nominee for sheriff and four county commissioners. The republicans will have the president of the county board and ten commissioners against four elected by the democrats.

Thomas E. Barret, democrat nominee for sheriff, defeated Daniel Healy, republican. This was the surprise of the contest. Mr. Healy was considered the strongest candidate on the ticket and his excellent record as a man and ex-county official was without a stain. A campaign of abuse and lies heaped upon Mr. Barrett by John Maynard Harlan, the Daily News and Record-Herald, brought him the support of a large number of independent voters who believe in fair play in politics. Tom Barrett is one of the most popular members of the Chicago Board of Trade and highly esteemed by Chicago people as the large vote given to him shows.

Very Light Vote Polled Here.

As predicted but little interest was manifested in the election throughout this section of Lake county and especially in Cuba township. The voters seemed satisfied with existing conditions and decided to let well enough alone and retain in offices representatives of the republican party.

The registration in Cuba township was 268 but out of that number only 93 votes were polled. Both parties suffered by the stay at home vote, the republicans losing the largest per cent of the vote. The straight republican ticket, state and county, polled 60 votes, the democrats 26, Henry Selp, democratic candidate for county treasurer, running four votes ahead of the ticket. The fight expected between the legislative candidates did not materialize. A. K. Stearns, who predicted that he would have a large vote in this township managed to secure 9, while Geo. A. Mawman was given 15 votes. Both republicans and democrats were badly disappointed in the light vote cast.

The small number of ballots found scratched shows that a majority of voters, no matter how much they may desire to favor a friend on the "other ticket" they are afraid to venture outside the circle at the head of the ballot lest they might render the ballot defective.

Vote of Cuba Township.

REPUBLICAN.
For Congress—Foss	59
Representative—Lyon	85
" Shurtleff	84
County Judge—Jones	58

Sheriff—Sheaben	26
Co. Supt.—Rogers	29

On the proposed questions of public policy each of the three propositions received a large majority of the votes cast.

The Prohibition vote cut no figure, three votes being the highest number given any candidate on the ticket.

Vote of Barrington Township.

For congress—Knopf (r)	240
" Hess (d)	31
State senator—Humphrey (r)	221
" Starr (d)	46
Representative—Struckman (r)	333
" Farley (d)	99
Sheriff—Healy (r)	231
" Barrett (d)	36
Treasurer—Hanberg (r)	234
" Kiolbassa (d)	39
County clerk—Olsen (r)	232
" Rohe (d)	30
Supt. Schools—Nightingale (r)	219
" Howland	53

292 votes were cast out of a registration of 450.

Proposition for issuance of county bonds, for 39, against 97; referendum, state, for 68, against 56; referendum, local, for 59, against 52; direct vote for senator, for 80, against 54.

There is something peculiar about the vote on these important propositions, especially the referendum and vote for senator. How any intelligent voter could vote against such questions of vital interest, and which the people have tried earnestly for years to have considered, is a puzzle. The charitable way to look at the vote of Barrington township on these questions, is that the voters did not understand the propositions. Again the voters of that township have bitterly opposed the scheme of a greater Chicago, still they went to the polls and voted against their interests by supporting for senator, Humphrey, who has no sympathy with the movement known as the Town Federation.

The Chicago Chronicle, in reviewing the result from an independent democratic standpoint, says: "The general results of the elections Tuesday indicate a decided revival of democracy, which may be attributed in part to the reappearance of Grover Cleveland and the disappearance of William J. Bryan. Almost without exception the democrats of the principal states turned their backs upon Bryanism this year. The value of leadership of the right sort is demonstrated by the results in many states where the influence of the old democratic chieftains was most conspicuously exerted. Where the democrats have been defeated the majorities against them are normal. There has been no tidal wave. There is no avalanche of disfavor against which it is practically impossible to contend in the future. Both of the great parties

EIGHT KILLED; TWENTY INJURED

Premature Explosion of Fireworks Mars New York Election Jubilee.

PANIC FOLLOWS THE ACCIDENT

Shocking Scenes Witnessed as Hospital Ambulances and Police Rescuers Are Rushed to the Scene—List of the Dead and Injured.

New York special: By the premature explosion of four boxes containing aerial bombs and other fireworks eight persons were killed last night and over thirty were badly injured.

Under the auspices of the Journal an exhibition of fireworks was being exploded in celebration of the victory of William R. Hearst, who was elected a representative in congress.

Sparks from a series of Roman candles, which were being discharged simultaneously, fell into the open boxes, which were closely packed with large aerial bombs. At the same moment one of the bombs, which had just been touched off, exploded prematurely, hurling sparks and fire in every direction.

Instantly there was a tremendous detonation and an awful blast of fire, which lighted up Madison Square and all the surrounding buildings. The entire contents of the boxes and barrels had been exploded.

So far as can be learned the following is a complete list of the dead: William G. Feeney, 12 years old, nephew of Major W. J. Buch; Frank Merrill, 14; George Ritz, 30; Dennis Shea, policeman, Brooklyn Bridge squad; one unidentified man; three colored boys, about 12 years old.

The injured: William Burns, 26 years old; compound fracture of right leg; Thomas David, 49 years old; severe contusions of body; Florence Day, 26 years old, contusions; Angela Domino, 24 years old, compound fracture of right leg and suffering with lacerations; Edward Doyle, 10 years old, severe contusions of head; John Farrell, 33 years old, compound fracture of right arm; Charles C. Gladwin, champion snow shoe runner of the United States, 31 years old; lacerated wounds and burns; William Jackens, lacerated wound of left leg; Frank E. Keeler, 26 years old, severe contusions of the head, legs and arms; William Keever, 20 years old, badly lacerated below the knees; George Lander, 20 years old, right arm and leg blown off; Theodore Lauer, compound fracture of the leg; Frank Leistman, forearm of mortars in fireworks display; right leg blown off; Michael F. Leonard, 20 years old, severe contusions of body; Jacob Loeb, 17 years old, injured about body; Patrick McGuire, 31 years old, severe contusions of right leg; William Malloy, 13 years old, compound fracture of right knee; Joseph Meyer, contusions of right leg; Samuel Milker, 16 years old, compound fracture of the right leg and badly burned; John McNevin, skull lacerated; Frank O'Connor, 14 years old, fracture of the skull; Michael Reagan, policeman, city hall squad; back and ribs broken and injured internally, will probably die; David Rosenblatt, 18 years old, contusions of the head; John Saurbrick, 23 years old, contusions of both legs; Joseph Schaefer, 16 years old, lacerated wounds on both legs and burned and bruised; John Sirrocco, 42 years old, of Hoboken, internal injuries; Philip J. Snyder, 27 years old, contusions of the head and body; Nora Starr, 10 years old; right foot blown off; William Vadd, 16 years old, severely injured; F. B. Wilson, of Brooklyn, 22 years old, lacerated wounds of both legs and condition serious; suffering from shock and burns, may not live; Ambrose A. Wurth, 18 years old, burned and lacerated; three unknown men, terribly injured and will die; unknown colored boy, dismembered, will die.

Among the first to recover their self-possession were the policemen stationed directly about the space which had been kept open at the street corner. As the crowd, now thoroughly panic-stricken, made efforts to escape eastward through Twenty-fourth street and across Madison square, the policemen ran to the aid of the injured. Sixteen persons were found lying either dead or unconscious immediately about the scene of the explosion.

On the northeast corner of Twenty-fourth street and Madison avenue stands the handsome double brown stone residence occupied by David Wolf Bishop. On its broad stone steps, huddled together, lay the bodies of three boys, apparently 14 or 15 years old. They had been hurled there from their advanced position in the crowd, close by the spot where the fireworks were being set off. All of them were shockingly mangled and were apparently killed instantly.

CANNON FOR SPEAKER HAS STRONG SUPPORT

Uncle Joe's Candidacy Gets a Decided Boom on the Western Returns.

Washington dispatch: The control of the house by a safe Republican majority insures the election of a Republican speaker, and the campaign for that office will begin almost immediately. The Republican gains in the West and the large delegations from Illinois, Indiana and other states in the Mississippi valley give prominence to the candidacy of Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois. Mr. Littlefield of Maine is not regarded with any seriousness among the representatives of any other section than New England, and it is doubtful if he will be a candidate beyond the stage of complimentary mention. The New England Republicans, especially from Massachusetts and Connecticut, are very favorably disposed toward the candidacy of Mr. Cannon. Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania, with the largest delegation in the house, numbering twenty-eight Republicans, will be the most serious opponent. Mr. Cannon is credited with already having the support of the Western leaders, and the West will have a large majority in the Republican caucus. Add to his support the delegation from New England and his candidacy seems so formidable as to indicate that the speakership in the Fifty-eighth congress will be settled long before that congress convenes, a year from next December. In fact, it appears to have already been settled by the Republican victory and the considerable Republican gains in the membership from the West, especially from Mr. Cannon's own state.

Washington dispatch: Detailed reports on Tuesday's election show that a Republican majority of twenty-two in national senate and twenty-four in the house of representatives will back up the administration of President Roosevelt. The house will stand 205 Republicans to 181 Democrats and the senate 56 Republicans to 34 Democrats.

In the Fifty-eighth congress there will be a decided gain of Republican members. The Republicans are certain of fifty-six seats in the next senate, with those from other states now occupied by Democrats or fusionists in doubt, but credited to the opposition, even though the majority party considers it has more than a fighting chance to capture them.

In the present senate there are fifty-three Republican members, making a gain of three in this branch of the national government.

Gain for Republicans. The situation in the house of representatives is especially interesting at this time, as this is the first election under the new apportionment, which increased the membership by twenty-nine and changed boundaries of congressional districts in many states. Some of the chances were so radical as to place a representative in a district he knew little of.

However, the next house will contain 205 Republicans against 197 in the present one, and the Democrats or united minority will have 181 members against the 160 of that party and the Populists now in congress.

The states that were still in doubt because of the close vote all reported and Colorado, Idaho, California and Nebraska showed up in the Republican column.

In Colorado the Republican state ticket was elected with the exception of the superintendent of public instruction, which is still in doubt. One congressman was elected by the Republicans and the other is claimed.

Working Against Teller. Despite the fact that the legislature is apparently Democratic, a well organized campaign has been begun with the object of defeating Senator Teller. It is claimed sufficient proof of fraud can be found to make contests successful and secure a majority. Former Senator Wolcott is the man mentioned for Teller's place.

Nebraska elected the whole Republican ticket and the legislature is overwhelmingly Republican.

One strange feature of the result in Nebraska was that the only fusionist elected to congress there this year takes the place of a Republican in the Omaha district, while four districts represented last year by fusionists this time return Republicans.

California's contest on governorship was so close that both sides claimed victory, and with good cause, until the returns were in sufficient quantity to show that George C. Pardee, the Republican, had won by about 200 votes.

Runs Behind Ticket. Latest returns indicate a plurality of 140,000 for Pennypacker as governor of Pennsylvania, but others on the ticket ran 20,000 ahead of the Quay man, so the plurality for Republicanism in the Keystone state can be counted as 160,000.

Of the thirty-two Pennsylvania congressmen elected twenty-eight are Republicans and four Democrats, the latter being George F. Howell, Tenth district; Marcus C. L. Kline, Thirteenth district; Charles H. Dickerman, Sixteenth district, and Joseph H. Shull, Twenty-sixth district. The incoming house of representatives will be made up of 157 Republicans and 47 Democrats, and the senate will contain 39 Republicans and 11 Democrats. On joint ballot 128 votes are required to elect a United States senator, and Boies Penrose claims to have elected more than enough members pledged to him to insure his re-election to the senate in January next.

FLANAGAN DOESN'T GET THERE. Mr. Cleveland's Speeches Do Not Aid Congressional Aspirant. Newton, N. J., special: In the fifth congressional district C. N. Fowler, Republican, was elected over De Witt C. Flanagan, Democrat, for whom ex-President Cleveland delivered the first campaign speech he had made for many years. The returns from New Jersey show Democratic gains, but the Republicans elected seven of the ten congressmen and retain control of both branches of the legislature, although by reduced majorities. In the new congressional delegation each party shows a gain of one member.

St. Louis, Mo., special: The legislature will be overwhelmingly Democratic, and as a majority of the Democratic nominees were instructed for William J. Stone for senator to succeed George G. Vest there is no doubt that Stone will be elected. The latest estimates of the legislature give the Democrats 26 in the senate and 83 in the house and the Republicans 8 in the senate and 59 in the house.

Election Day Death. New York City special: Stephen Rooney of Brooklyn was fatally shot by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Scanlon, who is under arrest. The trouble grew out of a fight at a polling booth. Rooney was on the other side of the street and a wild shot struck him.

Damages for Loss of Leg. Springfield, Ill., special: Truman K. Gore, son of the former state auditor, won a suit for $5,300 against the Alton railroad. The award was for the loss of his leg at Carlinville.

REPUBLICAN GAIN IN BOTH HOUSES

Returns Show a Majority of Forty Against Democrats in Congress.

DOMINANT PARTY HAS SENATE

Six Representatives Are Added to the Rolls in the Popular Body, While the Upper Branch Shows Loss of Three to Minority.

MORMON LIKELY TO SIT IN SENATE

Apostle Reed Smoot Expects to Be Chosen by Utah Legislature.

SPOONER IS ASSURED OF SEAT

Wisconsin Assemblymen Almost Certain to Return the Veteran to the Upper Branch—General Alger Holds the Whip Hand in Michigan.

Salt Lake, Utah dispatch: Reed Smoot, an apostle of the Mormon church, is reasonably certain to succeed United States Senator Rawlins as the result of Tuesday's election. Mr. Smoot said:

"While the returns are not complete there appears to be no doubt of the election of men who will sustain my candidacy."

Asked if he would withdraw from the senatorial race in case his ecclesiastical position made him the object of criticism by the national press, Mr. Smoot said:

"No; I am an American citizen, and I know of no reason why I should not be elected."

The Republicans will have a majority on joint ballot in the legislature of at least thirty-nine, which may be increased to forty-one. Even such Democratic strongholds as Cache and Weber counties went heavily Republican.

Is a Monogamist.

Mr. Smoot is not a polygamist, and his election, if it is not brought about, would not mean a repetition of the Roberts case, when his credentials are presented to the Senate.

The Republican victory was almost complete, twenty-one of the twenty-seven counties being carried for that ticket.

One feature was the heavy Socialist vote in Salt Lake City, the candidates of that party polling an average of 400 votes.

Late returns from the more remote counties indicate that Howell (Rep.) for congress and McCarty (Rep.) for Supreme court justice are elected by majorities of at least 4,000.

SPOONER IS SAFE.

Veteran Senator Is Practically Sure of Being Re-elected.

Milwaukee, Wis., special: That Senator Spooner will be re-elected is not a matter of doubt, with the large majority which the Republicans have in the legislature. With 105 members of both houses on joint ballot, there are 79 legislators who were either pledged by the conventions nominating them to vote for the election of Senator Spooner or who pledged themselves after their nomination to vote for him in response to the demand of their constituents. In addition to these there are other members who will support him for re-election sufficient to bring the number up to 95 out of 105. Though some Democrats and Republicans are trying to arouse opposition, it is not expected to amount to anything. Senator Spooner refused to discuss the matter of his election. "I am glad to see Wisconsin still in the Republican fold. I did all I could to keep it there."

Alger Has No Opposition. Detroit, Mich., special: Gen. Russell A. Alger's name will undoubtedly be the only one that will be presented by the Republicans to the newly elected legislature for the position of United States senator to succeed Senator McMillan. Both house and senate are strongly Republican, the Democrats having only two members in the latter, with the possibility of making their total three. In the house six Democrats have landed, and six more districts are in doubt. The general will have the support of the machine and anti-machine factions as they are called. W. C. McMillan, the head of the former, having disclaimed publicly any opposition to the general, and the latter's close political friends being potent with the anti's, Alger's election is as certain as anything can be in politics.

Stone of Missouri. St. Louis, Mo., special: The legislature will be overwhelmingly Democratic, and as a majority of the Democratic nominees were instructed for William J. Stone for senator to succeed George G. Vest there is no doubt that Stone will be elected. The latest estimates of the legislature give the Democrats 26 in the senate and 83 in the house and the Republicans 8 in the senate and 59 in the house.

Election Day Death. New York City special: Stephen Rooney of Brooklyn was fatally shot by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Scanlon, who is under arrest. The trouble grew out of a fight at a polling booth. Rooney was on the other side of the street and a wild shot struck him.

CHAPTER IX.—(Continued.)

"Why have you lived so long in Alaska?"

"I could not get away," was the answer. "Yours is the only face I have seen since I left my friends, the Indians, save those who held me captive."

"And you have escaped?"

"Yes."

"Then come with us to the camp on the Klondyke."

"Klondyke—I've heard of it; they often talk about it when they think me asleep, but I do not always sleep when I seem to."

Paul was filled with delight, for here was a chance to unravel the mystery in which he was involved.

Another silence fell on the group, broken by Paul asking:

"Do you know a miner named Glum?"

"Glum—Glum—no."

"Glum Ralston."

The old man again shook his head, declaring he had never known such a person. Paul was disappointed. From what Glum Ralston had told him he was confident that this mysterious hermit of the woods was the long-lost captain who had followed the Indians to the place where they said gold in great quantities was found. But when the mysterious hermit disclaimed any knowledge of him at all he was quite as far away from the solution of the problem as he had been before.

Next morning the party resumed their march guided by the sun, which shone a portion of the day. Paul and the hermit were constantly together, and hourly grew more and more friendly, until, as the noble nature of the hermit unfolded itself, Paul came to love him. He was known to the hermit by his sobriquet of Crack-lash, for he had been called by no other name since his arrival in Alaska.

Paul was hourly entwining himself about the rugged heart of the old man. One night when they had halted and the Indians were building a fire for the night the hermit said:

"Crack-lash, you impress me strangely. I don't know why, but I have grown to love you as if you were my nearest relative. When my own dear boy grows up to manhood I could only wish that he would make as noble a man."

Paul, deeply impressed with the old man's sad story, expressed a hope that he would soon be able to leave Alaska and reach his home, and that his wife and child might yet be alive to welcome him.

Their stock of provisions were running short. One day the Indians came on the trail of a moose and were anxious to start on its trail. Paul gave them permission to go, while he and the hermit kindled the fire and prepared to make themselves comfortable for the night.

The prisoner as usual sat in sullen silence, with his back against a tree and his eyes fixed on the fire. Paul and the hermit sat engaged in earnest conversation. The former was talking in a low tone, telling how he had been robbed by the prisoner and three others, and followed them into the forest. He was in the midst of his narrative when two objects suddenly appeared before them, each with a Winchester rifle and said:

"Surrender or you are dead men."

Resistance was useless; they were prisoners almost before they knew it.

CHAPTER X.

Paul learns that Laura is in Alaska. "He, he, he!" chuckled Ned Padgett, rubbing his hands gleefully at seeing the tables turned. "You have in sight, mates, in good time. Must 'a' had fair winds."

Paul had no difficulty in making out the two men, companions of the third, whom he had met on other occasions. As these were the men who had robbed him and whom he and old Glum had chased in the forest, there was little mercy to expect from them. With thongs of seal-skin Paul and the hermit were quickly tied hard and fast, and told they must move on before the Indians returned.

As it was dark and the snow falling rapidly, there was little danger of even the Indians following on their trail, shrewd as they were in such experiences.

The night was dark and the snow falling, so it was difficult traveling. A strip of walrus hide was tied about the arms of each above their elbows and fastened about their backs. They were heavily loaded, and threatened with the knotted stick which Ned carried in his hand when they staggered under their heavy loads.

On, on and on they staggered through the darkness and over the uneven ground. At last Paul, utterly exhausted, sank down at the root of a tree.

"Get up! Go on!" cried one of their captors.

"I cannot."

"Ye lie!" cried Padgett and raised his club.

But one of his companions quickly interposed with:

"Hold on, Ned. Don't be a fool, now, and throw away every chance we have."

"What ye goin' t' do?" asked Ned. "We're too far away from the Metlakatians to overtake us, so we will go into camp and wait till mornin'."

A roaring fire was built against the side of a great stone which reared its snow-capped head a hundred feet into the air.

Paul's pack was removed from his back and he laid on a blanket in front of the fire with the hermit by his side.

The rascal named Morris came to the old man's side and said:

"You said you could not give up that secret if you wished."

"I did."

"What do you mean?"

"It is lost."

Morris stared at him for a moment with wide open eyes and gasped:

"I don't understand you, Cap; you are talkin' in riddles."

"I care very little whether you understand me or not," the old man defiantly answered. "The secret is lost. It was written in cipher on a walrus hide and the walrus hide is lost."

It was some time before the idea could get through the thick skulls of the ex-sailors, but when they came to fully comprehend the loss they roared like madmen. Ned seized his knotted stick and swore he would brain them both, but his more cool companion interferred, saying:

"It may all be a trick. After all it may be only a trick to throw us off the trail. If we decide for the old cuss to pass in his checks, let it be done deliberately and give him time to reflect."

So Padgett decided to let them live and trust to some chance to reveal the hiding place of the money. Paul had heard the above conversation between their captors and waiting for an opportunity to speak with the hermit when he would not be overheard by them, whispered:

"Is the walrus hide you referred to the one left in the cavern where you took me?"

"Yes."

"I took it."

"You?" There was an expression on the old man's face almost fierce as he asked the question.

"Yes, I took it."

"What did you do with it?"

"Gave it to the miner who was with me before I fell from the precipice and whom I found after leaving the cavern. He said he had seen it before."

"Where?"

"The Indians who had enticed his captain away in search of gold had some such hide, only there had been painting added to it since."

The hermit turned, and fixing his great, earnest eyes on him in astonishment, asked:

"His captain—had he been a sailor?"

"Yes, sir."

"In what seas?"

"Almost all over the world, but his last voyage was in a sealing schooner to St. Paul Island, Alaska, and this coast."

"What was this sailor's name?"

"He is called old Glum."

"No other name?"

"I believe Glum Ralston is his name, but after all his real name, I don't think, is known. In this country nearly everybody goes by some nickname, and I fancy that Glum Ralston was only a nickname."

"Might have been Jack Ralston."

"Well, since you mention it, I believe I once heard him say his real name was Jack Ralston; however, I will not be sure."

The hermit was very calm. Paul waited a long time for him to answer, but the old man was silent as the grave. Then two of their captors came near where they were sitting, and they dared not talk anymore.

Their journey was very painful and difficult. Grown desperate, Paul had determined to escape from their captors even if he had to kill them.

One day they reached a great, gloomy cavern which extended to an unfathomable depth in the earth. Their captors had pine knots on the wall about the cavern, and lighting two of these went back to where there were piles of dead grass and a table of stone on which lay a pack of greasy cards. Here they took up their abode.

Several days passed, and then Morris and Padgett left the cavern in charge of Tom Ambrose, who tied the prisoners every night, established a deadline in the cavern in daytime, and swore he would shoot the first one who attempted to cross it.

Two or three weeks had elapsed, for in that dungeon night and day were one, when the two men came back and with them another whom Morris seemed to have known. He introduced the newcomer to Tom Ambrose as a friend fresh from San Francisco.

Padgett took Paul to where the stranger sat on a musk ox hide and the latter asked:

"Is your name Paul Miller?"

"It is."

"Are you from Fresno, California?"

"I am."

"Do you know Laura Kean?"

"I do; what of her? His whole frame was trembling with anxiety and emotion."

"She is in Alaska. Just landed a few days ago at Juneau in company with Mr. Theodore Lackland."

"It is a lie—a lie!" roared Paul, beside himself with rage and mortification. "It's a lie and I will crowd it down your throat!"

Before anyone knew what he intended he had his informant by the throat and hurled him to the ground.

The guards came to the relief of their companion. Paul was quickly torn away from him and his hands bound. He lay upon the dead grass piled in the cavern. His mind was in a whirl and he kept saying to himself:

"Can it be possible? No, no, it is not possible. The whole world may be false, but Laura is not. Come to Alaska in company with that man—no, it is not true."

A thousand tumultuous emotions were stirring his breast as he lay on the dried grass, striving to persuade himself that after all this was some horrible dream. The man whom he had assaulted in company with Padgett and Morris approached him. Morris handed Paul a letter in the well-known handwriting of Laura Kean. It was dated at Juneau and addressed to Paul's mother in Fresno. The letter was brief, saying she had just arrived, and would rest a day or two before proceeding farther.

"Isn't that evidence?" asked Morris.

"Yes; but she did not come with him."

"Oh no; he came on another ship."

Then he lied when he said they came together."

Morris laughed a cold, sardonic laugh, and in a voice that seemed to have all the evil of a demon in it, answered:

"Though they came on different ships from America, there is but one train going to the Klondyke and both will be in that train. The chances are she knows no one but him, and you know Lackland's feelings towards the girl. When he starts to win he wins; he's got millions to work with, and if it's necessary to buy the entire pack train off he can do it."

Paul Miller groaned aloud, but made no answer. He realized how great her danger and how utterly hopeless he was to aid her.

"Now you can save her," said Morris.

"Save her? My Heaven, how? What other infernal scheme have you on hand?"

"You were overheard talking with the old man about a walrus hide. From what you said it was understood you knew something about it. If you will give us information that will lead to finding it, you shall be given your liberty and be taken to this young lady, Laura Kean."

"I cannot," groaned Paul.

"Why?"

"I don't know where it is."

"What did you do with it?" asked Morris, his face expressing the deepest concern.

"I gave it to another. Where he is or what he has done with it I do not know."

A look of disappointment swept over the faces of the captors at this announcement. They retired to near the entrance of the cavern and there held a consultation.

"It's all a pack of lies," cried Padgett. "We've been twenty years in these woods waitin' t' grab that pile, an' no nearer to it now than before. Knock out their brains an' go away is what I say."

Tom Ambrose, though equally as much a villain as his companion, urged moderation. During all the years the unprincipled rascals had struggled to get possession of their captive's secret, Tom had acted as a brake to fiery Ned's temper.

"We have a hold on the old man," one of the plotters at last declared. "He can be made to tell where the gold is cached."

"But he don't know."

"He does know. He must know."

"Well, what good'll that do? Hain't we been the last eighteen or twenty years tryin' to open the hatches o' the old capen, who's as close-mouthed as a clam? We've threatened t' hang him—done everything any one kin, but it's all no use."

"We got a stronger pull now than ever."

"What is it?"

"Come here."

His companions gathered about him and he spread his arms around their shoulders and began to reveal the plan which emanated from his wonderful brain—a plan that was diabolical, but promised success.

RACIAL FEUDS IN EUROPE.

Antagonism Engendered Between Prussians and Poles.

Hardly a day passes but the newspapers contain striking evidence of the antagonistic spirit which is being engendered between the Poles and the Prussians. Last week it came to the ears of the publishers of a Polish paper circulating in Westphalia that one of their compositors was about to marry a German girl. They considered that this stamped him as a traitor to Poland, and although he had served them faithfully for many years they dismissed him on the spot. A large number of Poles work in the Westphalia coal mines, and in order to further the amalgamation of the races the authorities have issued regulations to the effect that no person shall be employed underground who is not proficient in the German language. The Poles obstinately refuse to know a word of German when they happen to be called up to make statements in public.

A few days ago a Polish miner had to give evidence in a Westphalia police court. He was, of course, as innocent as a newly-born babe of any knowledge of German until the magistrate threatened to report the case to his employers, who would have been compelled to dismiss him. Thereupon his German came back, and he replied fluently to all the questions put to him. His wife had been present during the hearing of the case, and was waiting for him in the passage just outside the court room door. As soon as he appeared she bitterly reproached him for having given way, and to render her arguments more forcible, soundly boxed his ears. She then kicked him with such vigor that he had to race down the corridor into the street to escape the attentions of his "patriotic" better half.—London Leader.

SUSTAINS RAID ON BLIND PIG

Court Holds Militia Officer Was Justified in His Action.

Judge Thompson in the circuit court at Springfield has overruled the plaintiff's motion for a new trial in the case of James H. O'Brien against Lieut. Col. R. J. Shand of the Third regiment, I. N. G. An appeal to the supreme court was then granted.

O'Brien conducted a "blind pig" near Camp Lincoln two years ago, and a detail from the Third regiment raided the place under orders from Col. Shand. Several jugs of liquor were taken. A suit for personal injuries was instituted and lost, and another to recover the liquor was filed, the jury finding for the defendant. The taking of the case to the supreme court will bring an opinion as to the authority of officers of the national guard.

He had served as state's attorney and county judge of Clay county and in 1900 was a prominent candidate for congress.

FOR WATERWAYS CONVENTION

River Towns Urged to Send Delegates to Quincy November 13.

A call has been issued for a Mississippi river convention to be held in Quincy on November 12 and 13. All river cities and towns and all boards of trade and business organizations, from St. Louis to St. Paul, are urged to send not less than three delegates to the meeting. The chief object of the convention is to ascertain the needs of the upper-Mississippi river and the best methods for maintaining its usefulness as a competitor for low rates of freight, and to especially impress the importance of keeping up the navigation of this great waterway upon the United States senators and all congressmen representing the states which border on the Mississippi river.

STEPS FROM BRIDGE TO ROAD

Engineer Drops Twenty-five Feet and Fractures His Ribs.

Engineer Frank Galligher of the Illinois Central railroad had a narrow escape from death. He was on his regular run and made the usual stop at Spaulding. There is a bridge at that place, and he erroneously thought that he had cleared it, and climbed down from the cab to do some work about his engine. When he stepped off he fell over 25 feet to the hard wagon road below. He was picked up unconscious and taken later to Clinton, where he is confined to his bed. It was found that two of his ribs were fractured. Galligher has been employed on the Central for the past twelve years.

WIFE KILLS HUSBAND AT ALTON

Accidental Dropping of Revolver Leaves Woman a Widow.

William Baker was shot fatally at his home in Alton. Mrs. Baker, wife of the victim, was holding the revolver when the fatal shot was fired. The family lived in a house east of the glass works on the bank of Duck lake. The only witness of the shooting was a brother of the victim, David Baker. The story told by the brother and wife of the man at the inquest was that William Baker proposed that the family have some target shooting. The woman says that her husband handed the revolver to her and that she dropped it to the floor. The revolver was discharged, and the bullet took effect in Baker's abdomen, ranging upward. He died twelve hours after the shooting occurred. Baker was 23 years old. The coroner's jury reported a verdict of death from accidental shooting.

WINS SHARPSHOOTERS' MEDAL

Rare Distinction Is Earned by Colonel Walter Fieldhouse.

At Camp Logan Col. Walter Fieldhouse, inspector general of the Illinois National guard, won a distinguished sharpshooters' medal, the first like honor to be won by a staff officer. His score was 505, and by scoring seven bull-eyes at 800 yards the colonel beat the practice score made by Corporal Fred Dohmest of company D, First regiment, who made five bull-eyes at the same distance, and whose work was thought remarkable. Col. Fieldhouse's score is official, and sets a high mark for staff officers. His total points were 59 out of a possible 60.

FIFTY YEARS A RAILROAD MAN

Thomas Dee of Springfield Claims Distinction for Long Service.

Thomas Dee, the oldest railroad man in point of continuous service in Springfield, recently celebrated the closing of his sixteenth year as flagman at the Washington street crossing of the Chicago and Alton railroad. He helped to build the Alton from Springfield to Bloomington, in the early '50s, and rode into Springfield on the pilot of the first train that entered from the south. He also saw the first train that came in from the north, which was on Sunday, in July, 1853. With the exception of a short lay off in the year 1864 from which, he says, he was glad to get back on the road, he has been employed continuously by the company for a little over fifty years.

Child Run Over and Killed.

The 5-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shippman was run over by a wagon near Willey's Thursday and instantly killed. The Shippmans were removing to Willey's from Assumption, and the child was riding on the wagon with its parents. In attempting to get some lunch under the seat of the wagon the child lost its balance and fell out at one side of the wagon, one of the rear wheels passing over its body across the stomach.

 FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1902

Now that the battle has been fought, it is really surprising to find so many who knew just how it would turn out.

The country will now watch with interest for that promised revision of the tariff and suppression of the trust evil.

Lake county democrats are still trying to figure out a majority for their county ticket. Chairman Grady has discovered that they didn't get the vote out. The republicans didn't get their vote out either, which fact ought to be appreciated by Mr. Grady.

Commenting on the report of the Illinois conference of charities on the abuses in the institutions in this state the Utica, N. Y., Press says: "What has happened there must stand ever and always as a warning of what may happen in any state where the law permits these institutions to become objects of partisan patronage."

Attorney General Hamlin has rendered an opinion declaring the penitentiary contract system unconstitutional. The opinion is of far-reaching effect, in that it practically annuls all existing prison labor contracts. A large proportion of the inmates of the state prisons have been used on contract labor, and the reports show that the receipts from this source has almost covered the running expenses of the penitentiaries.

The republicans will, it is now supposed, have in the legislature of this state, about the same majority on joint ballot as they had in the last session. Notwithstanding the efforts of Senator Mason few independent legislative candidates have been elected. It was a fight between republicans and democrats and republicans won. The election of Congressman Hopkins to the United Senate seems a certainty.

The Chicago Tribune is of the opinion that the democrats of Cook county have settled their differences and will stand united in the battle of 1904. It says "Bryanism and populism has been expunged from the democratic articles of faith and the party returns to the principles advocated by Grover Cleveland and other apostles of genuine democracy." The Tribune also believes that to organized labor the democrats of Cook county are under obligations for a great support in the late election.

The philosophic reader of newspapers cannot fail to observe the difference in injury to reputation and feelings as indicated by breach of promise suits. It is determined by the pocketbook thermometer. When the rich man has made overtures to the coy maiden or experienced widow and then changes his view, the damage is put at fifty thousand dollars; if he be in moderate circumstances twenty thousand will heal the bleeding heart. And so on down the scale until it reaches the poor man. The fair object of his soft words does not seem to be hurt at all for she never brings suit for broken promises but concludes she is well rid of the fellow who has not manhood enough to carry out his assurances. Damaged hearts are queer commodities.

The republicans of Cook county can lay the blame for defeat of their candidate for sheriff, Daniel Healy, to the Chicago Daily News. That paper believes in conducting political campaigns on the personal abuse system. There was nothing too contemptible for the Daily News to say about Mr. Barrett the democratic nominee. It was aided in its work by John Maynard Harlan, an independent republican and bolter, who has kept up an incessant warfare against the republican organization in Chicago and Cook county for several years. Daniel Healy was one of the strongest and best qualified candidates ever placed in nomination for the office of sheriff of Cook county. His campaign was a clean one, entirely devoid of abuse of his opponent, but true to its past record, the Daily News must make a mess of it. Its abuse of Carter H. Harrison made him mayor of Chicago. Its tirade against Thomas Barrett made him sheriff of Cook county. Intelligent voters condemn the Daily News and its manner of conducting a campaign, and can be relied upon to continue to do so. The Daily News poses as an independent newspaper, but it is nothing less than the organ of the Voters' League and John M. Harlan. The News has repeatedly condemned the Inter Ocean for its vituperative abuse of candidates for public office, and the Inter Ocean richly deserved the criticism, because it has supported some tough political leaders, but the News has now fallen into the same pit—public disapproval.

Ak and Ab and Arbitration.

In the days of Ak and Ab, who lived in caves and hunted the dinosaur when he did not hunt them, disputes were settled in a very primitive manner. The one with the heaviest fist and the quickest eye got the biggest piece of meat. We think that we of today belong to a far higher order of beings than did Ak and Ab. Long ago we mastered all wild animals, and many of the forces of nature which they feared we have made our servants.

There is no doubt that Ak and Ab were most unpleasant barbarians—greedy, selfish and much lacking in self control. They were quite ready to fight for a choice piece of dinosaur, and the one who survived took the spoils, entirely heedless as to whether or not they were his by right.

Just now we are pointing with more or less pride to the commendable manner in which we are settling a great dispute in which a small number of rich but powerful men have been at odds with a large number of individually insignificant but collectively potent miners. We have agreed that the rights and wrongs of the affair shall be determined by a few disinterested outsiders. We are declaring, and it is true, that the best evidence of a highly civilized state is the development of an acute sense of justice.

But let us not deceive ourselves. Why were we so anxious to have the merits of this quarrel weighed in the scales of justice? Was it wholly because of an anxiety to have the wrongs of either side righted, or was it because the squabble interfered with our personal comfort? If we could have dispensed with coal as easily as we could do without lignum vitae or cochineal, do you imagine we should have been so hot for arbitration or so profoundly glad when it arrived? Isn't there a good deal of the Ak and Ab spirit in us yet?

Historic Buildings at World's Fair.

It seems likely that one of the features of the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis in 1904 will be a unique collection of historic buildings, which will greatly add to the attractiveness of the fair.

The suggestion is under consideration that the Moore house, in Yorktown, Va., where the articles of capitulation for Cornwallis' surrender to Washington were drawn up, be taken down, shipped to St. Louis and reconstructed on the fair grounds. Another suggestion is that the ancestral home of the Washington family in England be treated in a similar manner. Both buildings, of course, would be of great historic interest to the millions of visitors to the fair.

St. Louis itself has some buildings which might well be utilized for the purpose of the fair. One of these is the Fremont mansion, from which the first emancipation proclamation of the civil war era emanated. This was issued by Fremont on Aug. 31, 1861, when he was commander of the western department of the Union armies, with his headquarters in St. Louis, and covered the slaves owned by men in the Confederate service in that region. This was the proclamation which Lincoln annulled. The building in question is about to be torn down to give place to a box factory, and unless the world's fair officials do something about it it will be destroyed altogether.

The peril of trifling with a woman's affection is again illustrated by the verdict of $20,000 damages for the plaintiff in a Fall River (Mass.) breach of promise suit. The defendant insisted that his proposal of marriage to the woman was only intended as a joke, but the twelve good men and true who sat upon the case didn't appear to take a humorous view of the matter. Some jurors are woefully lacking in sense of humor.

The bankers and others who have sent in war tax stamps for redemption will have a fine lesson in the cultivation of patience. It is announced by the treasury department that it will be ready to redeem the uncanceled stamps in about six years.

Denmark's minister of foreign affairs strongly urges a speedy sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. As there is a deficit of something like a million dollars in the treasury, perhaps the Danes need the money.

The late Millionaire Stratton would probably not have found so much pleasure in making his fortune if he had known a few of the things that were going to happen to it after he was gone.

An impressive lesson demonstrated by the war maneuvers at Fort Riley is that truly farsighted commanders must provide rain checks in case the battle is interrupted by inclement weather.

The ten children of Jacob Klink of Reading, Pa., the youngest of whom is sixteen, may be excused from smiling when they address their father's fifteen-year-old bride as "mother."

Here is the latest form of government by injunction: A Chicago church has been enjoined from hiring a pastor.

The Naval Estimates For 1904.

Secretary Moody's request that congress appropriate $82,426,630 for the navy is regarded by many experts as about what is properly needed for the maintenance of that arm of the nation's defensive force at its present standard. This amount is considerably smaller than that asked for by his predecessor.

It is a somewhat unusual feature of the estimates that they include only $800,000 for new ships, and these are to be only small vessels for training purposes. The estimates for equipment, on the other hand, are liberal, including, as they do, something over $15,000,000 for machinery, armor, armament and target practice ammunition. The pay estimate for the navy is $17,000,000 and the remaining estimates for bureaus, public works, navy yards, docks, supplies, the marine corps, etc., amount to about $29,000,000.

The foreign naval annuals have lately made their appearance, and furnish some interesting data. The comparison which they make of the world's great navies as they will be in 1906—that year being selected because the building programmes of most of the nations will then be completed—is striking. The comparison is made only in battleships and cruisers. In that year Great Britain, it is estimated, will have 57 battleships and 70 cruisers (29 armored); France, 32 battleships and 28 cruisers (23 armored); Russia, 25 battleships and 13 cruisers (5 armored), and the United States, 20 battleships and 16 cruisers (13 armored). While the United States stands fourth on the list in point of numbers, it is third in point of total tonnage, and it is fully equal in proportion as to armor and armament.

In the matter of personnel, however, we have not kept up with other nations. The English navy has a total of 116,500 men, the French 105,000, the Italian, less than three-fifths the size of ours, 56,000, and the German 60,000, while we have about 23,000.

It is evident that if congress does not promptly provide for an increase of men not only will it be unwise to build more vessels, but it will be impossible to man those already in commission or even to take proper care of them. Secretary Moody thus emphasizes the disproportion between vessels and men by not making any estimate for new fighting vessels.

According to governmental fiat, a birdcage will do as a mailbox for rural free delivery if nothing else is available or within the financial reach of the recipient of the mail. This ruling was brought about through the efforts of Mrs. Roosevelt, the wife of the president. It appears that a poor widow, who is the sole support of her children, wrote to the wife of the president that the mail carrier had refused to deliver the mail intended for her into her mailbox because it was a birdcage, and that she was not able to pay for the steel box required by the government. The letter was forwarded to the postoffice authorities and as a result the mail carrier was instructed not to be so haughty in this particular case and to deposit the widow's mail in the birdcage. And why not? No government should frown upon the birdcage of the poor widow or the orphan. The rich and powerful may be able to provide handsome and decorated steel boxes, but the mail carrier should be no respecter of persons. Let the birdcage stand on the rural gatepost. It is there by inalienable right as well as by authority.

It is stated that the surgeon who came over from Vienna to perform an operation on the five-year-old daughter of J. Ogden Armour of Chicago receives $75,000 for his fees and expenses. Mr. Armour, it will be recalled, is one of the gentlemen who fix the price of beef.

It is intimated by King Leopold of Belgium that if he comes to this country he is not going to drink wine from the slipper of any chorus girl. That's an old custom of his, and he isn't coming over here to do the things that he has been doing in Paris for years.

Colonel Watterson might call attention to the fact that there are forty-two divorce cases on the Newport court calendar as a partial justification of his attack on the Four Hundred.

The Chicago board of arbitration, which has laboriously figured out that the cost of living has advanced, might have reached the same conclusion with less trouble by consulting its meat bills.

It makes a whole lot of difference in Wall street whether the western farmers are using their own money or whether the stock gamblers have it borrowed from the banks.

The man who gets a wife from a matrimonial agency usually has reason to believe that the camera does not always tell the truth.

The New York music critics are free to admit that Signor Pietro Mascagni is a good deal better than his orchestra.

Chas. Olson of Cary arrived Sunday. He started in to celebrate and was having fine success until he came in contact with Marshal Prehm, who thought he was getting too loud and placed him in the cooler. Monday he was released and given a warning to leave town.

The election held here Tuesday was an unusually quiet one. A very light vote was cast, the only interest that was taken was for county treasurer, there being 148 votes cast, Seip receiving 95 and Price 53. Henry says he is satisfied and that it shows he stands pretty well at home.

Hallow'een was celebrated here in a quiet manner, with the exception of a few low tricks that was played by parties who don't seem to know that the pranks of Hallow'een are to be harmless jokes instead of destroying property. Marshal Prehm happens to be somewhat of a detective and he called on a few of the boys the next day and had them fix up the damage, with a warning to be more careful in the future when they go out to celebrate.

The election Tuesday did not prove as exciting as had been predicted, only 190 votes being cast out of a registration of 314. There were only 77 straight ballots cast, 65 republican and 12 democrats. Of the men of whom we were mostly interested, the vote was as follows: L. C. Price 133, Henry Seip 36, A. K. Stearns 211, G. R. Lyon 150, E. D. Shartleff 100, Geo. A. Mawman 33. On his way across the Atlantic General Booth of the Salvation Army sent back a wireless message to the Salvationists in London which was quite poetic, though a little mixed. He says he is "borne on the wings of prayer" and calls on his "people" for "renewed desperate fighting for God." The choice of the adjective is not felicitous, to say the least, since it implies being without hope. Surely one who fights for God should not be without hope. Had he said "determined" or "persistent" or "unflinching" it would have been better. Perhaps, however, some counter current disarranged the adjective in passage and the general said something other than "desperate."

One of the pleasantest romances in real life that have lately appeared in print relates how an Iowa millionaire was attracted toward a girl at the telephone exchange by reason of her pleasant voice and the prompt and cheerful way in which she gave him the numbers he called for and finally married her. The bright and intelligent telephone girl will have no difficulty in finding and applying the moral of the story.

One of the worst features of a coal famine in winter would be the attempt of a large number of people to warm up with an internal application of fuel, with consequent trouble and woe.

ECCENTRIC METHODS.

Why Alexandre Dumas Did Not Succeed as a Publisher.

The Mousquetaire, a Parisian journal founded by Alexandre Dumas, grew and flourished for a short time and then became extinct. It was carried on during a brilliant existence with an astonishing disregard of business methods commonly in vogue. Its staff was the largest and most varied ever known. Persons would walk into the office, propose working for the paper and find themselves at once accepted.

"What will you allow me?" a new man would ask.

"Whatever you like, my boy," Dumas would return. "By the way," he would explain to every new aspirant, "we must understand one thing: I mean you to be handsomely paid. You must have 1,000 francs a month, and if you should want a month's pay in advance now, don't scruple to ask for it."

Everybody was dazzled, and Dumas himself more than all the rest. No business enterprise, however, could exist on such a basis, and the journal began to languish. Then a man named Boule proposed taking the speculation out of Dumas' hands. He offered the great man 100 francs a day, which meant more than $7,000 a year.

"Here," said Boule, is a checkbook full of those little tinted leaves you are so fond of. Every morning you have only to write your name at the foot of one, send it into the office and touch your 100 francs.

Dumas loved money, and his face beamed with delight. "But suppose," said he, "that some day I should want 300 or 400 francs?"

"Well, all you have to do is to send in three or four of your checks. Nothing is more simple."

The book lay on the author's desk, a delightful and ready resource. Did a creditor call? A slip of paper, and he was paid. A poor woman was about to be turned out into the street. A few more slips, and she was relieved. At the end of the week nothing was left of the book but the cover. Then Boule changed his mode of procedure.—Youth's Companion.

PICKINGS FROM FICTION.

The love of no man is an insult until it begins to demand.—"Daniel Everton."

A plant in the room on washday is worth more than a bunch of flowers on Sunday.—"Nature Portraits."

Men folks is like pickles, some. Women is the brine they're pickled in. They don't keep sweet without 'em.—"Mrs. Tree."

Readiness to answer all manner of questions involving book learning is the beginning of a species of idiosyncrasy.—"The Unspeakable Scot."

A person who can't argue is like a person who can't chew; he swallows the facts of life unprepared for digestion.—"Those Delightful Americans."

The good right arm of the breadwinner is strengthened more by an unexpected caress or an encouraging word from loved ones than by all the roast beef in Christendom.—"Buell Hampton."

That never was a plant as hard to get rooted as charity is, and a body ought to have it whar they kin watch it close. It'll die a heap o' times if you jest look at it, and it mighty nigh always has had soil ur a drought to contend with.—"Abner Daniel."

Old London Street Names.

A writer in the London Argus gives the following peculiar old street names, with the modern substituted:

Adam - a - Digging - yard - St. Peter street.

Aggad's passage - Cutler street, Houndsditch.

Alphabet court - Clare Market.

Baalzephon street - Long lane, Bermondsey.

Bully Rag row - Bethnal Green.

Jealous row - St. George's-in-the-East.

Antigallican passage - Temple Bar.

Lally Pot lane - Fetter lane.

The derivations of these names, continues the writer, would be an interesting study, but I think it would be found that in a large number of instances the love of eccentricity had led to the selection.

Origin of a Popular Myth.

People are expected to believe history when such things as this happens. In 1892 a man living on a small farm east of Wichita ran out of coal one evening. He was getting supper, and he took an armful of corn and dumped it in the stove. Corn was 10 cents a bushel, and the Wichita reporter fired the story out over the country that Kansas farmers were burning corn. The corn burning story has passed into history as a fact. If Julius Caesar had no better foundation than the corn story he never existed at all.—Wichita Eagle.

Saving.

"My wife has a saving disposition," said Hicks. "When we got our upright piano, she made a red plush cover for it, so that the rosewood wouldn't get scratched. Then she covered that with a sort of linen duster arrangement, so as to save the plush. I tell you, women have great minds."

Real Exertion.

"And so this is your gymnasium?" asked the guest. "But where are your gymnastic appliances?"

"I don't need any," was the reply. "I find that I get all the exercise I need just getting into and out of my athletic suits."—Baltimore American.

Not Always Lucky.

"Do you believe that odd numbers are lucky?"

"Well, I'd rather be the father of twins than triplets."—New York Times.

THREE QUEER DISEASES.

Two of Them Abide in the Congo Region and One in Peru.

There are two remarkable diseases, either or both of which may attack you if you elect to reside within the Congo basin, but you need have no dread of them if you live in any other part of the world. One is the sleeping sickness, a terrible, mysterious and invariably fatal malady. The patient is at first only drowsy, but ends by sleeping almost continually, waking only for meals or when forcibly roused. Finally the torpor becomes complete. He cannot be roused even to take food, and dies of starvation.

The other disease alluded to is even more curious, although fortunately not nearly so deadly, and is known to specialists in tropical diseases as alihum, from a negro word meaning a saw, a very apposite name, for the typical feature of the ailment consists in the slow amputation of one or more of the victim's toes by means of a serrated bony ligature which grows around the joint of the affected member just where it joins the foot. As soon as the ligature is completely formed it begins to contract, and off comes the toe as effectually, if not quite so quickly, as if it had been severed by the surgeon's knife.

In the province of Cerro de Pasco, in Peru, may be contracted a strange malady which consigns its victim to certain and lingering death. The ailment in question is termed verrugas (Spanish, a wart), and it occurs only in certain deep valleys in the highlands of that province. There, however, it is endemic and frightfully fatal, especially to the unacclimatized white man. The whole surface of the body in bad cases becomes entirely covered with spongy, wartlike excrescences, varying from the size of a raspberry to that of a pigeon's egg, and from every one of these the patient's life blood oozes out continually until he perishes of inanition.—Chambers' Journal.

FIGHT SICKNESS.

Fear Will Harm and Courage Help You When Disease Comes.

Illness is most like a cowardly cur which gives chase if you flee from it, but goes on about its business, that of seeking the fearful ones, if you pass on unnoticed, but courageous. The reasons for the ability of brave men to go unharmed through pest hospitals, as did Napoleon and as physicians do every day, are not only psychological, but physiological.

The quality of mere courage seems to have a sort of pickling and hardening effect upon the tissues of the body, like the plunge in brine, steeling them against infection, while fear, by "unstringing" the nerves, weakens the whole resisting power of the body, inviting the very evil feared most.

The scientific health journals have been discussing this potent fact in hygienic laws to a great extent and urging its recognition by the masses.

"Fear weakens the heart's action," says Health in an article on this subject. "Induces congestion, invites indigestion, produces poison through decomposing foods and is thus the mother of autopoisoning, which either directly causes or greatly aids in the production of quite 90 per cent of all our diseases."

In recognizing this law, however, it is just as well to carry in a small pocket of one's memory the old adage, "Discretion is the better part of valor," and to avoid running needless dangers. But it is a well known fact that smallpox and like contagions will attack first those who are trembling for fear of it, often leaving unscathed the brave ones who are in the thickest of it nursing, tending and even burying the plague stricken.

With an armor welded of equal quantities of precaution and courage one stands a good chance of immunity from the attacking hordes of disease microbes.—The York Herald.

The Least of the Lot.

Mother—And so your friend Clara is soon to be married?

Daughter (just returned from a long absence)—Yes. Doesn't it seem strange? I hadn't heard a word about it until I called to see her this morning. She showed me her trousseau. It's perfectly lovely, just from Paris, and she has the handsomest ring I ever saw, and she showed me the house she is to live in and the furniture she has selected and the horses and carriages she is to have. She showed me everything except the man she is going to marry. I suppose she forgot about him.—London Answers.

Lake Colors.

Some lakes are distinctly blue, others present various shades of green, so that in some cases they are distinguishable from their level, grass covered banks, and a few are almost black. The Lake of Geneva is azure hued, the Lake of Constance and the Lake of Lucerne are green, and the color of the Mediterranean has been called indigo. The Lake of Brienz is greenish yellow, and its neighbor, Lake Thun, is blue.—London Spectator.

Alternative of Education.

"Education," said the impassioned orator, "begins at home."

"That's where you're off," said the calm spectator. "It begins in the kindergarten, is continued in the boarding school, football field, Paris, London and Wall street and ends in either Sing Sing or Newport."—Life.

Hale Johnson Murdered; Slayer Commits Suicide

Well Known Prohibition Leader Shot and Killed Near Newton, Ill.—Tragedy the Result of Levy on Poultry Made to Satisfy a Judgment.

Hale Johnson, Prohibition nominee for vice president in 1896, was shot and instantly killed at Newton, Ill., Nov. 4, by Harry Harris of Bogota. The slayer attempted flight, was overtaken, and committed suicide by taking poison.

The shooting was the result of a dispute over a claim Johnson, as a lawyer, was endeavoring to collect. How Harris managed to poison himself is a mystery, but he died in agony as the officers were conveying him to the jail in Newton.

The murder of Johnson took place on the public highway four miles south of Newton, and one and a half miles west of Boos station, where Harris was a buyer and shipper of poultry.

The legal firm of Gibson & Johnson had a collection on Harris. An execution had been issued, and Mr. Johnson, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Kittman, attempted to levy on a lot of poultry Harris was taking to Boos station for shipment. The levy was made, and the deputy sheriff took charge of the poultry, driving off toward Boos, leaving Johnson in the

The Prohibitionists of Illinois idolized Mr. Johnson and he was held in high esteem by the party workers throughout the nation. Many prominent men in the party, including National Chairman Stewart, will attend the funeral.

Mr. Johnson was born near Lafayette, Ind., in 1847. He served through the civil war in the One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Indiana volunteers. At the close of the war he located in Marion county, Illinois, and several years later moved to Newton, Jasper county, where for many years he was engaged in the practice of law. His law partner was Judge Gibson, a leading Republican of southern Illinois. Mr. Johnson leaves a widow, one son and four daughters.

Mourning by Friends.

Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the Prohibition national committee, was much shocked by the news of Mr. Johnson's death.

"Mr. Johnson and I were closely associated as the two Illinois members of the Prohibition national committee," he said. "Six years ago he was

FAVOR AMERICA IN PANAMA DEAL

Citizens of Isthmus Are Indignant Over Action of Colombia.

UPHOLD REAR ADMIRAL CASEY

Naval Commander is Declared to Have Acted in Fair and Impartial Manner Regarding Protection of Railroad—Little Excuse for Delay.

Kingston, Jamaica, cable: The mail steamship Trent, which has just arrived from Colon, reports that there is great indignation among the residents of the isthmus owing to the Colombian government's instructions to Minister Concha at Washington to suspend indefinitely the canal treaty negotiations. It is even reported that the authorities in Bogota are determined to break off the negotiations altogether because of the United States' recent policy restraining the transportation of Colombian troops on the Panama railroad in order to uphold strictly the treaty obligations.

Excuse is Childish.

Minister Concha's assertions that Rear Admiral Casey's orders prevented the government troops from fighting the revolutionists are considered a futile excuse, as the Colombian troops since the capture of the gunboat Bogota, nearly three months ago, have not made the slightest attempt nor have they been able to attack Gen. Herrera's insurgent forces by land or sea.

The United States marines, it is asserted by unbiased onlookers, have not hampered the Colombian government. On the contrary, the Americans, by protecting transit on the isthmus, hindered Gen. Herrera from attacking Colon and Panama and indirectly aided the government, which would have been defeated after Agua Dulce fell but for the landing of the American marines.

Sustain Casey.

Regarding Rear Admiral Casey's demand to examine the gunboat Bogota's papers the Americans on the Isthmus say that Minister Concha has misrepresented the facts, as the rear admiral acted properly and courteously.

Excepting Colombian government officials and natives of the interior department, all isthmian residents, foreign and natives alike, resent the Bogota government's action. If the treaty of 1846 has been a nettlesome document, they ask, how is it that such an attitude toward it has been kept in the background for fifty-six years? If it has hurt the feelings of Colombian patriots why was it not denounced before? Why should the vital interests of the isthmians be compromised now?

Marines Are Victorious.

There was a collision Oct. 29 in Panama between the United States marines and the Colombian troops during the removal of ammunition. It is reported that the Colombians were driven away and that one of the officers was wounded. This report had not been verified up to the time the Trent left for Colon.

The rebels practically held all the railway stations, except Monkey Hill. The government has been massing troops in Colon for a general advance against these insurgents. Arms and ammunition have been landed from a British vessel.

It is reported that Rear Admiral Casey recently received a communication from General Herrera accepting the facilities offered for a final conference on board the United States battleship Wisconsin.

RICH STRIKE OF GOLD IN IDAHO

Adventurous Miners Travel All Night to Reach the Scene.

Boise, Idaho, special: The stampede following the rich discovery of gold in the Black Hornet district is comparable to the mining rushes of the early days. Knowledge of the find got out and men started out at once to secure claims. They kept going all night and several hundred men rushed to the scene of the discovery. The discovery is a hitherto unknown vein. The lead was blind and was opened in doing some work on another vein. The vein has been opened at several other points. At one point 600 feet from the original discovery rich ore was met with and in all the other good ore shows.

APPRECIATES AMERICAN VALOR

British Government Thanks Captain McLean for Protecting Subject.

Washington dispatch: Through the state department the British government has returned thanks formally to Captain McLean, formerly commanding the Cincinnati, for the good offices extended by him to a British citizen, Charles Babb, who had been impressed into service of the rebels at Barcelona, Venezuela. Hearing of the case from another British subject, Captain McLean went with the Cincinnati from La Guaira to Guanta, twelve miles from Barcelona, proceeded inland to the rebel headquarters and secured the release of Babb, whom he brought away with him.

MONKEYS WITH LONG NOSES

Specimen of a Rare Variety Arrives in Hamburg From Borneo.

Most monkeys have nothing but nose holes, and no real nose, as we consider it. But there is a monkey in Borneo that has a long nose, longer even than that of particularly long-nosed human beings.

A specimen of this monkey, known as the proboscis monkey, has just been brought alive to Europe, and is now in Hamburg.

The queer creature has attracted much attention. It looks grotesquely human-like—very much like a man who has put on a big artificial nose for fun.

The monkey can move his nose upward or downward, and he can make it stick out straight from his face.

It is very rare to find proboscis monkeys in captivity. Most of them die before they get much farther than Suez because they are very sensitive to the changes in temperature and to the conditions of captivity.

The one in Hamburg has been named "Kiki." He looks extremely mild and gentle, but his reputation is different. He is accused of being wicked and treacherous.

A Wonderful Pill.

Freedom, Mo., Nov. 3d.—A splendid remedy has recently been introduced in this neighborhood. It is called Dodd's Kidney Pills and it has cured rheumatism right and left. On every hand may be heard stories of the remarkable recoveries and from what has been stated already there seems to be no case of rheumatism that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure.

One of those who has already tested the virtue of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Katie Anderson of this place, who says:

"I can't say enough for Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have helped me so much. I suffered very severely with rheumatism. Five boxes cured me completely. They are certainly the most wonderful medicine I have ever used."

Osage county abounds in just such cases and if the good work keeps on there will soon be no rheumatism left in this part of the state.

LITTLE TOT'S DEATH IS CHARGED TO SIRE

Father is Said to Have Kicked and Stoned His Five-Year-Old Boy.

Inez, Ky., special: Pleasant Sprading is held here on the charge of having murdered his 5-year-old boy and threatening to kill the rest of his children.

With his three daughters and the boy the father was herding sheep. The boy was left by himself for a while and amused himself by peeling the loose bark off a tree. When the father returned and saw the stripped bark he struck the boy on the head with a stone, knocking him down, and then kicked him in the head until he was dead.

Sprading threatened his daughters with a like fate if they ever told what had occurred. Later he took his eldest daughter and went to the mountains. His wife hired neighbors to bury the body of the child, and then went to the home of Judge E. Hensley, who started an investigation.

The missing daughter turned up barefooted and ragged, after her escape from her father in the mountains. She was immediately taken before the grand jury and testified to how her father killed the boy and threatened her life and that of her mother. Sprading will be given a speedy trial.

GAS EXPLOSION IN COAL MINE

Three Ohio Men Are Overcome by the Subtle Fluid.

New Straitsville, O., special: Maurice O'Brien, a miner; Charles Sampson, a stable boss, and Herbert Coran, a bookkeeper, were killed by an explosion of gas in the Lost Run mine, owned by the Buckeye Coal company, near here. It is supposed the gas found its way into the mine from an adjoining mine, which has been abandoned for several years, probably through an opening made in digging out the coal. It is believed the men went into the mine to explore it and that the gas was ignited by the lights they carried. The bodies, which were found some distance from the entrance, were badly burned and mangled.

GOVERNMENT DISPOSES OF LAND

Washington special: According to the annual report of Binger Herrmann, Commissioner of the General Land Office, the government has disposed of more lands and received more money from that source in the last year than for many years previous. The expenditures were $1,881,588.40. The total disposals of land amounted to 19,488,535 acres, an increase over the preceding fiscal year of 3,925,739 acres.

HUMILIATES WEALTHY SCIONS

London cable: Excitement over the reported flight of a peer to the continent was heightened by the announcement that a well-known London society man, Bernard Frazer, had been sentenced at the Norwich assizes to ten years' penal servitude. With him was sentenced Arthur Thorold, son of a clergyman, connected, as is Frazer, with one of the oldest and proudest families in the United Kingdom. The prisoners were charged with carrying on a campaign to deprave the morals of youths all over the country.

CHURCH FIGHT GROWS FIERCE

One faction had secured possession and refused to let the other side enter. The officer compelled a truce until the trouble can be placed before Bishop Muldoon.

TURKEY WANTS TO BE PUSHED

Porte Awaits Coercion Before Settling Claims of United States.

Constantinople cablegram: Turkey does not manifest the slightest intention of fulfilling its assurances of "immediate settlement" of various American claims which it made to United States Minister Leishman when he left Constantinople early in September. It is expected here that President Roosevelt will shortly institute coercive measures, as the porte will not move until convinced that the United States is in earnest.

Full Back Uses Knife.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., dispatch: David Smith, a young colored man, while trying to make a touchdown in a football game was stabbed twice by Matthew Jenkins, another colored player, and the full back on the opposing team.

Methodist Bishops.

Wilmington, Del., special: The Methodist board of bishops has decided to hold the semi-annual conference at Meadville, Pa., on April 29, 1903. A bishop to be named is to accompany Bishop Hartzell to Africa next year.

He Followed the Advice. A Sedalia newspaper man, it is said, wrote recently to a New York advertiser's magazine asking how much he ought to charge for space in his paper. In a few days the reply came: It was: "Charge all you can get." This recalls the venerable story of the country editor who wrote to all his subscribers asking them for advice as to how to run his paper. He received many replies, some short, most long. Only one man gave the editor really valuable counsel: This wise man sent in his reply on a postal card. It read: "Run it as you'd please."

"Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breast Tea," writes Mr. F. Batsch, of Horicon, Wis., "enabled me to get rid of an obstinate cough; we feel very grateful to the discoverer of this medicine."

One of the hard things to understand is how such nice grandmothers as everybody has ever could have been mother-in-laws.

Energy all gone! Headache! Stomach out of order! Simply a case of torpid liver. Burdock Blood Bitters will make new man or woman of you.

Money doesn't always bring happiness, but it makes a man feel like shouting halleluia once in a while.

BACKACHE.

Backache is a forerunner and one of the most common symptoms of kidney trouble and womb displacement.

READ MISS BOLLMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

"Some time ago I was in a very weak condition, my work made me nervous and my back ached frightfully all the time, and I had terrible headaches."

"My mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and it seemed to strengthen my back and help me at once, and I did not get so tired as before. I continued to take it, and it brought health and strength to me, and I want to thank you for the good it has done me."—Miss KATE BOLLMAN, 142nd St. & Wales, Ave., New York City.—$5000 for best original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures because it is the greatest known remedy for kidney and womb troubles.

Every woman who is puzzled about her condition should write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her all.

HALE JOHNSON.

buggy talking to Harris, who was standing in the road. Harris took a shotgun from the wagon, and Rittman, when he had gone fifty yards, heard two shots. Then his horse ran away.

After catching the horse the deputy went back and found the body of Johnson lying in the road, with the top of his head blown off and a charge of shot in the left breast. Harris had gone. The officers followed him to Bogota, and he was placed under arrest at his home.

Just before starting for Newton with the officers Harris succeeded in taking some kind of poison, supposed to be strychnine, and died just before reaching here.

Harris was a respected citizen and was related to the oldest and best known families of this section. The only theory advanced for his act is that he was temporarily crazed by the debts he had contracted while in business at Bogota and collections that were being pushed.

Hale Johnson was one of the leading Prohibitionists of the United States. In 1896, after having been nominated for governor of Illinois, he was placed on the national ticket at the Pittsburg convention for vice president of the United States, Joshua Levering of Maryland, being the candidate for president.

The candidate was on the stump during the entire campaign, visiting more than thirty states. He was a member of the national committee, and for nearly four years had served as chairman of the Illinois state central committee, of which he had been an influential member for sixteen years.

Mr. Johnson was a prominent Republican, conspicuous in Southern Illinois politics for many years until 1882, when he and others bolted the Republican state convention because the convention would not pledge the party to submit a prohibition constitutional amendment to a vote of the people.

Most American City in Canada.

Winnipeg is the Mecca of the immigrant to Manitoba and the northwest. A city of 60,000 inhabitants, with banks and warehouses that would do credit to the old country, with miles of avenues and red-brick villas, down which run rapid electric cars, carrying their lines, with an eye for the future, far into the market gardens and cornfields. Winnipeg, with its forest of telegraph and telephone poles and network of overhead wires, is more American and go-ahead than any city in the west of Canada.

our candidate for vice president, running with Levering. He was a Republican until twenty years ago, when he became a Prohibitionist, helping to organize the movement. He was active in the party ever since. He came frequently to Chicago. Mr. Johnson was a noble man and was loved universally.

"I first became acquainted with Hale Johnson fifteen years ago," said John G. Wooley, who was the Prohibition candidate for president in 1900. "He was a level headed man of great common sense and great experience. He was an old soldier, a good lawyer, active in the Christian church, of which he was a member, and a devoted domestic man. For many years he had given much of his time and money to the cause of prohibition. His death is to be deplored. It is a great loss to the party and the state."

"Mr. Johnson was one of our leaders," said Alonzo E. Wilson, secretary of the Prohibition state central committee. "We feel his loss keenly. He was a great big-hearted man, active and earnest in the cause in which he labored."

Melba's Audience of Two.

Few women have encountered so much discouragement from their parents when adopting a professional career as Mme. Melba. Though appreciating to the full their daughter's exceptional gifts, they were yet strongly opposed to her adopting a professional career. Her father is said to have been so anxious that his daughter should not be encouraged that he wrote round to all her friends begging them as a favor to stay away from her first concert. The result was that her audience on this occasion consisted of only two persons.

"However," remarked Mme. Melba, "I sang the entire program through to these two good people. But, oh! the time I had paying the bills when it was all over! For you must know I had been sole manager as well as performer."

More Sea Serpents.

The reported appearance of two immense sea serpents off the coast of Japan is ascribed by scientists to seismic disturbances. One of the alleged monsters was forty-eight feet long and the other thirty-six.

De Wet Claims Many Kinemen.

Gen. De Wet, the Boer leader, contends that the name De Witt or De Witt, so common in this country, originally was the same as his. Therefore, he claims to have many distant kinemen in the United States.

TREATY CLAUSES CAUSE PROTEST

Americans Doing Business in China Enter Objections to British Pact.

LEVIES CONSUMPTION TAXES

Provides for Double Duties on Articles of Chinese Manufacture Not Intended for Export—Native Customs Houses to Be Maintained.

Resolutions unanimously adopted by the American association in China Oct. 3, copies of which came to official heads in Washington in the last mails from China, give a comprehensive idea of the objections raised by American merchants in the empire to the treaty between Great Britain and China, signed at Shanghai Sept. 3 last. The American association is composed largely of merchants. The resolutions say the treaty contains certain clauses which will not become operative unless "all the powers entitled to the most favored nation treatment in China shall enter into the same engagements as Great Britain with regard to the payment of surtaxes and other obligations imposed by article 8 of the treaty of Shanghai. Article 8, it is explained, expressly stipulates that native customs houses "at the open ports, on the seaboard, on rivers, inland waterways, land routes or land frontiers" and "offices for collecting duty on native opium" at "important points on the borders of each province—either on land or on water"—and "suit reporting officers, etc." are to be retained or established.

Increases Taxes.
It is further set forth in the resolutions that the treaty provides for a "consumption tax on articles of Chinese origin not intended for export" to be collected throughout the empire except in treaty ports; that an excise equivalent to double the export duty laid down in the protocol of 1901 is to be charged on all manufactures in China and that an additional special surtax of one-half the export duty may be levied on exports to coast ports or to foreign lands, and finally that the treaty stipulates "that foreign goods on importation, in addition to the effective 5 per cent import duty, as provided for in the protocol of 1901, shall pay a special surtax equivalent to one and one-half times the duty."

Makes China Debtor Nation.
The members of the association are opposed to these taxes on the ground that they will bring no benefit to American trade, will tend to continue China as a debtor nation, will retard her internal development and hamper her prosperity.

In certain official circles in Washington, it is said, the United States will proceed along lines of its own in negotiating a treaty with China and that this government need not be especially concerned in what may appear objectionable in the British treaty, as the American treaty commissioners need not be guided by it in any way.

Case No. 34,520.—Mr. Walter McLaughlin of 3022 Jacob street, Wheeling, W. Va., a machine hand working at J. A. Holiday & Son's planing mill, says: "I firmly believe had I not used Doan's Kidney Pills when I did I would not be alive now. I was in a terrible condition, and although I took quarts of medicine and was attended by doctors, I got no better, but worse. Friends spoke of my bad appearance, and thousands knew about it. I could hardly get around and felt and looked like a dead man rather than a living one. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Logan Drug Co.'s store, were a blessing to me; half a box relieved me; three boxes entirely cured me."

PE-RU-NA CURES CATARRH OF KIDNEYS EVERY TIME.

DANGEROUS KIDNEY DISEASES CURED

Pe-ru-na Creating a National Sensation in the Cure of Chronic Ailments of the Kidneys.

Major T. H. Mars, of the First Wisconsin Cavalry regiment, writes from 1495 Dunning street, Chicago, Ill., the following letter:
"For years I suffered with catarrh of the kidneys contracted in the army. Medicine did not help me until a comrade who had been helped by Pe-ru-na advised me to try it. I bought some at once, and soon I found blessed relief. I kept taking it four months, and am now well and strong and feel better than I have done for the past twenty years, thanks to Pe-ru-na."
T. H. Mars.

Mr. John Vance, of Hartford City, Ind., says: "My kidney trouble is much better. I have improved so much that everybody wants to know what medicine I am using. I recommend Pe-ru-na to everybody and some have commenced to use it. The folks all say that if Dr. Hartman's medicine cures me it must be great."
John Vance.

Mr. J. Brake, of Petros, Ontario, Canada, writes: "Four years ago I had a severe attack of Bright's disease, which brought me so low the doctor said nothing more could be done for me. I began to take Pe-ru-na and Manalin, and in three months I was a well man and have continued so ever since."
J. Brake.

At the appearance of the first symptom of kidney trouble, Pe-ru-na should be taken. This remedy strikes at once the very root of the disease. It at once relieves the catarrhal kidneys of the stagnant blood, preventing the escape of serum from the blood. Pe-ru-na stimulates the kidneys to excrete from the blood the accumulating poison, and thus prevents the convulsions which are sure to follow if the poisons are allowed to remain. It gives great vigor to the heart's action and digestive system, both of which are apt to fail rapidly in this disease.

Pe-ru-na cures catarrh of the kidneys simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Will Undermine Your Health.
Mull's Grape Tonic Cures Constipation.

When the sewer of a city becomes stopped up, the refuse backs into the streets where it decays and rots, spreading disease-creating germs throughout the entire city. An epidemic of sickness follows. It is the same way when the bowels fail to work. The un digested food backs into the system and there it rots and decays. From this festering mass the blood saps up all the disease germs, and at every heart beat carries them to every tissue, just as the water works of a city forces impure water into every house. The only way to cure a condition like this is to cure the constipation. Pills and the ordinary cathartics will do no good.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC is a crushed fruit tonic-laxative which permanently cures the affliction. The tonic properties contained in the grape go into every afflicted tissue and creates strength and health. It will quickly restore lost flesh and make rich, red blood. As a laxative its action is immediate and positive, gentle and natural. Mull's Grape Tonic is guaranteed or money back.

Behold the erstwhile candidate
With stern and haughty brow,
He was your chum last Tuesday—
He doesn't know you now.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. H. Butzow,
Saturday, October 25, a daughter.

A number of friends of Miss Lydia
Sodt enjoyed Halloween at her home.

The Bible society of Salem church will hold its annual meeting November 22 and 23.

The recipe for perpetual ignorance:
Be satisfied with your opinions and content with your knowledge.

A number of ladies from the Thursday club will attend the guest-day exercises of the Jefferson Park club on Saturday afternoon.

Hobart Cary of Chicago Highlands will move his family to this village and occupy the Delos Church residence on Cook street.

All members of Barrington garrison,
No. 127, K. O. G., are requested to be present at the next regular meeting, November 10.

Smith Carver has removed his family from the Benedict cottage on Ela street to rooms in the Zimmerman building on Franklin street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Churchill, residing east of the village, gave an enjoyable Halloween party which was attended by a number of Chicago people.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Conger of New York City are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter. Mrs. Conger was formerly Miss Anna Krahn of this village.

W. C. Tonkin of Dundee will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. church, Sunday, in the absence of Rev. Tuttle who is visiting relatives in Iowa. All are invited.

Will Meyer and family, who have been residents of the Cuba side of the village for several years, now occupy the Catlow cottage, corner of Russell street and Grove avenue.

A number of friends of Robert Purcell gathered at his home Monday evening and enjoyed a party gotten up by Mr. Purcell's little daughters and it was a surprise to Robert.

Since the republicans have both houses of congress again there is no reason why they should not go ahead and do all of those things they agreed to do when making the campaign.

It is all over now, including the shouting. Those candidates who tried to make it appear that the people were very much excited have subsided and the world moves on in uneventful calm.

The Y. P. A. of Zion's church will give a program next Sunday night.
The Everett quartet of Elgin will be present and also Mr. Quady, president of the Y. P. A. of Illinois. All are welcome.

Courtney Bros., residing in the north part of Cuba township, had two sheep killed and seven injured by dogs last Tuesday. They appeared before Supervisor Lamey and claimed a damage of $40.00.

Miss Lydia Beinhoff gave a birthday party at Schaedel's hall Thursday evening to about twenty-five friends.
Supper was served at the Beinhoff home on East Main street and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Ernest Schenning has purchased the saloon property formerly owned by J.
K. Fox, in the Seip building, Palatine and will open up a saloon there at once. Charles Boyce will be employed with him as bartender.

Very low rates to International Live Stock Exposition, Chicago, via the North-Western line. Excursion tickets will be sold December 1, 2 and 3, with extreme return limit until December 8, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Although Barrington is, as a lady expresses it, "lodged to death," it is very likely to have another order in the near future. The Daughters of Rebekah, auxiliary to the Odd Fellows, will be the next society to institute here.

A girl in Indiana played postoffice at a party the other night and yelled and shrieked and howled and ran behind the door and stretched the young man's face in seven places, upset a lamp, kicked over the piano stool and when he finally kissed her on the tip of the ear she fainted dead away and said she could never look anybody in the face again. They led the bashful, modest, gentle, sobbing creature home and the next day she ran away with a married lighting rod peddler who had a hair lip and ten children.

The Odd Fellows occupied their new and commodious hall in the Stott block for the first time, last evening.
The hall is not completely furnished as yet but soon will be. The local lodge can now boast of one of the finest lodge rooms in this section.

The dance at the Cuba club house last Saturday night was largely attended and, as predicted, was the occasion of a splendid time. Another dance will be held there on Saturday evening, November 15, and the management is laboring hard for a grand social success.

Rev. William Huelster, at one time presiding elder of the district of which Barrington is a part, will occupy the pulpit of the Salem church Sunday morning. In the evening the Keystone League of Christian Endeavor will have charge of the service, and
Rev. Huelster will give a short talk.
All are welcome.

Fred Golderman will sell at public auction on the Peter Schultz farm, 3 miles south-west of Barrington and 2 miles south-east of Spring Lake, Wednesday, November 12, commencing at 10 a. m., the following: 5 head of horses, 10 head of cattle, pigs, chickens, hay in barn, corn in shock, farming implements. Wm. Peters will be the auctioneer.

About twenty-five of Barrington's young people gathered at the home of Miss Beulah Otis Tuesday evening to help celebrate her eighteenth birthday. Games of various sorts, singing and instrumental music served to pass away the evening. An elaborate lunch was served, and although the weather was bad, all reported a good time.

According to the philatelic authority the two-cent stamp of the new series soon to be issued by the government is the handsomest ever issued by any government in the world. The picture on the stamp is of Washington, taking from Gilbert Stuart's famous painting, and around this are draped American flags. The engraving is fine throughout and the design is wonderfully attractive.

Home-seekers' excursion to the north-west, west and south-west, via the North-Western line. Home seekers excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates will be sold on the first and third Tuesdays of each month, November, 1902, to April, 1903, inclusive, to the territory indicated above. Standard and tourist sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and "the best of everything." For full particulars apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

John Page has been installed as flagman at the Walnut street crossing.
The village board has been urgent in its demand for protection at that crossing, but the company held back in meeting the demand for the reason, it is said, that it was possible that safety gates would be erected at Main street and also at Walnut street. Now there will be no gates, flagmen being deemed as better protection than gates. The people are grateful for the act of the railway company.

Mrs. C. P. Hawley entertained the Woman's Relief Corps and their husbands last Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance despite the bad weather, and a very pleasant evening was spent playing cinch, crocino and dominoes, cinch being the principal game. Refreshments were served on small tables, to which all did ample justice. This was the first of a series of parties to occur during the winter, every two weeks. Mrs. Frank Hawley will entertain Tuesday evening,
November 18.

People who have lived in Illinois twenty-five years or longer have learned the important fact that neither drouth nor excess of moisture results in the crop failures. No man has lived in Illinois long enough to witness the total failure of crops from either of these causes. There have been years when partial failures oc-cured in some portions of the state, but even in these seasons there were average fair crops in the state taken as a whole. These important facts have contributed much to the progress and advancement to the state in population and material wealth and will continue to keep Illinois at the front as one of the best all around states in the American union.

An Iowa exchange gets off this one:
A preacher used to tell the following:
He said he was in Appanoose county, Iowa, preaching on one occasion, when he stopped at a farm house to get dinner. While eating the lady inquired his business, and he replied: "I'm hunting the lost sheep of the house of Israel." She left the room and in a few minutes returned with her husband, when she said: "This man is hunting lost sheep and I'll bet that old long wool ram that's been around is his'n." "No, sister, you don't understand me, I'm hunting sinners;
those for whom Christ died." And is he dead?" she queried. "Yes, replied the minister, astonished at her ignorance. "I buried too, I reckon?" "O yes, long ago." There, now, old man, I told you we'd die in ignorance for not takin' a newspaper."

enjoying a well deserved vacation the past week. A hunting trip was a part and consequently there are no bears, squirrels or blackbirds to be found in this immediate vicinity.

Without a Pastor.

The Baptist society of this village is again without a pastor and it is probable that no regular pastor will be engaged this winter as the parsonage is offered for rent. A number of the supporters of the society, have removed from the village during the year past and the society never very strong in numbers, finds itself weakened financially.

Rev. Mayhew, who leaves the charge to take the pastorate of the church at Plainfield, Ill., has worked as faithfully as man could in the interests of the church and community. He is not of the old school of theology but of that branch which believes in a more modern, liberal interpretation of the scriptures. To the people of Plainfield we commend Rev. Mayhew and his estimable wife. They are earnest workers in the Master's vineyard and deserving the hearty, unstinted support of the people with whom they may find a dwelling place. In the going away of Bro. Mayhew the Woodmen and Odd Fellow lodges lose an esteemed brother and influential member. He will always find a warm welcome among his fraternal brethren in Barrington.

Hallow'een Party.

About twenty-five of the prominent young people of the town enjoyed a Hallow'een party at the home of the Misses Mae and Ida Hutchinson, two charming young ladies of this village.
The evening was most pleasantly spent in various Hallow'een sports, among them was the time-honored lighted candle test by which each young lady learned her irrevocable fate; whether she in single blessedness should dwell or take a mate. It grieves us to say that some of the young ladies will be given another opportunity to try the test.

The young men, with the proverbial curiosity of women, endeavored, by taking a daring plunge into a huge basin of water, to learn what fate had in store for them, but they, like Adam of old, choose the apple as their precursor and judging by the way in which they all, with perhaps the exception of "Larry," who has an aversion for aqua pura, dove after the apples, they were as anxious as the young ladies were to know what their future will be.

All departed with the express determination of "doing the town," but the small boys had done all that could be done in that line.

Barrington Board Proceedings.

May He Flourish.

The McHenry County Republican
says of John Dufield, for many years
editor of the McHenry County Democrat, which the Republican succeeded:

"Last Saturday evening, after having assisted the new management for two weeks in the mechanical work in this office, John A. Dufield, who for twenty-five years was the owner and
editor of the McHenry County Democrat, laid down his stick and rule, threw his old apron in the scrap heap
and his cares to the wind and walked out a free man, after a quarter of a century of unremitting toil and nerve-racking effort. Mr. Dufield will take life easy for a time and endeavor to now enjoy the fruits of his well-directed efforts."

The fraternity wish Brother Dufield
a happy life, free from the vexations of the sanctum.

FRATERNITY.

Its Meaning and Object Told by Rev.
C. D. Mayhew.

Those who failed to attend services at the Baptist church Sunday evening missed an opportunity to hear a discourse upon a popular topic; to listen to a most pointed, plainly illustrated, well supported argument in favor of a closer brotherhood of humanity, in church and fraternal society circles.

Rev. C. D. Mayhew, the pastor, delivered the discourse, not for any society in particular, but by his invitation his brothers of Barrington lodge of Odd Fellows attended in a body.

Rev. Mayhew prefaced his remarks by reading chapter 20, 1 Samuel, which contains much that cements the foundation upon which rests the fraternal orders of the present.

The discourse was punctuated with many bright quotations, and a number of little points which might be well considered by a large number of people who profess christianity; who claim to have a heart overflowing with the milk of human kindness for their fellows, when in fact they are the worse type of Pharisees.

The lesson taught by the Good Samaritan, who, although despising the Jews, gave succor to that poor suffering one who had fallen among thieves on the Jericho road, was one, the speaker said, which should never be lost sight of.

The discourse was a most excellent one, highly appreciated by all who listened to it, and a credit to Mr. May-hew, who has a peculiar way of saying truths plainly and interestingly.

A REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

will be better for this new alignment and the country itself cannot fail to be a gainer thereby."

The Chicago Inter Ocean says editorially: "President Roosevelt has been indorsed by the American people. In New York, where a most determined fight was made by a reunited democracy against the policy of the president as regards the trusts, the republican majority is not large but as large as it was when Roosevelt himself was a candidate for governor. The main contest was on congress, and the fact that the Fifty-Eighth congress will have probably as large a republican majority as the Fifty-Seventh is the strongest possible indorsement of President Roosevelt and his policies. He has won. The seal of the nation's approval is upon him."

Reasonable Request.

The sportsmen of Lake county should all have an interest in furthering the work of Waukegan men who last winter by popular subscription raised money to secure quail and liberate them in this section with the hope to fully restock the county with this excellent game bird.

C. W. Gilbert of Waukegan, who was largely interested in this work and who attended to the securing and liberation of the birds, has issued the following, with the request that it be copied by all Lake county papers:

To sportsmen of Lake county:
You are requested to refrain from shooting quail during the game season. By doing so, with the 20 dozen
I expect to liberate this fall and 10 dozen next spring, there should be fairly good shooting next fall.

Respectfully,
CHAS. W. GILBERT.

Wanted.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and liver troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, disponent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact,
any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its falling. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25c size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At H. T. Abbott's.

CORN CRIB.
CHEAP AND HANDY.

8 feet high and 12 feet in diameter. 14 inches between slats.

HOLDS 400 BUSHELS, PRICE $6

Can be set up in ten minutes and when empty can be used for chicken fence and for corn again when needed,
or can be sawed in a 2-foot log fence,
as each section contains 6 cable wires,
thus leaving 3 cables in each piece of 2-foot fence. This is just the thing to pen up small pigs to wean or make a yard to feed small chicks in.

Directions with each crib on back of tag for setting up and making door.

A grand thing to set up in the field while husking or to feed out of during winter. If wanted to store corn in, some pieces of boards or something else should be laid on the ground and the crib on top. A covering can be made of hay with stringers to hold it on. Will also make a good grain bin if lined with straw or canvas. Tar paper laid in bottom will keep out mice
