Teamsters' Chief Attempts to Stem the Tide Against General Walkout

EMPLOYERS FORCE THE ISSUE

Insist on Deliveries Being Made to Department Stores, Compelling Men to Obey or Quit Work—Will Appeal to Roosevelt.

Chicago, May 10.—On the eve of President Roosevelt's arrival in Chicago, the teamsters' union threatened each hour, and the outlook for today, when the president will spend twelve hours in the city, is for a spread rather than a diminution of the street traffic.

The strike spread more rapidly yesterday than on any one day for more than a week. Its movement, moreover, was not random, and gave rise to rumors that the teamsters' union officials are considering a general strike, to affect the entire length and breadth of the city.

In the event of a general strike, the French regulations on the subject are far more liberal, and France insists that she has the right to follow her own rules.
