

A NOISY CELEBRATION

Barrington Celebrates In The Old Fashioned Way.

Was there anyone who attended our Fourth of July celebration who did not enjoy the day? Neither clouds nor wind nor periodical showers, interspersed with hot half hours, could prevent the people from gathering into crowds and seeing the amusements through, regardless of discomforts. Perhaps the shadow cast by the rushing cloud masses and the light sprinkles were more welcome than the glaring hot days usually vouchsafed on July 4th.

The main attractions were in and near the business district although all over town patriotic decorations of flags and streamers were flying from nearly all the homes and the park were filled with happy, noisy children whose abilities to keep a din alive were given a free rein on that day. Family reunions and friends visiting here brought many former residents and people to town and pleasant meetings of old associates increased the delight of attending the celebration. Representatives from the farms in a radius of five miles were noticed on the streets, so that with the crowds from the neighboring lakes and resorts who arrive and depart at the Barrington depot the down town vicinity was at all times Tuesday a great thoroughfare.

Night owls attended the entrance of the date with the annual uproar only different from other such receptions in point of duration, for the firing of cannons near the milk station was continued until dawn and then a younger generation was astir to assume the responsibility of seeing that no hubbub prevailed the town. About one o'clock the Barrington Cornet band occupied the improvised band stand and gave a concert which drew crowds while the parade was forming.

Heading the procession were A. S. Henderson as marshal of the day and Philip Hawley, flag bearer. The Ladies' Cornet Band followed by the Barrington Cornet Band and then the floats of young misses representing the States and Liberty, made up the line which proceeded to the platform erected on South Hawley street where M. C. McIntosh assumed charge of the program. Short addresses, songs, music and the reading of the Declaration of Independence were the main features of a gathering at the home of an address by Judge Malone of Chicago. Mr. Malone by his genial manner captivated the goodwill of all his listeners who were sincerely interested in his energetic, well informed and witty flow of oratory on the subject of our country, patriotism and the worth of our people.

Griefs of the older men showed that this gifted speaker of far younger years was pleasing men of older experience. The afternoon amusements began at one thirty. Throughout the time selections were played alternately by the two bands whose repertoires seemed unlimited and their resilience untrifling. The morning procession again formed and was augmented by a most modern and strictly high toned collection of exhibits that have appeared on our streets since last Fourth. We note with pride that the C. and N. W. officials have at last recognized the existence of Barrington by loaning a well equipped and beautiful express train run by a time-honored motive power to enter this exhibition, and we appreciate the condensation of French inventors in sending the most recent model of an air-ship. We thank local business men for showing gasoline engines in operation and giving us at last the true source of Alverson and Groff's fine sausage, as testified in their canine show.

During the contest of speed and strength familiar figures were seen to enter the track, causing the ever-existent hilarity at seeing one's friends win or lose. The rewards were worth competing for, thanks to the success of the promoters in securing them to the donors. In the water fight, a feature peculiar to Barrington, and received with joy by strangers and villagers, six men were entered, who contested in pairs and the winning Clings winning the prize of $5.00 as he did last year. The second competitor received $4.00 and the others $2.00 apiece.

The evening was made beautiful by a display of fireworks that held the attention for several hours.

Five gentlemen were the main investigators of this day of celebration and to them is the first credit, for such affairs are carried out only by a great deal of effort and work on the part of a few willing to shoulder the active part, but as all things must be reckoned for, so is each donor either in a small or more substantial way, a participant in the success of the undertaking.

Messrs. Jencks, Kirschner, Peters, G. Hager and P. A. Hawley were the men on the working committee.

Reached The Century Mark

The Sioux Valley News, published at Canton, South Dakota, in its issue of June 23, contains an extended article in reference to Elijah Clark Sears, grandfather of Prof. J. I. Sears of this village. The subject of the article celebrated his one hundredth birthday June 23rd. He was born at East Hampton, Conn., in 1805, and when 40 years of age came west and settling near Cary, in McHenry County, where he remained until 1873 when he moved to Clinton, Iowa, and in 1886 took up a residence with a daughter at Canton, S. D. Mr. Sears is remarkably active for a man of his years. All of his surviving children were present to enjoy the celebration of his 100th birthday.

A Pleasant Surprise.

On Wednesday evening the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Riecke, of Nebraska, who for several weeks have been visiting about here, gave their parents a very pleasant surprise at the home of John L. Meiners. About thirty persons, old and young, had gathered together, all being relatives. Rev. A. Haeffel had been invited to make the presentation of a gold watch to Mr. Riecke, and silver spoons, knives and forks to Mrs. Riecke in the name of their children, and as a token of their pleasure in having had them with them for several weeks. "Jesus Lover of My Soul" was sung, prayer was offered, and in a short, fitting speech the aged parents were congratulated on the large number of their friends, the great reverence and love shown them in their old age, and the good wishes following them through life's journey, of which the beautiful presents were but a token. The old people were deeply affected, and gratefully received the tokens of love. Both are devout christians. It was a fitting close to the address to which they did, "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There."

Refreshments were served, and a pleasant social time followed.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Riecke left for their home in Nebraska. Last year they celebrated their golden wedding.

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY.

Chester Hutchinson Passes Away Early Sunday Morning.

To the record of those who have entered the life beyond is added the name of Chester Hutchinson aged 90 years who died Sunday morning, July 2, at an early hour. The announcement of his sudden death was received throughout the village with almost disbelief as few knew that he was ill or confined to the house.

On Saturday, June 24, Mr. Hutchinson was overcome by the heat while working out of town and returned home quite ill. During the following week he remained at home, apparently not feeling very badly, beyond a lack of strength. On Saturday he was quite well and remained out doors nearly all day. Sunday morning at five o'clock when given medicine he seemed much improved, but a few minutes later was found in great distress, suffering three convulsions of the nerves and blood vessels of the stomach. This action affected the heart at once and death came quickly.

Mr. Hutchinson was a prominent figure in village life and by his long residence of 37 years here was familiarly and widely known. He was a gentleman of kind disposition, steady and industrious.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the home on Cook street. Rev. Lapham of the Methodist church conducted the services and a male quartet sang. Mr. Hutchinson was the father of nine children all of whom were present with their families and also Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis of Chicago and daughter Genevieve and Mrs. Geo. Barnes of Havana.

Chester Hutchinson was born in Lansing, Mich., Jan. 12, 1815. His boyhood was spent in that place and in Ann Arbor, Mich. When about 24 years of age he was married to Miss Anna Kane of Dexter, Mich., who survives him. They came to Barrington at once and lived on the corner west of the Baptist church. To them were born ten children, one of whom died in infancy. The others are Alonzo Hutchinson of Chicago, Mrs. N. D. Brown of Harvard, Mrs. Vincent Davlin and Mrs. Harry Graham of Waukegan, Miss Fern, Charles, James and Howard Hutchinson of Barrington.
