Miss D. DORR, Sec. In the write-up of the football game between the Palatine and Woodstock High school teams the Woodstock Sentinel closes with the following: "The Palatine team was made up of a clean and gentlemanly lot of players, but almost too old and heavy for a high school team. Taking it altogether the Woodstock boys were well pleased with the treatment received and held good opinions of those farther south of them."

A teacher in one of our country schools had a class of young scholars before her in mathematics. The examples were in addition and the following illustration was offered by the teacher: "Now, children, if I lay four eggs on the desk and Sammy," she pointed to a freckled face lad at the head of the class, "would you lay 3 eggs on the desk, how many would there be?" The lad boy of the class who had listened intently shouted, "Go on Sam! take her up! I don't think she can do it." Grayscale Times.

An interesting fact in regard to the name "Barrington" is that one of the points that Roosevelt will visit during his journey through southern states on which he started Wednesday, is "Barrington Hall" near Roswell, Georgia, where his mother visited and played when a child, and where Mrs. Baker, her only surviving bridesmaid still lives. Near "Barrington Hall" is "Jellich Hall," the home of Mittie Butler, the president's mother, and these two beautiful southern homes are still preserved in all their picturesqueness as in the days when "Miss Mittie" was courted by her dutch lover from the east.

The public is awaiting with interest the opening of St. Ann's Bazaar on Nov. 6, to continue three evenings and also Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 7.
