She was married to Seymour Staples in 1838 and came West six months later. When they reached Chicago there was no railroad so they walked to Deer Grove, there being but one horse between there and Chicago and no stage or conveyance and nothing but a path to follow. They celebrated their Golden wedding in 1888. She was one of a family of twelve children all passing to the Great Beyond but one sister, Mrs. Cordelia Keys. MRS. SARAH LANE DEAD.

Lived at One Time at Barrington and Later at Barrington Center.

Mrs. Sarah Lane died after a brief illness at her home, 441 Addison street, Elgin, Sunday, Nov. 26. Mrs. Lane, with her husband, Justus H. Lane, and their three children, came west from Massachusetts just before the war of '61. That contest required the costly sacrifice of a loyal husband and father, who was killed in the storming of Vicksburg just before it fell. Her youngest son was for many years a suffering invalid, taxing every energy of her heroic life, and later died in spirit and fitted for the kingdom of Heaven already begun in her heart. Last April Mrs. Lane and her daughter visited the old battle grounds of Vicksburg. In their minds it was easy to reinvest the grounds with the heroes who went forth and never returned.

Mrs. Lane is survived by her son, J. R. Lane, of Ludington, Mich., and Miss Louise of Elgin. The funeral was held at the home in Elgin Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane at one time were residents of Barrington and later removed to Barrington Center. The deceased was a relative of William G. Waterman, who died Saturday, and they were both about the same age.

Whiskey in Disguise.

The commission of internal revenue has ruled that, after Dec. 1, patent medicines that are known to contain a large percentage of alcohol will be placed in the same category as other intoxicants. The manufacturers of such medicines will be classed with rectifiers and liquor dealers, and druggists who handle them will be required to take out the regular saloonkeeper's license.

This important decision should be hailed with satisfaction by prohibitionists and liquor detesters alike. It is a tacit endorsement of the position of the W. C. T. U. on the question of non-alcoholic medication, and it places the saloonkeeper and his rival, the liquor selling druggist, on a plane of business equality.—Union Signal.

PROMINENT MISSIONARY DEAD

Was a Brother-in-Law of Mrs. Lapham of Barrington.

The Rev. and Mrs. F. N. Lapham received on last Monday the sad news of the death of Rev. James Simster in Pochow, China.

The Rev. Simster was the husband of a sister of Mrs. Lapham. He and his wife have been missionaries in China for nine years. As they labored together they rejoiced in the great results and the success that attended their labor.

In the midst of their labors he was taken with dengue fever and after fifteen days died. His wife took charge of the funeral services.

About twelve hundred people were at the church and nearly two thousand followed the remains to the cemetery.

A friend in writing about the funeral said, "It was touching to see the Chinese, old men, women and servants, come to offer their tributes of love and flowers."

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and four children, who will return to America in the near future.

WOULD STAND A REPETITION

The Two Plays Given Wednesday Evening by Rebekah Lodge Were Excellent.

Amateur theatricals never fail in Barrington to attract a well filled hall, for there is a peculiar charm about seeing one's relatives and friends in new roles of character and costume; every movement and expression in the play seems interesting and there is no lack of attention, while the most genuine amusement is readily enjoyed for the sight of either the good acting or the mistakes of familiar people.

Everyone present deplores the poor staging and curtain available in the village, but all duly appreciate the very excellent work on the part of such properties as can be procured and the work and thought necessary to produce even as good effects.

In both farces given, "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments" and "Scenes in the Union Depot" the depot was quite realistic and certainly funny, and with only a slight and kindly stretch of the imagination could the audience hear telegraphic clicks and train departures.

Rebekah Lodge No. 626 whose members, with the assistance of Odd Fellows, gave plays on the management of Mrs. M. L. Spunner may rest assured that the public was pleased with the effort and found it unqualifiedly the most amusing entertainment ever given here.

We would be pleased to note in detail the points of the play as to individuals and the "make up" but are unable to this week, so suffice it to say that with the decided hits made by Misses Otis and Topping, Messrs. Moore, Bennett and Welch, each player was most fittingly costumed and carried out the part with skill.

The play was first class considering the facilities and it has been said about town that they would bear repetition.

New Primary Law.

Under the provisions of the new primary election law, which will be used at all primaries next spring, every man desiring to vote must declare his political preference he can receive a ballot from the judge of the election and said judge is also obliged to announce the name of the voter and the party ticket he desires to vote. This will be embarrassing to many voters who desire to keep secret the party ticket they vote.

BAPTIST PASTOR RESIGNED

Mr. Kelley Will Leave on January First to Accept a Call in New Mexico.

Pastor Kelley of the Baptist church has accepted a call from a church at Albuquerque, New Mexico, and on January 1st will leave for his new home. The resignation was read some weeks ago, but it was hoped by some of his parishioners that he could be prevailed upon to reconsider his decision, but owing to the state of his health he has definitely decided to leave January 1st.

Mr. Kelley is a young man who is not afraid of work, and while in Barrington has done much to bring the church people in closer and more friendly touch with those not affiliated with churches. He has made himself very popular, and his work has been very profitable. It has not yet been ascertained who the new pastor will be.

Passion Play.

The world famed Passion Play, a dramatic lecture by George Kay (1st), of Chicago, will be given at the Catholic church, Wauconda, on Thursday evening, Dec. 7th, at eight o'clock and at the Catholic church, Fox Lake, on December 8th, at eight o'clock. It is one of the most impressive representations in the world, and over 4,000 of the living moving pictures of Oberammergau and Horitz are used. The admission fee has been put at the small sum of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Everyone should avail themselves of this opportunity to see the passion play. It is a treat not often within the reach of rural citizens.
