MAGNET LOUSES ORAL APPEAL

Decision of Lower Court is Sustained by Federal Supreme Bench. TO SERVE TWO YEARS IN JAIL

Verdict of Guilty of Conspiracy to Defraud the Government is Upheld—Lorenz and the Grofs in Same Boat. Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, tells this story: "A Tarheel lawyer was trying a case before a jury, being counsel for the prisoner, a man charged with making mountain dew. The judge was very hard on him, and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty. The lawyer moved for a new trial. The judge denied his motion, and remarked: "The Court and the jury think the prisoner is a hard case. "After a moment's absence the lawyer answered: "The prisoner wishes me to say that he is breaking open his veins, and is being tried by a Court and a jury of his peers."

Washington dispatch: By a decision of the United States supreme court Monday in denying the application of Machen, Lorenz and Grof for a writ of certiorari in the case charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the postoffice department, the accused are practically found irrevocably guilty as charged. The decision will surrender into the custody of Columbia to be sent to the penitentiary at Leavenworth, Mo. Machen, Lorenz and the Grofs were sentenced to two years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $10,000 each.

There will be no further effort to delay the execution of the sentence of the district superior court, from which the appeal was made, until it reaches the supreme court of the United States. Charles A. Douglas, the attorney for the defendants, had filed a writ of habeas corpus, but there was nothing to do now but to yield to the inevitable. "There is no further recourse," he said, "the case is closed. I will stand along as it were, to delay matters for awhile, but there is no such intention on our part. We will do nothing until the case is carried out to the mandate of the court. As soon as the mandate is received from the supreme court of the United States the defendants will surrender into the custody of the United States marshal. That is all there is to it." All of the defendants are understood to be in this city.

The persons affected by the refusal of the court to take cognizance of the case are August W. Machen, formerly superintendent of free delivery in the city of Leavenworth, Mo.; E. Lorenz, Diller B. Grof and Samuel A. Grof. They were jointly indicted in June, 1903, the particular charge being that they had conspired with the government by the Grofs, through Machen, at the price of $125 each, when they were really worth about $100 each. The fines were collected 40 per cent of the amount himself add Grofs for the benefit of himself add Machen.

Washington dispatch: The commissioner of the currency issued a statement to the effect that a firm advertising as "Manufacturers and Merchants National Bank of Bridgeport, Conn.," and offering notes for discount, was using the title in violation of the law, as there is no such bank.

Washington dispatch: Postmaster General Wynne has under consideration the allegations that a number of carriers of the force of the postoffice at Toledo, O., had been charged with selling mining stocks along their routes during working hours.

Washington dispatch: The house committee on immigration and naturalization has authorized a favorable report on the Adams bill to prohibit the entry into this country of more than 80,000 persons from any one country in any one fiscal year.

Washington dispatch: William D. Murphy of New York had a conference with President Roosevelt and later with the United States secretary of the Interior. The president is anxious that Mr. Murphy should accept an assistant secretaryship in the treasury department.

GRATEFUL TO CUTICURA For Instant Relief and Speedy Cure of Raw and Scaly Humour, Itching Day and Night—Suffered Months.

"I wish you would publish this letter so that others suffering as I have may be helped. For months awful sores covered my face and neck, scabs forming, itching terribly day and night, breaking open, raw, raw, raw, blood and matter. I had tried many remedies, but was growing worse, when I started with Cuticura. The first application gave me instant relief, and when I had used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment, I was completely cured (excepting Miss Nellie Vander Wiele, Lakeside, N. Y.)."

MR. HAYDEN'S VIEWS GIVES HIS OPINION OF THE BEST TREATMENT FOR PARALYSIS. Declares That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, Made of the Best of the Most Valuable All Other Remedies Failed.

The preliminary symptoms of paralysis are: trembling of the hands; sudden loss of power in arms or legs; frequently affecting one side of the body; staggering; partial or entire inability to use the fingers; distortion of the features, sometimes an uncontrollable quivering of the chin; severe pains; difficulty in speech. Frequently the first warning is a vague feeling of headache, vertigo and muscular weakness.

"I was in this miserable condition," I was stricken with malarial fever and confined to bed for four months. I had the best physicians called, but while they relieved my fever, their treatment did not entirely drive the malarial from my system, and they did not help my paralysis.
