THEIR THIRTEENTH BANQUET

The Woman's Thursday Club Gave Their Annual Banquet

Thursday Evening.

A social event of importance is the annual banquet of the Woman's Thursday club of thirty members and this year the home of Miss Eva Castle was opened for the affair on Thursday evening. This is the thirteenth banquet which the ladies and their husbands have attended with few changes in personnel for such a length of time. Mrs. William Howarth, the president, is very ill and Mrs. Sanford Peck, the vice-president, assumed the duties of addressing the guests in welcoming remarks. Mrs. Clara Sears with clever, original and pointed interludes made a pleasing "toast-master". Those responding to her lead and their subjects were: "Club Reminiscences," Mrs. H. K. Brockway; "The Thursday Club from the Standpoint of a Husband," Sanford Peck; "The Thursday Club from the Standpoint of a Bachelor," Howard Castle; and an original poem by Miss Castle.

The tables were most beautifully dressed with fine silver, china, linen and daffodils and tulips of the club colors, yellow and white.

The menu follows:

Celery Soup	Olives
Salted Waters	Pickles
Celery
Boiled Tenderloin
French Peas	Baked Potatoes
Fruit Salad	Rolls
Ice-cream	Cakes
	Patties
	Coffee

After the dinner progressive elench was played and Mrs. A. L. Robertson and Frank Hawley won the prizes.

Daughters Day.

The Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. D. H. Richardson Thursday afternoon for amusement. The meeting was designated as "Daughters Day" and eleven young ladies, daughters real or borrowed for the occasion, assisted in making the afternoon pleasant. Chorus singing and piano selections by Miss Alta Powers preceded two games which the daughters had planned with Miss Elvora Arps. Mrs. Sarah Benton received a prize for most deftly raising an apple on a tea-spoon with one hand, carrying it across the room and depositing it in one of a row of stockings hanging in a line. The good old game of pinning the tails on a donkey was laughable and the prize given to Mrs. Mary Elvige. Mrs. Richardson entertained the ladies with a delightful luncheon.

Gesschel Leaves Town.

The case of Arnold Gesschel vs. William Libbie and wife which was to have been tried Tuesday before a local justice was declared off because of the flight from town of said Gesschel. He was a man who came here to work for Dr. Wejchelt but was not employed during the short space of a week worked for. Hylon Hawley, one of the Meier families and a Kampert family, then going to William Libbie's near the Kelsey school where he refused to do as he was told one morning, when ordered to help shred at the Wendt farm. Mr. Libbie went out to his house grumbling and cursing to Mrs. Libbie who refused to talk to him and when she opened a door to call Mr. Libbie the fellow clutched her by the throat and shook her while she held a young baby in her arms. Mr. Libbie rushed in, freed his wife and battled with Gesschel until dishes on the kitchen table were broken and also the dining room table. Gesschel seized a stick of wood from the wood-box and raised it to hit Mrs. Libbie, whereupon Mr. Libbie possessed himself of the stick and hit Gesschel on the head a blow that prostrated him. He came to Barrington to have his cuts dressed and remained at the Baumgarten House for six days, planning to bring suit for assault. He attracted attention down town by his threats. However when asked for bond money he disappeared from town. Mrs. Libbie has suffered since the occurrence, March 26th, from the nervous shock given her.

Careless placing of hot ashes near a large woodpile resulted in a blaze Tuesday morning on the premises of Mrs. Carrie Kendall, Hough street. No damage was done, but nevertheless there was danger of a larger fire.

Zimmerman-Smith Nuptials.

Miss Winifred Smith was married Sunday at half past six in the evening to Otto Zimmerman. Miss Smith has been living at the Zimmerman home since the death of her mother last July at Langenheim, and the marriage took place at the home, corner of Cook and Russell streets. Former invitations had been issued to friends and most of them attended. Rev. Stanger of St. Paul's church performed the ceremony in the parlor where a canopy of festooned amulas and tissue paper bolls had been arranged for the bridal group in which the bride and groom were attended by Misses Louise Zimmerman and Clara Miller with Robert Berger of Chicago and Elroy Thorpe of Barrington. A supper followed the ceremony which was served at a table lavishly trimmed with flowers and ferns and decorated by Mr. Zimmerman's sisters from the city and an aunt of Miss Smith. The couple were plentifully besprinkled with rice on their way to their supper seats. The bride wore a tailored gown of Albee blue. Mr. Zimmerman is well known in the business world being a mason and contractor who lived at Langenheim until last fall. The guests from out of town were Messrs and Mesdames Charles Zimmerman, Robert Zimmerman, Robert Berger, Robert Sheppard, and Mrs. M. Ried, Miss Clara Miller, Fred Zimmerman and Charles Miller all of Chicago, Messrs. E. W. Riley and Kraus of Langenheim with the Misses Lizzie and Nellie Riley, Annabelle Welch and Florence Metraw.

How Much Could You Get For Your Farm?

You are a farmer. You live near this town. You own land. Let us say that you own more than you need and would like to sell a hundred acres.

How much could you get per acre? Land values have risen lately. But has the value of your land risen as you think it should?

Your land is good? You think it is worth considerably more than anybody has offered you. Well, let us see.

A man buying farm land naturally prefers to locate near a thriving up to date town. He wants good home markets for his crops. He wants good schools.

Let us say your land is three miles from town. A farm that looks very much like yours is three miles from a town twice as big and twice as prosperous as this town.

If you were going to buy a farm for your own occupancy, wouldn't you pay a whole lot more for land near the town that is twice as large and twice as lively?

Of course you would. It would be good business.

Now, what makes a town big and bustling? Money. Money in circulation. Not in circulation in Chicago, for instance, but right in the town that wants to buy.

How much money have you sent to the big Mail Order houses in the city the past few years? How much have your neighbors sent? How much have all of you together put out in circulation here at home?

It is probably beyond calculation. If all that money had been spent in your own home town, isn't it reasonable to assume that the town would have grown more than it has grown?

Wouldn't this town be a bigger and better town?

Wouldn't it have more stores to buy your produce?

Wouldn't it have more public improvements to make it more attractive to outsiders who might come here to live, to go into business, or buy your surplus land at a good figure?

TO TRADE AT HOME MEANS TO HELP THE TOWN AND THE NEIGHBORHOOD, TO HELP THE TOWN AND THE NEIGHBORHOOD MEANS TO HELP YOURSELF.

WILL BE GOOD. Good-Bye Hired Man.

Entertainment to be given at the Baptist Church Next Monday Night.

A rare treat is in store for Barrington people next Monday night, March 11th, at the Baptist church when an entertainment will be given like which has never been seen in Barrington. The programme will consist of the Cradle Songs of all Nations, sung by Barrington's most talented singers and each will be in the costume of her native country. The singers will also be assisted by readers from Hindustan, Africa, Ireland, Sweden and other countries.

The entertainment is under the auspices of five young ladies of the Baptist church who are earning expenditure money for the B. Y. P. U.

Mrs. Mae Lane Spomer is in charge of the programme lending able assistance to the young ladies.

Do not fail to be present and add a good cause and likewise encourage the young ladies in their efforts.

B. C. Harris has moved his barber shop to the building formerly occupied by Joseph Haas, and will be glad to meet all patrons in his new location.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dahms entertained the Euchre club Tuesday evening at the last party of the series, and the season was closed in a manner long to be remembered.

M. S. Clark was very pleasantly and completely surprised by about forty of his friends, Monday evening, who gathered to assist him in celebrating his thirty-sixth birthday anniversary. Progressive Euchre reigned king until refreshments were announced, then all else was forgotten to attend to as tempting an outlay as could be imagined. The guests lingered until about 11 A. M., when all departed wishing their host many happy returns of the day.

Keystone League Meets.

There was a business meeting of the Keystone League of the Salem church Tuesday evening at the Stiefenhofer home followed by a social hour for the entertainment of nearly seventy present. Two contest games resulted in Miss Awanda Schroeder and Mrs. S. J. Fulton winning. One was quite an original idea the object being to mold a creditable animal out of gum. Light refreshments were served and the decorations were in league colors, purple and white.

Basket Social.

About the most successful basket social held in any of the district schools this winter was given at the Donia school, three miles west of town, Wednesday evening, February 27. Miss Nellie Danies, the teacher, reports that the proceeds on twenty-seven baskets were $41.85, and that one basket sold for $4.80. The school was filled with guests who responded liberally to the persuasions of Joseph G. Catlow, auctioneer. The money will be expended for books and pictures.

Barrington, has never had a "Rumage Sale," a "Woman's Exchange," a church card-party or dance, or a course of University Extension lectures. But O!—many and varied are the schemes by which our churches raise money.

LETTER FROM REV. LAPHAM

Rev. Lapham Writes the Review An Interesting Letter From the "Sunny South."

To the Barrington Review: I thought it might be of interest to some of the readers of the "Barrington Review" to see a few lines from the "Land of Flowers."

We left Barrington the day after a beautiful snow-storm, and arrived in Florida and found the flowers in bloom, oranges on the trees and the boys barfooted. The weather here is very much like we have in Barrington in June.

We spent one day in Jacksonville and found it a very interesting city. It is on the St. John river about twenty-five miles from St. Augustine. Many fine buildings are in Jacksonville, which we enjoyed seeing, but we enjoyed most the drive along the St. John river with here and there a jungle scene which made us realize that we were indeed in Florida. The live oak trees and the fine trees are often covered with the Spanish or Florida moss which hang down sometimes for a yard from the branches and swing gracefully in the breeze. This adds much to the tropical appearance of the jungle.

Our friends have a bungalow facing on the Tampa Bay in the city of St. Petersburg. My brother and I, and all our headquarters we drive, and sail and tour about the country at our pleasure, and Natori, their Japanese cook, has the dinners ready for us on our return—sometimes fresh fish, new potatoes, strawberries, etc.

Last week we took a steamer and went down the Gulf of Mexico to the Florida coast. Another day we took the electric car here and crossed the peninsula to Veteran City where the blue and the gray" are to have a soldiers' home together. By the way, of Washington's birthday they had a parade here in St. Petersburg when the old soldiers of the Rebellion "in blue and the gray" marched side by side. It brought tears to our eyes as we looked at them and thought of the years gone by. It was indeed a beautiful sight to see them march side by side. To go back to Veteran City—we there took a strange little vessel with seats on top of the small cabin to which we climbed and were soon crossing the silver waters of the Pass-A-Rubien, which is the Pass between two islands to the Gulf of Mexico. We crossed one of these Florida Keys and gathered up shells on the Gulf of Mexico, and also bathed in its waters on February twenty-first; after which we had one of the famous crab dinners at the "Hotel Bona-fine."

Some days we have spent exploring "the forest-primaval" where the pine and the palm trees predominate, and where, especially in the Bay Heads we found the ideal jungles.

We expect to visit Tampa, near which DeSoto landed on the Florida shores in 1492.

We also expect to visit St. Augustine, the oldest town in North America on our way home.

REV. F. M. LAPHAM,
Tampa, Florida, February 28, 1907.

Dancing School Next Winter.

If all plans mature, there will be a dancing school in Barrington next winter. For Fred Stott expects when the cold follows the ice of his hall is closed in October to manage a dancing school and other dancing affairs. A teacher from the city will be secured and Chicago music. The hall will be enlarged by the removal of partitions, put in a few years ago and will also be newly decorated. Mr. Stott intends to promote a school of high standard where lessons in behavior, politeness and social observances will be taught as well as dancing steps. This school will fill a need in Barrington which has been much discussed. No better place is provided for the training of a child in manners than a good dancing school where good amusement is provided and social friendships, and where no rough ways are allowed. The mingling of young people in the dance where all are acquaintances is not a social evil, but rather a prevention of such, as it gives them a meeting place among friends where all is proper. The large public dances of the city are wicked lures to sin, but when dancing among friends, any young person, influenced to wrong, is of a character who would go wrong any way.

COBRA MILLER, Teacher.
