Doing Business Again.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by Barrington Pharmacy, 50c.

THINKS MERCHANTS WRONG

Mr. Peckham says: "Put the Blame Where it Belongs."

To the voters of the Village of Barrington—

When people do things which they are ashamed of it seems to be natural for them to hunt an excuse and the voters of Barrington say 'that they license the saloons in their town because the farmers want them.' We as farmers do not thank the people of the village for that kind of compliments. Of course, there are some farmers, who patronize the saloons, but if you think we are anxious to have them remain for our sake you are mistaken.

What do we want saloons for? To keep our hired men in town in the busy season of the year when we send them to mill, or to the milk factory? Or to get drunk and leave our horses standing in the street on a cold winter's day? To furnish a place for our men to go in the evening and get on a 'pep' and be of no use for two or three days? To make "touché" of our sons? No! don't blame the innocent farmers for your dirty work. If you want saloons in Barrington you have them because you want them yourselves.

We are surprised at the argument that intelligent "business" men put up, that is, "they need saloons to do trade." As long as the milk factory pays a decent price for our milk we will come to town with it whether there are saloons or not.

And the man who now spends his money at the saloons would pay his honest debts at the grocery, hardware, etc., but as it is the saloon keeps get his cash and the business houses get the bad debts. On our farms we cannot let the weeds grow simply because the birds like the seeds, we must keep the weeds down if we expect a crop of wholesome grain.

We scatter the flowers of remembrance on the grave of one who has gone on before.

A loved one has gone from our organization, The second was he from our ranks to be taken, To that home in the skies our Father did beckon. Ah, sorely we miss him, and ne'er will forget One so loyal and true when by danger beset. To his loved ones extend our sincere sympathy And may God in His kindness with them ever be.

Life, to be worthy of a rational being must be always in progression. We must always purpose to do more of better than in times past.
