After all, is it as much fun to win as to roast the umpire?

The chief trouble with the wheat market is the speculative bug.

A Chicago chemist gave six reasons for his suicide, but cowardice was not among the number.

The Detroit girl who has been thrice wedded to the same husband has no end of perseverance.

New York has a woman stone cutter. Men will be particular about giving her the marble heart.

The Infante Alfonso's names appear to be sufficiently numerous and formidable to keep him off the cigar boxes.

It is consoling to realize that sunshine can be counted upon to follow low clouds and rain if we wait long enough.

"What is whiskey?" asks the Washington Herald. Now will there be a rash of obliging editors to incriminate themselves?

A cry of "Mies!" broke up a woman suffragist meeting at Wimbledon in England. Is there no limit to masculine depravity?

As between aerial and submarine navigation, in their present stage of development, the prudent person still prefers hooping it.

It seems to be settled that both the United States and Mexico want peace down in Central America, and that they will not have to fight for it.

It is a serious charge to say that the women do too much talking through the telephone. Do they hinder other women from using the wires?

Persons with matrimonial experience will endorse Rev. Mr. Philpott's dictum that the cheerful heart comes first in a wife's qualities and the clean house afterward.

Raw eggs and sweet milk, taken in large and frequent doses, is the next cure for tuberculosis. Wouldn't it be so bad if the raw eggs could be put up in capsule or powder form.

Two Million Russians are starving. The rest of the Russians have troubles of other kinds. If we were the czar we could not help feeling that we were doing a mighty poor job of governing.

A bureau is to be established for the purpose of aiding tramps. The tramps will consider it a failure if it does not limit itself to the business of providing free meals and wearing apparel.

New York is to spend $100,000 for tree concerts on piers and in parks this summer. There is no city except London where so much free music is supplied, and the outlay this year will be larger than ever.

Mr. Schwab says he shall have to throw away our expensive steel rails and put in new ones of nickel steel. If the capitalization of some of the roads was not so small they could afford to put in a gold-plated roadbed.

If there are 35,000 men working on the Panama canal, and they are digging something like 1,000,000 cubic yards a month, each man apparently digs something like a cubic yard a day. Of course, however, the average of the 35,000 never lift an ounce of dirt.

It is probable that Maurice Francis Egan, who writes poetry for the magazines, will be appointed minister to Denmark. It would be a good joke on Alfred Austin, who thinks there are no poets in America. The President would make it a point when the next ambassador to the Court of St. James is appointed to select some good, steady poet for the job.

Fine old language, the Latin. Fine new slang, our own. We say, to-day, when a man is knocked down and out, "He's got his." The Romans, beholding the dying gladiator, pierced by the victor's blade, cried out across the arena, "Habeat." And they're practically and almost literally the same thing.

Statistics issued at the close of the year 1904 show that there were in use in the United States alone more than 7,000,000 telephones, and an aggregate of a little over 6,000,000 miles of wire used for telephone service. The telephone industry gives employment to 90,000 persons in the United States, an increase of 171 per cent in six years, while during the same period the number of stations has increased 233 per cent and the wire mileage 349 per cent.

Rev. Dr. Aked's plea for a Christocentric revival staggers his hearers a bit, but they may get at his meaning in time. The distinguished English preacher, like one of his eminent countrymen, evidently delights to indulge in terminological exaltations.

Dr. Eastwood, an eminent English authority connected with the Royal Commission of Tuberculosis, says that clearly one of the most important steps in fighting the scourge of consumption is to keep a watchful eye on the milk supply.

SEVEN KILLED IN A MINE

TWO EXPLOSIONS OF GAS IN SHAFT AT PRICEBURG, PA.

Victims Are Horribly Disfigured—Wild Excitement Prevails Among Families of the Miners.

Scranton, Pa.—Seven men were killed outright and two others seriously injured in two explosions of mine gas in the Johnson No. 1 mine at Priceburg late Tuesday.

The first explosion, which occurred about three o'clock, was caused by the carelessness of a door tender who, by leaving the door open, allowed gas to accumulate in the workings. One man was injured as a result of this. The second explosion which resulted in the death of seven men and the injury of two, occurred about five o'clock and resulted from the ignition of the deadly fire damp which accumulated after the first explosion.

A runner who was near the foot of the shaft when the second explosion occurred gave the alarm and a rescue party hurried to the scene of the explosion.

News of the explosion spread rapidly through the village of Priceburg, and mining hamlet just north of Scranton, and hundreds of wives, children and other relatives of those who are employed in the mine hurried to the breaker. So badly disfigured were the remains of those who were killed that identification at the time was impossible and the wildest excitement prevailed. Harsh measures had to be pursued by the mine officials to keep the crowds back, and hundreds followed the ambulances to undertaking establishments. It was with the greatest difficulty that any authentic news of the affair could be learned, because of the excitement that prevailed.

About 1,500 men work in the mine, but as no account was kept of those who had come out before the explosion occurred it is impossible to determine, until the rescuing party returns, if the present death list is complete.

TEST FOR LOW FARE LAW.

Missouri Statute Will Have Three Months' Trial.

Kansas City, Mo.—The Missouri two-cent passenger fare act will go into effect at six a. m. on Wednesday next, and be given a three months' trial. If at the end of that time the rate is found to be unremunerative the law's enforcement can be fought in the jurisdiction of the railroad.

The state officials are temporarily enjoined from enforcing the maximum freight rate law and this case will be argued later in the federal court. Judge Smith McPherson in the United States district court here Monday afternoon, after handing down an opinion maintaining the court's jurisdiction in the premises, ordered the promulgation of the above stated facts, which had been agreed to by the attorneys for the state and the 18 Missouri railroads involved. The court in its decision had suggested that the two-cent fare should be first given a practical trial before injunction proceedings preventing its enforcement be considered.

Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general, said regarding the two-cent bill: "If at the end of three months the railroads want to litigate the reasonableness of these rates, the matter of the injunction suits that I have brought against the state and federal courts to determine the question will be fought out and the state has lost none of its rights and advantages."

"The injunction suits that I have brought against the railroad companies on the passenger rates in the state courts will stand."

The deliberate utterances of the Russian statesman, although pessimistic to the extent referred to, were hopeful when later he said he believed that a better method for the judicial adjustment of disputes was possible, even though all conflicts between nations were no more avoidable than conflicts between individuals.

In the course of his address M. Nelidoff greatly pleased the American delegates by the high tribute which he paid to President Roosevelt and Andrew Carnegie, not mentioning any other countries or rulers.

PLOT TO FOOL WIFE

ORCHARD SAYS HAYWOOD AIDED IN FIXING UP LETTERS.

Revenge Theory of Defense Combated by Witness' Statement That He Sold Hercules Mine in 1897.

Boise, Idaho.—The prosecution in the Steinenberg murder trial offered one of its most important pieces of evidence against William D. Haywood, June 11, 1905, when Orchard swears he was engaged in various crimes for the federation leaders, had participated in a plan to deceive Mrs. Orchard the second of Cripple Creek, as to the whereabouts of her husband.

Over a variety of protests from the defense Orchard was allowed to testify that early in the summer of 1905 Haywood told him that Mrs. Orchard was writing him for information as to Orchard's whereabouts. Orchard swore that he a series of letters that were to be falsely dated and delivered to Mrs. Orchard by agents of the federation.

He said that he first wrote two letters which he mailed to Mrs. Orchard and had them delivered through Paddy Mullaney, who represented the federation at Cripple Creek. Orchard identified the two letters and, over all objections, a great amount of defense, Judge Wood admitted them.

Next Orchard swore that he wrote a third letter purporting to come from Nome, Alaska, and that under the general name of the great amount of defense, Judge Wood admitted them.

Orchard then identified a letter which Haywood wrote to Mrs. Orchard and that, too, was admitted in evidence and handed to the jury. It was as follows:

"Denver, November 18, 1905. Mrs. H. Orchard: I heard of Madam and Sister; I have not heard a word since I saw you. The last information I got was the name of the place. I see that the same old name is still in use among the law and order element. Yours very truly,

"William D. Haywood."

Hurts the Revenge Theory.
To combat the theory that Orchard killed Steinenberg in revenge for his loss of a valuable interest in the Hercules mine, the state on direct examination obtained from Orchard a declaration that he sold his interest in the Hercules in 1897, two years before the strike and troops came.

The defense attempted to modify this by getting the witness to admit that he had not sold his interest in the Hercules, but had pledged it and could have taken it back any time up to his flight from Idaho, before the oncoming troops, but Orchard adhered to the statement that he had sold out.

At the opening of the morning session the defense asked Orchard a series of impeaching questions.

RUSSIAN DOUMA DISSOLVED

RIOTS OF WORKMEN IS LIKELY AS A RESULT.

Government Confident—Nine of Indicted Opponents Are Arrested.

St. Petersburg.—An imperial ukase was issued Sunday proroguing the council of the empire until November 15.

The dissolution of the second douma Saturday night was received through St. Petersburg with perfect tranquility, thanks to the precautionary measures, and in no place in Russia, so far as is known, were there any serious disturbances.

Demonstrations among St. Petersburg workmen are anticipated Monday, but the authorities are not alarmed. They profess to be chiefly apprehensive over the possibility of rioting and racial excesses in Odessa and Kiev and other cities where party feelings run high. An outbreak of agrarian disorders in several regions of the empire is anticipated later, when the peasant party of the dissolution, but a spirit of quiet confidence in the ability of the government to handle the situation prevails in administrative circles.

Thoum, Gen. Drachefsky, prefect of police, was nominally in charge the provisions for public safety were virtually in the hands of Gen. Henshamp, the aide to Grand Duke Nicholas. Nicholaitch, who returned from Krasnoyelo Solo to assume command of the combined garrison, including the guard corps, the Thirty-seventh infantry division, a large force of cavalry and Cossacks and several machine gun detachments. The military was chiefly disposed in the industrial section, but a strong force occupied the Tauride palace vicinity.

During the night nine of the 16 social democratic leaders, specifically named in the government indictment, including Prince Poterretski and M. Dzhaparidze, were taken into custody.

SCHMITZ OUT AS FRISCO MAYOR.
Board of Supervisors Names James L. Gallagher to His Place.

San Francisco.—Under orders of District Attorney William H. Langdon, the board of supervisors adopted a resolution declaring Mayor Eugene Schmitz temporarily unable to perform his official duties and appointing Supervisor James L. Gallagher acting mayor.

Gallagher's appointment as acting mayor is only a temporary one. He will serve only until the supreme court has decided whether or not it will admit Mayor Schmitz to bail pending the hearing of his petition for a new trial. Mayor Schmitz will be granted freedom on bail Gallagher will, of course, go out of office at once, for the mayor will no longer be incapacitated for performing the duties of chief executive of the city.

Schmitz was given permission by Judge Lawler Tuesday to pay another visit to the offices of his attorneys, but failed in his effort to have the court extend to the time of his absence from the county jail so as to permit him to attend to other than private business.

"The application recited that the 'district attorney is seeking to usurp his office, and it is necessary for him to take steps to prevent it.'"
