

IT PROVES IT'S WORTH

The HOLSMAN Automobile

PERFECT IN CONSTRUCTION, CHEAP IN PRICE AND COST OF OPERATING
When you see the HOLSMAN machine it will make you its friend at once for these reasons:

1. Solid tires admitting of no pump tires.
2. Air cooled. No water to contend with, or broken jackets which occur in frosty weather.
3. No live axles.
4. No transmission gears.
5. No drive shaft.
6. No speed gears. In fact, not any gears to contend with. No clutches. The machine rides as easy as the best made carriage and is controlled by two simple hand levers. Is started, guided, stopped, speeded, reversed and fully controlled by these two simple levers.

Should you have a breakdown, repairs are quickly secured. However, the chances of a breakdown are slim in a Holzman.
Write me for catalog and descriptive matter.

NEWS OF WAUCONDA

Personal Paragraphs Submitted

By Our Very Able Correspondents.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin, a boy, July 4th.

Mrs. Mullen is quite ill, suffering a stroke of paralysis.

Miss Grace Mullen will teach at the Lake Marie school next year.

There is only one vacant house in Wauconda and that is soon to be occupied.

W. E. Lindblad has gone to Oklahoma. Mrs. Lindblad will go later with relatives.

Clifford Crawford of St. Paul who lived here ten years ago, visited here this week.

Miss Lella Glynch went to Sparta, Wisconsin, early in the week, to visit her father.

Glyde Torrence was here Sunday the first time since he enlisted in the navy five years ago.

A family picnic was held by the Hutchinson family originally of Barrington at Slocum's Lake Sunday.

The marriage of Miss Priscilla Gainer and Ferdinand Peacor of Lebanon, New Hampshire, occurred in Chicago last Friday.

Sunday, July 14th, McHenry and Wauconda ball teams will play at Lily Lake Park. There will also be dancing, afternoon and evening. C. A. Hapke's orchestra will play.

Lovell Bennett, formerly of Barrington and Cuba townships, and now driver on Lincoln Park trolley, said last Sunday that he wonders why he never sees Wauconda people in the park, that he has been there for years and never met a person from Wauconda, while he sees Barrington folk every week. His headquarters are near the park restaurant and the shieland pony stand.

SERVIAN WEDDINGS.

The Bride Collects the Gifts Which Must Be in Money.

If you receive an invitation to a wedding in Little Serbia on the west side, you must not buy a present and take it with you or send it. That would be bad form, and the bride would probably feel insulted, but when you went to the wedding you would take with you the price of the present in money. At the wedding you would find several hundred men and women all making strange motions and talking in a strange, excited manner.

After the guests had assembled—and everybody in the colony would be welcomed—a young woman would pass around the wedding cake. Behind her would come the bride carrying a silver platter, and upon this she would collect the money given as presents. At the majority of weddings the platter is piled high with silver dollars, and around the edges are bills of various denominations, from $5 to $20. It is not uncommon for a bride to receive $1,000 in cash. This amount, it must be remembered, is given by men who are mostly laborers in the packing houses.

Sometimes the groom passes cigars, and every guest will take a cigar and hand him a dollar. Another custom is to play a dollar in the large glass of whiskey and every man take a drink, each drink costing a dollar. These weddings are a great feast for the guest, and there is always plenty to eat, and sometimes the groom rents a hall where all may dance—Kansas City Star.

THE MONKFISH.

This Glutton Has Many Names and an Appalling Appetite.

Among the most curious of fishes is one known on the coast of Maine as monkfish, by Massachusetts fishermen as goosefish, by Rhode Islanders as the bellows fish, in Connecticut as the mollusk, in North Carolina as the all-mouth. On the other side of the Atlantic it is called wide gut, kettle maw and other names. Its adult length is about four feet, its weight about forty pounds.

The fish is a glutton, with no finely discriminating palate. It is said to bolt the wooden buoy of a lobster pot with an apparent satisfaction equal to that with which it swallows a mackerel.

Dogfish, scalpen, squid, crabs and lobsters are items in its ordinary diet. Its Massachusetts name is said to have been given it because of its practice of swallowing geese. Several wild ducks are said to have been taken from the stomach of one of these fish, which had pulled them down one by one from the surface of the water.

The fish habitually lurks upon the bottom, though it is occasionally seen near the surface. It is sluggish in its ordinary movements, but very quick and ready with its powerful jaws and well fitted by nature for its mode of life. Its margins have long fringes, which sway in the currents like vegetable sea growth, deceiving the unwary prey.—Philadelphia, North American.

Identified Himself.

"Some people have odd ways of identifying themselves," said a disgusted westerner visiting New York. "The other night a man came up to me in my hotel and claimed old time acquaintance. I saw visions of the confidence game at once and fought shy. How do you think he convinced me? Well, sir, he finally pulled out one of his eyes. Yes, sir, he did. It was a glass eye, of course, but I then realized his peculiar affliction despite a greatly altered appearance. But, do you know, it wasn't a pleasant performance. In fact, I suggested that he ought to carry a duly certified identification card."—New York Globe.

Expensive Modesty.

"What's the matter, old man? You look sad."
"I am. I just asked Farnsworth to lend me $5."
"And I suppose he said he didn't have that much in the world."
"No. He had to get a ten dollar bill changed in order to let me have what I had asked for."

Points of View.

"Beautiful memorial windows," remarked her husband as they left the church.
"I didn't notice particularly," said his wife, "but the light from it fell on the Jones pew, and it made her complexion a fright."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Keely's.

"Are you interested in the vital issue of the hour?"
"Intensely. Say, can you lend me 50 cents to get some lynch?"—Baltimore American.

Now's the only bird lays eggs o' gold.—Jewell.
