INVESTIGATORS SENT TO IRON RANGE BY GOV. JOHNSON.

PETRIELLA IS WARNED

Gov. Johnson said "Deliberate Violence to Retain to Work—Neither of Their Demands is Conceded."

St. Paul, Minn.—After a consultation with his advisers Wednesday afternoon, Gov. Johnson decided to send personal representatives to the iron range to investigate and report to him whether or not it would be desirable to send state troops there. The governor's reports regarding the situation have been of so conflicting a character that this course of action was deemed necessary.

The companies of the First regiment, most of whom are located in the Twin cities, practically have been under waiting orders for several days. Adj. Gen. Wood returned from Camp Lake View Wednesday.

Gov. Johnson said Wednesday night that he had sent three men to the iron range to investigate conditions, but declined to give their names. The governor in the afternoon went following to Petriella the miners' leader, in answer to a telegram from Petriella.

St. Paul, Minn., July 31, 1907. T. Petriella, the mining companies state that it is not true that they have refused to pay the men their June wages; that they are willing to pay all the men anything coming to them; they also insist that the little fellow answered, "I'm just waiting till you get up. A man palated that beach about fifteen minutes ago."

WAITING FOR THE FUN.

Youngster Had Reason to Expect "Something 'Woud Happen."

An old gentleman, rather portly and clad in a somewhat youthful suit of light gray flannel, sat on a bench in the park enjoying the day, relates the Woman's Home Companion.

"What's that matter, scamp?" he asked a smallurchin who lay on the grass just across the walk and stared intently. "Why don't you go and play?"

"Don't waster," the boy replied. "But it is not natural," the old gentleman insisted, "for a boy to be so quiet. Why don't you run about?"

FIVE FALL INTO GRAVE.

Remarkable Incident That Disturbed Solemnity of Funeral.

Instead of the accustomed quiet which prevails at the burial of the dead, a great excitement and fever attended the burial the other day of Michael Sarano, a prominent merchant of Westport.

The final prayer had been said by the preacher, and the assistant to the undertaker stepped to the foot of the coffin to arrange the ropes for lowering the coffin into the grave.

They were pulled out, the coffin was dug out and laid flat, and after the grave had been ready the burial was completed.—N. Y. Press.

DEATH IN A NEW GUISE.

Scheme That Landed a Hungarian Judge in Town Jail.

In a little village on the Hungarian frontier, not far from Presburg, a peasant woman recently received $40 from her husband in America.

The bank official was somewhat surprised, and asked for an explanation, when she said that Death had threatened to take her away with him unless she had the 400 crowns ready for him the next night.

The postmaster was communicated with, and when "Death" made his promised appearance he was found to be very much alive, in the person of the local judge.

They were pulled out, the coffin was dug out and laid flat, and after the grave had been ready the burial was completed.—N. Y. Press.
