QUENTIN'S CORNERS
Barrington
Local Happenings Told
In Short Paragraphs

Herman Junker has put a cement floor in his barn.

Mrs. John Witt has been quite sick but is on the gain.

J. G. Bener made a business call at Waukegan Tuesday.

H. C. Hoekelman and family of Palatine called at the Corners Sunday.

W. H. Smith has gone on a business trip to Dwight, Illinois.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer was christened Sunday.

Miss Emma Frieda Wiehart has returned home from a visit with Chicago relatives.

Samuel Landwehr and family of Barrington called on William Theis and family Sunday.

Misses Alice Theis and Lydia Quentinn smiled at Lake Zurich among friends last Monday.

Henry Popp had the misfortune to lose a young team of good horses this summer in low trouble.

The Barrington telephone line has put in more wires from the main line to the corners, making eight in all.

We are sorry to report that Fred Kropp, Sr., has been under the doctor's care all summer for eye troubles and is still in bad condition.

William Theis, our gentleman cheese and butter maker, is making daily trips to the Lake Zurich creamery and assisting in the work there.

William Hebel of Barrington placed a cartload of new milk cows Saturday at the corners and sold them in twenty-four hours at a private sale.

John Hoekelman, Jr., and wife of Trasky, Pikestone county, Minnesota, returned to their home Tuesday after a month's visit with relatives and old friends.

Fred Fedler and wife have returned home from Holton, Ripley County, Indiana, and have taken the management of the Wauconda cheese factory. Fred is an in and out full cheese and butter maker.

Private Sale.
On account of leaving Barrington, Mr. and Mrs. George Church of Grove avenue, will sell at a private sale on September 16th, 17th and 18th, beginning at nine o'clock each morning, household furniture consisting of dining table and chairs, beds, mattresses, springs, dressers, dressing table, oil paintings, rugs, book-case, davenport, lady's writing desk, ice box, Morris chair, etc. These articles were purchased new a few months ago and will be sold at a great sacrifice. Also, six tons of large egg coal at purchase price.

Me and My Father.
The conventional traveler flicked the dust off his boots, straightened his tie and entered the emporium of Mr. Brown, the village grocer. He was new to the district, otherwise he would not have made the error which he now divulge.

Behind the counter was a young gentleman of fourteen, with bulging eyes and a high collar. To him the traveler addressed himself.

"My boy," he said, "is Mr. Brown in?"

"'Tis Mr. Brown," the boy replied.

"But possible you want to see old Mr. Brown, my father. I'll get him."

And as the boy went in search of his prematurely aged parent it dawned upon the traveler that this is indeed an age of young men.—London Answers.

Ideals.
She kissed her hand.
She withdrew it hastily and gazed reproachfully at him.
"I think it of you," she said, "almost tearfully. I had always considered you a young man with ideals, and she said bitterly, "I certainly expected you to aim higher."
So he took heart and made new resolutions and things.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Safe.
Mrs. Smith—Yes, my little five-year-old girl is a great help in my house-keeping. Mrs. Randall—Why, what can such a child do to help? Mrs. Smith—She goes down and tells the cook for me whenever we're going to have company.—Harper's Bazar.

Delicately Put.
He would not say that she palated, powdered and all that. He was too much of a gentleman for that.

"But I think it of you," she said, "almost tearfully. I had always considered you a young man with ideals, and she said bitterly, "I certainly expected you to aim higher."
So he took heart and made new resolutions and things.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Plagiarist.
"Father," said Rollo, "what is a plagiarist?"
"A plagiarist, my son, is a kleptomaniac who lacks the courage to take anything which the police could be called on to protect."—Washington Star.

A man can know nothing of mankind without knowing something of himself.—Beaconsfield.

"What is meant, pa, by 'carrying coals to Newcastle?'"
"A woman studying languages, my son."—New York Press.
