A. D. Parsons last Sunday, returning Sunday evening with pleasant thoughts of Wauconda.

Miss May Malman entertained a few of her young lady friends last Friday evening the 13th inst., it being the 16th anniversary of her birth.

Work on the new Village Hall is being rushed and the contractors hope to have the building completed early in November.

In one of the finest games of base ball ever seen in this vicinity, Wauconda's hustling team of ball-throwers trimmed the Libertyville Hamblers last Sunday afternoon by the tight score of 3 to 2.

The word "Poultry," Poultry, according to the definition given in one standard encyclopaedia, includes "the whole of the domesticated birds reclaimed by man for the sake of their flesh and their eggs."

An Unmentioned Ancestor. Mr. B. is very proud of his ancient lineage and never lets slip an opportunity to boast of it.

His Big Score. Beginner at Golf. How many have I taken, my boy? It is fifteen or sixteen? Disgusted Caddy—Ach, I dinna ken. It's no a caddy ye need; it's a billiard marker.—People's Journal.

We Saw the Game.

The office boy had buried countless grandmothers, brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, but he felt an exclusion for the baseball game that day which would not be downed.

Suddenly an idea struck him. Approaching the easy been with an air of familiarity which had been nurtured by long usage he asked: "May I leave at noon today, sir?"

"And who, my boy?" "There is a fancy fair at our church and mother wants me to go this afternoon. She was so anxious that she brought me a ticket which cost a dollar, as she was sure you would allow me the few hours off. I have to assist at the refreshment stall, and it seems a pity to waste—"

"But surely you see above such things as that which take you away from your work. Why not give the ticket to one of your sisters?" "Well, you see, sir, that wouldn't be fair, for I'm the only one of our family who can be depended upon to eat a dollar's worth, and—"

An English Amenity. A striking difference between our managers and those of our English countrymen is that on a garden party, the hostess, an American, was speaking to one of her guests, an Englishwoman of rank.

Chance For a Home Run. A clever teacher who has the power of calling out originality in her pupils says that she would have no use for text books if she took time to answer all the startling questions asked in the classroom.

Her Supposition. In the Beecher family the name of Mrs. Stowe was often quoted to the rising generation as one having authority. She was also quoted as naïvely, it would seem from a story told by the Woman's Journal.

Very Nicely Done.

Gallant Man (aside)—At last I have her all to myself. Now I can tell her how I love her and ask her to be mine. How shall I do it, I wonder?

Gentle Maid (behind her fan)—It is surely coming. I know he is going to be terribly dramatic. I do hope I shan't have to help him up off his knees. Goodness, why doesn't he say something? I must break this horrible silence. (Aside, recklessly) Have you ever been abroad?

Gallant Man (smiling)—No, I'm saving it for a wedding tour. Gentle Maid (demurely)—Why, how funny? so am I.

Where Animals Beat Men. "Nature taking aside" said the zoo keeper, "mice won't eat cats. It is a fact. Lay a pat of omelette and a pat of butter side by side in the morning the butter will be eaten, but the omelette will remain untouched."

By the way, my shoemaker is a musician, and he likes musicians for his customers to judge by the following, stuck up in his window: "If you are Schubert (shoeborn) come to the Schumann, and if your parrot allow it, come back, and come Offenbach when you're out Chopin."

Humorous Chinese Graft.

A certain Chinese (magistrate) having told his men to have two ingots of gold sent to his treasury for purchase, the shopmen brought them in and in answer to the query of the tax-told him that the price was so much in fact, but added, "This is the ordinary price, but for your honor we will knock off one-half of the price."

Then the tax-told said to his underlings: "Seeing that they are so sell to me at only one-half price, just give them back one ingot of gold and put the other in my treasury, and thus their account is settled. Good!" So the underlings of the yamen did so, but still the shopmen hung around waiting. The tax-told asked them why they were waiting, when their account had been already settled.

It would require, according to the calculations of a scientist, the power of a 10,000 horsepower engine about 70,000,000 years to lift the earth a foot in height, and to do this work, allowing thirteen pounds of water per horsepower per foot long, would require some 10,000,000,000,000,000 gallons of water, or more than would be discharged at the mouth of the Mississippi in 6,000 years.
