Mrs. Campon of Harvard was buried here Monday morning. A short service was held at the M. E. church, after which the remains were laid to rest in Hillside cemetery. Mrs. Cannon was the mother of Era Cannon of Barrington, who is very well known by our people on the Chicago & Northwestern trains.

"They Say."

THAT people who live for public pproval often die of private chagris.

THAT the worst feature about losing re's temper is that it refuses to stay

That the won in who continually wears an accordian-plaited face is one who is continually borrowing trouble.

THAT the busy man has more attend to duties than the idler.

That failure does not necessarily imply incapacity or weakness. Many of the men of to-day failed and were weaklings a few years ago, but have shoot recomped by their aggrestive and newerful softers. If you fail once, keep in yose courage and try again.

Presecution Wins Case.

The suit brought by H. J. Lagesbuilte and Wm. Peters of the License Committee of the Village of Barrington, charging that J. H. Forbes, conducting a licensed dram shop on Main street, failed to remove all "obseruetions" from the windows in front of his place of business on Sanday, August 1th, came to trial last Friday afteroom before Police Magristraje Arnett Lines.

Walter J. Miller, attorpey for the Sunday Closing League of Chicago assisted by Mr. Quayie of Lake Forest, who is secretary of the Lake County Law and Order League, conducted the frosecution. Attorpey M.
W. Bell of Chicago conducted the defense.

The year book shows excellent programs with meetings held on alternate Thursdays. Among the lines of study through the year will be the history of Illinois. Mrs. F. E. Lines will begin this sub-ject with a paper on "Preparing for the future inevitable history of Illinois."

the future inevitable history of Illinois."

The club numbers about twenty-five ladies and is in good standing in the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. It was organized March 25, 1965 by Meedames Clark McIntosh, M. T. Lamey, Hannah Powers and T. J. Held, with forty-three members of whom a great number have grooved from Barrington. It has accomplished considerable in charity, social and study work and surfived the friction always current in new clubs, to which every old club looks back with toleration for its early defects.

"She Certainly Will Appreciate It; She Certainly Will."

Have you read "The Southern Maiden's Repty?" It is a touching little love poem by Mr. Charles Frederick Stansbury, now going the rounds. Under the magnolias the youth is telling his love in language hot as lava from Vesuvius. He speaks thoughts that breathe in words that burn to the extent of about thirty lines of verse.

One of the things that women certainly do appreciate a full page advertise-ment of bargains in a store near enough for them to visit. In the big cities such pages appear daily. Why? Because the merchants know that the women appreciate it. They certainly do know it.

All women are very appreciative in the matter of shopping bar-gains. They are so ap-preciative that they make mental note of the things they want, as advertised, and make a bee line for the store that keeps those things on hand and lets them know about it.

If the merchants in the smaller cities and towns—this-one, for in-stance—would do more of this kind of advertising, the women certainly would appreciate it; they certainly

AND THE MERCHANTS CERTAINLY WOULD BE BENE-FITED! THEY CERTAINLY WOULD.

Advanced Vaudeville.

The Majestle Theatre, Chicago, announces that boving to the remarkable ancess of Mr. Robert Killlard during his opendir week when, he played the besuitful deams entitled. "As a Man Sows" he was immediately re-engaged for a second week in order that the multitudes might have still further opportunity of seeing this fine dramatic work, Mr. Hillardhan been so long recognized as one of the leading actors of the country that his success in this instance did not occasion surfixed by the still further perhaps, in his play than he has been on some other creations, and this in a measure accounts for the triumph achevised by him at the Majestic. A contrasting feature of the gew bill will be McManon's Poiliant Powing Maids, a very unappy condensed junished country with a full countriement of scenery, pretty girls and smart comedians who sine and dates in a very claims who sine and dates in a very Maids, a very supply condensed mustical comedy with a full compliment of scenery, bretty girls and smart concidans who sing and dance in a very pleasing manner and creat the amosphere of missical comedy without wastingthe entire evening in the effort. In a musical way Genarro's Band of twenty the instruments wijle decided by the feature of the programme. This famous military orginization which usually supplies the entire entertainment wherever it is engaged will be one inclident at the Majestic, where, however, it is certain to be appreciated by all who enjoy brilliant and spirited music. The Feur Golden Graces, a famous Eoropean combination of artists who pose in classic groups will prove a treat to all who can realize the value of plastic bequity. It is, a high class novelty bearing the endorsement of all Germany and having no relation to those vulgar living pictures which have been east out from all respectable theatres.
