VOL. 23, NO. 32.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1907

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

REV. O. F. MATTISON

New Pastor of the Barrington M. E. Church. Short Auto-biography.

Rev. O. F. Mattison, the new pastor of the Barrington Methodist church, came here from the Central Street Methodist church at Evanston, Illinois. He has been a pastor in the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church since 1871 and has served during that time, some of the leading churches in the Conference. The length of time of his pastoral have varied from two to six years.

Mr. Mattison, though born in Georgia has spent most of his life in Illinois, coming with his parents to this State when but a lad.

He received his education mainly at the Rock River Seminary in Ogle county, Illinois. Here he engaged in teaching for several years and was for two years the Associate Principal of this school. Subsequently he was for three years a Professor in the Illinois Soldiers' College at Fulton, Illinois. His degree of Master of Arts came to him from the Northwestern University at Evanston. Five of his six children are graduates of the same school.

As a pastor, Rev. Mattison has been uniformly successful always winning the hearts of his people, and the confidence and co-operation of the young people. In his ministerial work he has been ably supported by his good wife, a lady whose praise is in all the churches he has served.

Mr. Mattison is friendly in his disposition, easy to get acquainted with and has a lively interest in everything that makes for the good of the community in which he lives. He is pleased with Barrington hopes to be a help in promoting God's Kingdom in our midst.

Advanced Vaudeville

For the week of October 28th the Majestic Theatre, Chicago, will offer a bill with Cecil Lean and Florence Holbrook as the headliner. This is the first venture of this couple in Vaudeville, their previous efforts having been confined to musical comedy. In the productions at the LaSalle theatre where Mrs. Lean and Miss Holbrook were the principal entertainers they were extremely successful and during the long runs of the "Embrace" and "The Time Has Passed and the City" they achieved a popularity greater than was ever accorded to any musical stock company favorite. In fact the success of these plays have in a large measure been due to their personal popularity. For their vaudeville debut Mr. Lean has written a musical play which he calls "A Most a Musical Comedy." It requires a series of ten people, most of them pretty girls, who can sing and dance in a pleasing manner. Of course ample opportunity will be given for Mr. Lean and Miss Holbrook to display their abilities as entertainers and the act promises to be one of the most elaborate yet presented on the vaudeville stage.

A Legal Question.

Barrington, Ill., October 23, 1907.

Barrington Review: Please publish and answer this question:—Is it legal for the majority of the jurymen on a corner's jury to be relatives of the deceased?

A. K. SMITH.

Three practicing lawyers of Barrington state that it is considered legal and sometimes occurs, but might be open to question if it was thought that the death of the person was desired by relatives, then it would be a matter to take up with the state's attorney.

Auction.

Children's Appetites.

The children's appetites appear to be better than for some time. They are eating a good deal of food and are getting a good deal of sleep.

A Criminal Attack.

on an inoffensive citizen is frequently made in that apparently useless little tube called the "appendix." It is generally the result of protracted constipation, following liver torpor. Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, prevent appendicitis, and establish regular habits of the bowels. 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

Mrs. Ward's New Novel.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps' new novel, "Thought Life Do Part," begins in serial form in the November issue of the Woman's Home Companion. The publication of any novel by the author of "A Singular Life" and "Gates Ajar" is a notable literary event, and the announcement of this new novel in the Woman's Home Companion is sure to be a source of gratification to Mrs. Ward's thousands of admirers. The scene of the story is laid in a fashionable "North Shore" resort near Boston, the country that Mrs. Ward knows and likes best. The opening chapters give promise of a highly dramatic and interesting novel.

M. W. A. Sanitarium.

In the hope of reducing life insurance losses, the executive council of the Modern Woodmen of America has closed a deal for the purchase of 1,000 acres of land adjoining Colorado Springs, known as the Ambler ranch, viewed to erect a sanitarium for the treatment of members of the society afflicted with tuberculosis. The present ranch buildings will be temporarily refitted until new buildings are erected.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drought are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although the children of Cofel, Carl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says, "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold remedy and lung and throat medicine ever known. Guaranteed by Barrington Pharmacy, 25c and 50c.

Autumn Days

They's somepin kinde' bearty-like about the atmosphere,
When the beat of Summer's over and the coolin' fall is here
Of course we miss the flowers, and the blossoms of the trees,
And the mumble of the hummin' birds and the buzzing of the bees;
But th' air's so appetizin' and th' landscape through th' haze
Of a crisp and sunny morning of th' early Autumn days.

Teacher Gone Home.

Miss Olive Herbut left Monday noon for her home in Chicago where she expects to remain for the present. A crowd of grammar and high school scholars went to the depot to bid her good-bye and their demonstrative affection and praise for the young woman were a good proof of her popularity and probable ability to gain control of the school room had she been given a fairer trial than six weeks' time. Her scholarship and ability and manner of a high degree, her personality of the sweetest.

Miss Herbut tendered her resignation to the Board of Education on the grounds of alleged failure to keep order in her classes. It was accepted and the charge of any misconduct thereby withdrawn. A month's salary was also paid and she left here feeling that while her prospects may have been blighted by the occurrence here, she is exonerated from derogatory charges. An attempt has been made to exact an apology from the high school pupils to Miss Cole, the new teacher who remained two days, but the movement failed. Two teachers are now applicants for the position.

A Lesson For Husbands.

A play translated from the French and recently put on the boards in New York has had the usual fling at the ambitious wife and has made a hit. The lesson for wives is well brought out, judging from the many editorial comments upon the play. But the moral for husbands should not be lost sight of while condemning the folly of the wife.

The name of the play, "The Thief," does not fairly indicate the motive of the dramatist. Theft is incidental to the wife's passion for the admiration of her husband. She sees that he has eyes for women who are well dressed and have style, but none for herself. He does not give her the means to dress according to his taste; hence she steals in order to win the attention which she believes her right.

Dresses and good looks are trivial things, and sensible women do not mourn if they do not possess them anything less than the woman who stands in the way of their keeping the affection of their husbands. Seldom do women in this country go so far as did the French wife whose pitiful struggle is depicted in "The Thief." But no doubt there are some American wives whose feelings are bitter and whose impatience is great. They strive in desecrated and doubtful ways to blind themselves and after all to conclude that the game is not worth the candle. Love so gained is generally a poor return for the sacrifice. Women take their husbands as they find them—tail or short, fat or thin, well mannered or uncouth. Husbands who insist that their spouses shall be as attractive as other women should pay the price, at the same time remembering that the wife is no better for her plumpness and that it is only their own eyes which are at fault.

There are nine chances out of ten that Miss Mary Cunningham is as good an American as those who object to her face being placed on our gold coins. In the United States the spelling of a name does not indicate the nationality of the person bearing it. There are descendants of Dutch, German, French and Irish in this country whose ancestors made it their home long before the Revolution. If they are not Americans, then there are no Americans.

A college which lost a university 4 to 0 at football naturally looks down upon such a trifling thing as a $5,000,000 gift with an endowment making $100,000,000.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind." is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that has been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles, too, and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by Barrington Pharmacy 25c.

Brevities.

Little white lies—watch 'em grow. Save your money—all of it. Lovers never spend a cent.

Many a man is good because he is too fat and lazy to keep up the old game.

A patched-up reputation is liable to show the stitches at the most undesirable times.

It is a blamed sight easier to keep the flies clear away from a boy than to get the last one away from a man.

It takes a man longer to stop just a minute "to see a man" than it does a woman "to wait just a minute and I'll be ready."

Love based on nothing but beauty, will soon fade.

Sunday is a day for good deeds, but a few distributed throughout the week often help some.

LECTURE WAS GOOD

An Interesting and Instructive

Lecture on Siberia was Given at the Baptist Church.

Palatine Local News

Capt. S. Alberti, ex-officer of the Russia Army, who lectured on Russia at the Baptist church Wednesday evening was intensely interesting to the audience which did not fill the church, but was a gathering of many of the cultured and progressive people of the town.

The elderly man was pleasing; he appeared in uniform, wearing on his breast official decorations and Masalic emblems. His talk was given in a conversational tone and seemed more to be a story told by a personal friend than a professional lecturer.

The lecture was filled with facts of interest and was most instructive; and could the Masons here promote more such affairs, the influence would be of the best.

Captain Alberti knows Russia in all its topographic, climatic, social and political aspects, being born of Russian-German parentage, educated in Russia, served in her army, exiled to Siberia and escaped to America. Years after becoming an American citizen he returned to Russia to assert property rights, was seized for desertion and exiled again in Russia but while marching with prisoners he gave the masonic "sign of distress" to spectators hoping some Mason would rescue. A Russian officer being a Mason took note and helped the captain to escape.

Moving pictures and stereopticon views of a trip from Chicago to Russia and Siberia were shown.

Zion Church Notes.

The entire property of the church has been treated to a coat of paint, giving it a neat and attractive appearance. William Schmittlage and J. Meiners did the work.

A Woman's Missionary Society was organized October 13th. Nine members signed the constitution and it is expected that quite a number will join at the next meeting to be held on the second Thursday of November at the parsonage. Following are the officers: Pres., Mrs. Edward Wiseman; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Samuel Ehrlich; Recording Sec'y., Mrs. Herman Gieske; Corresponding Sec'y., Mrs. J. Widmer; Treas., Miss Emma Wiseman.

A Cradle Roll was organized last Sunday by the Sunday school. Miss Emma Wiseman was chosen Superintendent of this department.

The Young Peoples' Alliance has decided to purchase one hundred copies of "Hymns for His Praise" which will be used at their meetings hereafter. The Sunday evening meetings are to be conducted in English principally, Miss Clara and Lillian Wilmer are our new members.

Next Sunday will be "Old People's Day" at the Zion church. The regular morning service will be substituted by a program in which the oldest members of the church will take part, telling of the beginning of the work at this place. The choir will render special singing. The society from Miller's Grove has been invited to unite with us in this service. An invitation has been extended to all, especially to those who understand "Deutsch."

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Elzevir Bitters," writes Dr. H. Brunson of Dublin, Ga. "I have taken them for about two years and enjoy as excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Elzevir Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by Barrington Pharmacy 50c.

Arm Broken By Fall.

Herbert Augenstein, the thirteen year old son of Mrs. Carrie Augenstein of Hough street, fell Sunday evening near his home while playing games with his friends and broke both bones in his right forearm. The arm will be useless about a month although it is not painful and getting on all right. Herbert has been collector for the American Express company for some time.
