When Lablache, the fumous operatic singer, was presented to Queen Victoria her majesty, who had heard of the artist's hobby, asked it it was true that he had a large collection of smull-boxes. He replied that it was correct. He had one for every day in the year—305.

"Nevertheless, your collection is not quite complete," was the queen's re-sponse. "Here is another for leap year."—Pearson's Weekly.
