

BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL. 23, NO. 3.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1907.

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

PIERSONS LETTER CONCLUDED

An interesting description of the State Historical Society.

At this time the struggle was for the removal of the Capital farther North near the geographical center of the State. The "Long Nine" are said to have done a great deal of log rolling and trading to secure the Capital for Springfield.

The first in the series of pictures is the old State house at Springfield, which is now used as the Sangamon County Court House.

The second in the series is the building that Mr. Lincoln made his fight for the United States Senate and there his remains lay in state when brought back from Washington to be buried in his own home.

The third picture tells at a glance the story of the unparalleled growth in population and wealth of the state of Illinois.

The fourth picture in the series is that of the present Capitol. It will be remembered that of the five Capitol buildings which the State has owned two at Vandalla were destroyed, one by fire and the other by the paying ability of the State.

A sale of real estate is recorded as follows: Richmond's sub, lots 4 and 5, block 2, March 14, M. Richmond to Emma Stroker, $1,200.

William H. Brown has sold to Michael Nide, S. W. 4 and E. 1, N. W. 1, 12, 42, 10, sec. 24, town, 43, 1000.

The Court of Honor adopts the following resolutions in respectful memory of Brother Henry A. Rohlfmer who died March 11th, and Sister Bertha Wolf who died March 18th.

Resolved, That we as an organization offer to the families our sincerest sympathy and wish that God may console them in their grief.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on our records a copy sent to the widow, Mrs. Rohlfmer and Fred Wolf, husband of Sister Wolf and to the Barrington Review for publication.

JOHN C. PLAQUE, Recorder.

Dumas' "Camille." Dumas' famous play "Camille" is a dramatized novel. The book is called "The Lady with the Camellias" and the author, Alexandre Dumas, Jr., based his central character on Marie Duplessis, a Parisian actress, to whose kindness and patronage he owed much of his early success.

constructed was considered superior in design, material and finish to any similar stairway in the world. The old world and the new have contributed their many colored marbles to the artistic panels of the spacious hallways.

This immense building, with its mighty dome, above which ever floats the stars and stripes, stands in the picture in the Historical Library in contrast with the old Kaskaskia house so great, so marked, that language is inadequate to the description of that contrast. Through the eye alone can the intellect comprehend it.

A New Aid Fable.

This is not a George Ade fable, though it may sling some slang. It is a Home Aid fable. Once there was a Geezer, who sat around and cut Kindling too small for Cook Stove purposes. He Whittled against Time and Flabbergasted against his Town. The town was No Good, he said—strictly on the Blink. Yes, it was N. G. Why hadn't he lived here since '84 and found that the Place was Punky? Sure, Mike!

Look at that town over in the next County. Grown like Jonah's Gourd. Must be a Jonah here. We've grown some, but I don't see that we're knocking any particularly Big Permissims. That's the way this Gazaboo knocked his town.

One day a Saravato Stranger floated into the Town that was knocked from the burg that had had the Geezer.

It took him some time to get over all this Bum business years ago. We passed Resolutions that we would trade and help our own town to spread out so that you could find it on the map in the next Glasses. But you and a bunch of other folks in this town have wanted your Substance in Boston Expeditions in Chicago. We instead of spending it among your home people, have happened to Chicago fifty years ago. We all the First Settlers had shipped their Lungs to Chicago. We had a catalog "Indispensables" as a said drogger now to find the Original Bore from which I here say. What makes the Burg from which I here say.

Whereupon the Whittling Gazaboo drove a few well chosen Thoughts into his mental makeup and went down to the village store to Annex a linen collar in place of the Paper Circle which he had bought from Chicago at Two Bits a Box.

MORAL: If you want your town to grow, patronize home enterprises.

ENTERTAIN PALATINE LODGE

Women's Relief Corps Gave Reception Wednesday Afternoon to Neighboring Corps

General Sweeney Women's Relief Corps, No. 33 of Barrington gave a reception Wednesday afternoon in the Grand Army parlor to the Ladies of Cook County Palatine. Nineteen ladies of the neighboring corps came on the three o'clock train in response to the invitation extended.

The first part of the gathering was passed in regulation corps work and an address of welcome was spoken by Mrs. Hannah Powers, president of the corps.

During the hour of conversation many acquaintances were made and renewed. A supper was the next enjoyment of the meeting and a credit to the committee in charge. It was pronounced very fine, in quantity and service.

The Palatine ladies were Mesdames H. Stroker, G. Arps, W. Ost, W. Vogt, C. Julian, C. Babcock, J. Umbrichter, P. J. Pillert, H. Matthel, A. Mosier, A. Mundhenke, F. Gibbs, A. Smith, M. Reynolds, Deane and Peery; and the Misses H. Schindling, E. Arps and D. Wilson.

Cook County Wins

The bowling tournament of three meetings at the Thies alley between Cook and Lake Counties was finished Thursday night with Cook County winning by sixty-seven pins. The players and spectators have been much interested in games.

Election Will Be Quiet

The approaching village caucus is not causing much excitement. Everything is very quiet. The names of candidates are generally known but no open announcements have been made.

Each voter should think out for himself the merits of each candidate, not by prejudice and favoritism, but by the value of the man. What has been his record in honest dealings, intelligence, and hard work? Has he accomplished anything in life through his own efforts? Is he a gentleman? Does he know enough to fill the office? Does he know the village laws? Or is he deficient in such knowledge? What has he done to help the town? Is his word good? Can you trust him? On the whole is he "Square"?

Her Glance Backward. In a moment each long past midnight a robust, motherly woman sat with a well grown boy of about fifteen beside her. The boy had fallen asleep, and his head rested heavily against her shoulder.

"Don't wake him," she pleaded. "He's so big now that he is ashamed of his little things. This is his first time in a year that he has been gay baby time again. Let me enjoy it!" -New York Globe.

Balls and Money

A thousand men can go to work at 7 o'clock in the morning without the ringing of a bell, and why is it that 200 people can assemble in a church without a previous ding-donging leading half an hour? -Detroit Free Press.

Why, man, it's because they get out at 7 o'clock to get money. Put a twenty dollar gold piece in each party's pocket and you may sell your bell for the old metal. -Louisville Courier-Journal.

Village Election.

Dear Review:

Your humble servant was in Chicago last Monday, and had the pleasure of a chat with quite a number of prominent G. A. R. men who "met by chance the usual way" at Memorial hall; among whom were: Charles A. Partridge, Asst. Adjt. Gen'l.; R. H. Peters, a Commander of Thomas Post No. 5; Thos. H. Gault, Jr. Post Commander; Chas. W. Pierce, Q. M.; S. D. Pierce, O. A. R. of Thomas No. 5; W. H. Rose, Secy. of Relief No. Association and several others.

Of course sociability abounded and fraternal prevailed. I also had the pleasure and good fortune of engaging a speaker for memorial day. Your readers will want to know who it is, but we will furnish a special for a while. He is one who is well known and well liked and will have a fine entertainment soon and everybody should keep a little loan change on hand until the tickets get around. The Post needs a little revenue and will furnish a pleasant evening in exchange. More soon.

COMMANDER H. H. HUBBARD.

Not a Diplomat.

Lady-Yes, I want a good parter maid. Why did you leave your last parter maid? Applicant—The missus was too bossy, ma'am.

Lady-Too bossy! Applicant—Yes, ma'am. She was always telling me to do things instead of asking me to do 'em.—Houston Post.
