MEMORIAL EXERCISES

In The Day and Evening. The Speaking, the Entertainment, Etc.

Memorial Day was appropriately observed in Barrington. Weather conditions were fine, until late afternoon and all enjoyed a pleasant, sunny day which has not been granted on May 30th for several years. The morning was devoted to exercises in the cemetery to which the Grand Army members with the Woman's Relief Corps and the school children marched at ten o'clock with flying flags, headed by the Barrington Cornet band. Not a grave was forgotten in the distribution of floral tributes.

The ranks of our post are not as long as we used to be in Barrington and it is an impressive sight to watch the venerable veterans bowed with uncovered heads over the graves of the companions of a few years ago. Each soldier in his G. A. R. uniform was this year accompanied on either side by young misses in white gowns.

The program for the morning was brought to a close around the graves of the late Leroy Powers where Commander Hubbard gave a short address that received respectful attention and the Relief Corps assisted this year with songs and recitations.

Moving back to the down town district, the procession halted at the depot to await the arrival of Judge C. S. Cutting of Chicago, the speaker of the afternoon and then, returning to the G. A. R. hall, broke line. In the hall a dinner was served by the W. R. C. to the "Old Boys in Blue" that was plentiful and pleasing.

Forming in line at one thirty o'clock the Post escorted by the Cornet band proceeded to Zion church which was soon completely filled with those whose loyalty to the army boys and our country prompted them to attend. Commander Hubbard was in charge of the program which was opened by Rev. Haefele with prayer, instrumental and vocal music were several numbers of the program. Judge Cutting is a speaker of such splendid presence and delivery that his name on a program is always an assurance of a fine and eloquent speech. His fame has gone beyond his Chicago home where he is considered one of the city's most influential and best informed citizens, whose rise in legal circles has been well deserved.

Judge Cutting spoke particularly of the different motives that have fastigated the wars in history, dwelling on useless conflicts in many countries which resulted in no permanent good and he contrasted the lasting and far-reaching beneficial effects of the Civil War with those fought at the whim and fancies of kings. The heroism and bravery of the Civil War is unsurpassed by any records, for the souls of men were tried not only by suffering and death, but by sorrow occasioned by the fighting between National brothers, "Americans vs. Americans" made a more deadly combat than that which Greek meets Greek, than that which Persian expels the Mede, as an historical perspective is used.

Mr. Cutting dwelt particularly on the horrors and results of the battle of Shiloh on whose battlefield he had himself trod within a month's time because of the 27 Illinois regiments of infantry the Illinois batteries of artillery and the 8 Illinois squadrons of cavalry therein engaged of which 3,000 men were killed or wounded.

Pathetic incidents were related and famous poems read to illustrate the point the Judge wished to bring out. Passing on to a review of conditions in our country today, the gentleman earnestly pleaded that our citizens might remember the lessons of the war and cope with intelligent and honest purpose in the great battle of our time against corrupt government, the price of liberty against evil. He pointed to the green mounds in the cemetery as silent reminders of the bravery of the men who gave life and limb to eradicate an evil reining the country.

The short but pointed, convincing and scholarly talk of Judge Cutting was thoroughly impressive to all who listened.

THE PLAY

After duly considering the rather large number of amateur plays that have been given in Barrington in the past five years, it is felt to say that the war drama "From Sumner to Appomattox" played here Thursday night by local young people for the benefit of the Woman's Relief Corps, was unsurpassed the best little show of all. It is stated that a hundred people were refused admittance on account of lack of room, and Odd Fellows hall was taxed to its utmost seating capacity. A very fine new idea was noticed in seating people in this hall by the erection of a raised platform at the rear, which gave a better view to those seated there and made a splendid location for the Barrington Cornet Band which played delightful, lively music.

Mrs. M. L. Spunner drilled the cast, and with natural ability and encouraging instruction the young people who have appeared before many times, are

The Ancient Art Of Helping Yourself.

Ever go to a Sunday school picnic when you were a boy? Course you did.

Remember how all the women folks used to spread the tablecloth out to end on the grass, then dump 'em thick with the best eatables you ever ate? My! Fried chicken 'bout every two foot, with roll jelly cake in between. Well, yes!

Recollect how the Superintendent would stick his handkerchief under his collar and say cheerfully: "Now all help yourself."

Then everybody fell to and helped himself. If you were a timid boy and held back till all the chicken was gobbled up, you regretted it—you regret it still. You didn't help yourself, and nobody else helped you.

Remember that picnic when the gang used to go along and lit into the fried fowl? City chaps are always hungry. They helped themselves, and there wasn't anything left for the town boys but the bones.

Life is a picnic. Not a Sunday school picnic—not exactly. But it's a picnic dinner all the same. The feast is spread for you. Everybody help himself now!

SUPPOSE YOU'RE A MERCHANT IN THIS TOWN. THERE'S FRIED CHICKEN AND ROLL JELLY CAKE ALL AROUND YOU, BUT YOU GET NOTHING OUT OF IT UNTIL YOU SNATCH IT RIGHT FROM UNDER YOUR NOSE. ALL YOU GET IS THE BONES AND SCRAPS.

The city fellows are helping themselves. They reach out long lines—the mail order monthly and the price catalogue—and pick up the choice bits. Why don't you get in the act of advertising in your local paper, dive in head of the gang from outside, get there first and help yourself to the chicken?

"Now all help yourself!"

A Growing Industry.

The Stott green house has been a busy place for the past two months filling special orders and as Decoration Day approached Mr. Stott and his helpers worked until midnight every night to finish preparations for shipment. Besides orders of potted plants and hundreds of young plants, fourteen thousand carnations were shipped for Decoration Day orders alone.

The growth in this business which was only established a year ago last November is probably realized by people in general. Daily orders are filled for Chicago and suburban towns, while Elgin, Dundee, Woodstock, Harvard, Waukegan, McHenry, Wauconda and smaller surrounding towns place many orders for all kind of cut flowers and plants. Shipments to Milwaukee have been frequent and several have gone from here to Denver, Colorado.

This side patronage for a business so recently undertaken is gratifying to Mr. Stott whose labors have been unceasing in making a successful venture of his new industry.

Will March Together.

An excellent plan has been adopted by the various fraternity lodges of Barrington in regard to their Memorial days this year. Instead of each lodge observing separately a day to honor their respective dead, they will join in "Fraternity Memorial Day" on this coming Sunday, June 2nd. Each lodge will meet in its hall at one o'clock in the afternoon and proceed to the grounds in front of Woodmen hall where a line of march will be formed, regard to membership and Evergreen Cemetery. A program of music, songs and speeches has been prepared with Attorney A. J. Redmond of Chicago as the principal speaker. The lodges participating will be the Woodmen, Odd Fellows, Knights of the Globe and the Court of Honor.

Australia holds an odd record. For nearly a thousand miles along her south coast a single stream reaches the sea.

Advanced Vaudeville.

For the week of June and the great Maipole theatre, Chicago, will offer notable attractions, headed by the famous Palatines Orchestra of Boston, an organization composed of twenty-five talented and beautiful young women. Under the leadership of Miss Caroline H. Nichols it has developed into one of the strongest musical organizations and is always a source of delight to lovers of music. This program is not confined to classical music but contains a number of popular marches as well. Amelia Summersville, whose name has been a familiar one in the amusement world since her first success as "The merry little mountain maid" in one of the Blue extravaganza will be another headliner who will undoubtedly contribute her full share of fun for the enjoyment of the audiences. Miss Summersville is now in the very apex of her career, both from the standpoint of artistic merit and personal charm. She entered the theatrical profession quite early in life and has steadily risen in popularity. She now being considered one of the accomplished comedienne on the stage. Another pleasing number will be Tom Nawn, the celebrated character comedian in his original mythical comedy entitled, "Pat and the Genie." Mr. Nawn and company have but recently returned from Australia where they enjoyed a most successful starring tour, and it is needless to say that they will be equally well received here. Another taking head-liner will be Merril Osborne & Company in the clever play, "Taming an Actress." Alan Dale the noted critic of the New York Journal, says, "Merril Osborne is as clever as Anna Held or Yvette Guilbert," and the French impersonations which she does are said to be perfect. In the past she has been associated with such well known musical comedies as "The Belle of New York," "Fiji" and "The Girl from Maxims."

But in vaudeville she has found a sphere which gives her abilities even more scope than her previous extensive experience in the legitimate, and her success is a matter of course. Julia Kingsley, like Miss Osborne, is a recruit from the dramatic and musical comedy stage and her success in vaudeville has been equally pronounced. With the assistance of Mr. Lewis she will be seen in a clever one act play along the amusing lines of comedy. Among others who will add to the diversion of the Majestic patrons are the Belling Bros., noted bicycle experts, the Kinsons, in a musical oddity and several other pleasing acts.

So long as there are writers of books there will be many who will never resort to the painstaking labor of Wordsworth, as indicated in the journal of Dorothy Wordsworth: "William has come back tired. He has spent all the day in thinking of an adjective for the cuckoo."

THE SUNDAY SERVICES

Of the Churches. Hold Union

Meeting, G. A. R. and

W. R. C. Present.

As the time draws near annually for the honoring of dead soldier heroes with floral tributes to the heart of the old veteran swells with mingled feelings of sweet memories and sad thoughts.

The years passing by are depleting the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic and those who march one Decoration Day to the graves of soldier fathers, may lie beside his former comrades when again May 30th has arrived.

Our local G. A. R. numbers the same as last year this season, owing to new members having joined the Post, but it is with great sorrow that we recall the fact that since a year ago, three loved and respected veterans of Barrington answered to the roll-call of the vast army gone beyond, Leroy Powers, Lawson Elvidge and David Meyer.

On Sunday last there were present at the morning services in the Methodist church twelve old soldiers of General Sweney Post and about twenty-five ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps who had marched from the G. A. R. hall to the church at ten thirty o'clock. Several of the churches had joined in a union meeting and the pastors assisted in the service.

Rev. Phelps of the Baptist church led in prayer of fervent faith and patriotism, Rev. Stanger of St. Paul's church read the scripture lessons and Rev. Lapham of the Methodist church addressed the soldiers and congregation in a talk that was very well liked by all. He spoke mainly of the close relation of religion and patriotism, the wonderful influence exerted over the country by the G. A. R. since its organization and the good words of praise to all who are engaged in fostering love of country in American children. The Methodist choir and the Baptist choir each sang separately two patriotic selections and a young men's quartette were highly pleasing in their singing. "America" was sung by those assembled at the close of the meeting.

Improvement Will be Made.

The Barrington Park Association has assembled something at Jones the $200 subscribed by citizens and the board of trustees for beautifying the grounds about the North-Western depot has been collected and paid over to the treasurer of the North-Western Ry. Co. Sept. Pevsich has advised that work will be commenced at an early date to make the improvement and expense not spared to put the grounds in excellent condition, a fine dilapidated pile and north of the depot will probably be removed if another point less objectionable. (Herald.)

Children's Exercises.

The children in the high and grammar school joined Wednesday afternoon in exercises celebrating Memorial Day which were marked by patriotic recitations by the pupils, the singing of national songs and speeches on patriotism. The entire afternoon was given over to paying tribute to the dead heroes who saved the nation. The rooms were decorated in honor of the occasion. The fostering of love of country in the school children is one of the important and interesting duties of the American school teacher.

The Usual Good Crowd.

Naturally evening at nine o'clock the Barrington club were warmly discouraged by the prospect of having a small crowd at their dance in the Village hall. The rain of the day and muddy roads were accountable but before ten o'clock a nice party had gathered and were enjoying the dancing and before the program was over many arrived from other towns. The fourth party of the series was as successful as those preceding it.

An Evening of Humor.

The graduating class of this year is preparing an entertainment to be given in about ten days and all are urged to watch for the date soon to be announced and plan to go. The program will be entirely humorous with music, songs, monologues, dialogues, jokes and recitations. "A little nonsense now and then, is relished by the best of men."
