FIREMEN CALLED OUT

Fire at Treasurer Jencks' Home

Yesterday. Fire Chief Injured.

Fire broke out in the roof of the residence of Village Treasurer George Jencks yesterday during the noon hour. The fire was caused by a defective flue. Mr. Jencks had noticed that the chimney was afire and had used salt to extinguish the flame. Thinking that there was no further danger he started for his place of business.

At about 12:45 o'clock Mrs. Augustine, a neighbor, discovered that the roof was on fire and gave the alarm to Mrs. Jencks.

The fire department was called and the flames were gotten under control a few minutes after its arrival. The greatest damage was done by water which will probably amount to $280, on building and $150, on household furniture which is fully covered by insurance.

James McKay, chief of the fire department, was struck accidentally by an axe and his head cut quite badly, although not seriously.

A social and business matters were followed by a short talk by Mrs. Emma Arps on the temperance work being done in Kankakee county, Illinois. The following suggestions to the W. C. T. U. in its endeavor here.

Killed by Cave-In.

Paul Jones of Cary Station, aged about twenty-three years, was killed Friday afternoon, January 24th, on the George Brooks farm between Algonquin and Cary by a cave-in of sand and gravel.

A shaft had been sunk to determine the depth of the gravel at that point and Mr. Jones was lowered into the opening to test the quality of gravel. Although precautions were taken to prevent a cave-in, nevertheless, despite all care, the accident occurred and Mr. Jones was buried alive.

Men at once worked to remove the dirt and accomplished the task with the greatest possible speed, but Mr. Jones was dead when reached.

An inquest was held Tuesday morning at Cary with the Mellifery county coroner in charge.

Mr. Jones had made his home for the past four years with Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin of Cary, who had adopted him as a child. He was an orphan, but little was known of his family, beyond the fact that a brother and two sisters are living.

The sisters came to attend the funeral which was held Tuesday afternoon at Cary in the Free Methodist church with burial in the Cary cemetery.

Social Unrest.

"Going" has become a dissipation. Once the church was our social as well as religious center and this was a happy state of affairs. The warm handshaking and sincere greetings formed a feature of the time of worship. Society as we know it today is a great enemy of religion.

We exhaust our emotions and superfluous energies in various ways, satisfy our cravings for recognition and sympathy, with double doses of the pale imitation of friendship which we find at the luncheon or the reception or the big church affair or the club meeting. The Sabbath day finds us worn out with a week of over-entertainment and we hail the opportunity for a little rest.

The business man who is "in the pink" with overstrained nerves all day long is often hatered out in the evening by a socially ambitious wife, who thinks it asking a little too much to insist on his going to church after he has been so good-natured through the week about "funerals."

Mrs. L. A. Powers was hostess for the Thursday club yesterday and gave a luncheon for the ladies.

Mrs. Corrie Kendall arranged the program part of the meeting and supplied each lady with an interesting newspaper or magazine clipping of general and useful information to read aloud. Two guessing contests were analogous one being questions on the Bible and the other a trial at making a good looking doll of a clothespin and tissue paper.

A Fable of the Future.

In 1920 A. D. the Stingiest Man in Stringtown carted his Household Goods to the Depot and bought a ticket for Millionville, the Metropolis.

"Why are you moving to Millionville?" inquired a Citizen.

"To save postage," replied the Stingiest Man. Whereat the Citizen marveled mightily.

Now, be it known that the Stingiest Man in Stringtown was wise in his Day and Generation, for along back in 1907 A. D. or thereabout it became the Settled Habit of the Stringtown people to purchase Large Sheets of Little Stickers bearing portraits of B. Franklin, W. McKinley and other Late Illustrious Ones, which Specimens of Art they straightway stuck on envelopes and sent to a Large and Luring Mail Order Concern in Millionville. Wherefore it came about that the Seven Stores in Stringtown Shut up Shop, one after the other, until along in 1919 A. D. the Stingiest Man found it incumbent upon him to begin purchasing these Small Specimens of Art to present to the Maw of the Monster in Millionville, and the Aforesaid was Simply too Stingy to stand for the Same.

Dance Well Patronized.

The usual disguises were seen at the Royal Neighbors dance last Friday night in the village hall from the prettiest effects to the most ridiculous. Many of the masked were from other towns and not as many Barrington people as other years. But a good crowd was present, too large for comfort in so small a hall, and the Neighbors cleared $27.05 above their expenses which were greater than any generally incurred by dances here.

O'Conner's orchestra of three pieces from Chicago played the finest of dance music and genial, old Mr. O'Conner who is highly pleased the dancers with his singing.

Miss Fern Hutchinson won the prize for the prettiest dressing, wearing a dainty pink dress. The prize was a collar and cuff set. The most dressed "woman" was Edward Vokler who received a glass fruit dish. Fred Plingle, in a brass band uniform, took men's first prize, a card deck in a fancy case, and Henry Rogman, the boy's Union suit.

Spring or Winter?

Sunday is the second of February, known as "Ground Hog Day," when the humble hog issues from his winter quarters and is said to prophesy, by his shadow, an early spring or six weeks of continued winter. The day is a church holiday, known as Candlemas Day, when all holy candles to be used during the year are blessed and distributed among the members of the Catholic church, when a lighted candle signifies that God is the Light of the World.

Cleared 530.

Chicken pie is appetizing food and never fails to make a success of a church or lodge supper when served as the main dish of a menu. The ladies of St. Ann's parish church served a chicken pie supper in Sott's hall Tuesday evening from five until nine o'clock that was very well patronized with receipts of about $30.

Merchandise Car Robbed.

A robbery took place here about ten o'clock Monday night, about which little is known, beyond the fact that while a freight train stopped here for water, a car was broken into and 2,000 cigars stolen. It is thought that strangers committed the theft. Detectives were here from Chicago Tuesday looking for a clue to the robbery.

IS IT AN HONOR?

An Interesting Letter to School Officers From the State Superintendent.

The following letter, in part, from the state superintendent of schools to school directors is worth reading and the notice:

"It is an honor to be a school director? Yes, if the work is done in an honorable way. But the honor of the position depends entirely upon the honorable discharge of its responsibilities. The office will not honor the man unless he honors it."

The position of school director is worthy of the time and attention of the best man or woman in the district. It is no place for the man with an ax to grind. It certainly is not the place to gratify personal greed nor to further selfish ends. It is both a public service and a public trust and one must render the service if one would enjoy the trust.

Are the ways of the school director ways of pleasure and his paths paths of peace? Very rarely. I am sorry to say. Too often, his way is rough and rocky. The district may be slow to recognize the service rendered but your reward for an honest effort in behalf of a better school in your district will be sure and sufficient. It will come to you, sometime in the smile or greeting of a boy or girl on the way to school, sometime in the grateful expressions of appreciative parents, but your large reward will ever be the simple consciousness that you have had the consent regard for the rights of the children in your district.

Of course, you will not overlook the rights of the tax-payer. Property has its rights and you must protect them. You are elected to represent the taxpayer, the state and the children. You will find it well impossible to do your duty so as to satisfy all these interests, but I feel sure that you will make the fewest mistakes and do the most good, if you will make the children and their interests the consideration in all your actions as directors."

F. G. BLAIR, Superintendent.

To the school officers of Lake county:

In consideration of the need of a meeting of the different school officers of the county for consultation and exchange of ideas, we will meet at the school house at Libertyville, Saturday February 1st, morning session opening at 10:30.

There will be short talks by many of the officers of our county and State Superintendent Blair will send two of his assistants, Messrs. T. J. Hoffman and J. C. Thompson. Mr. Hoffman has had years of experience in school work and is a pleasing speaker, he will discuss school buildings, employment of teachers and other important topics. Mr. Thompson is an authority on school law and will be ready to answer questions pertaining to the same.

School officers should avail themselves of the opportunities of this meeting, and be especially at schools are invited. Let us show our appreciation of Supt. Blair's kindness by a large and enthusiastic gathering.

Yours truly,
T. A. SIMMONS, County Supt.

Values Home Paper.

Miss Dunkles, formerly of this place, who lived at the Dodge residence on Main street, writes as follows: DeSmet, S. Dak., Jan. 22, 1908

Editor Harrington Review.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) for another year's subscription of the Review. I do not want to go without the home paper.

I wish the friends in Barrington could be in Dakota this winter to enjoy our beautiful winter. It seems more like spring. Have had only a very few days that seemed at all like winter. There has only been snow enough for a few days light sleighing. It has been a very poor season so far for doctors and coal dealers.

I am yours truly,
Miss Mahala E. Dunkles.
