PRESIDENT AGAIN ASKS PASSAGE OF SEVERAL LAWS.

SENDS SPECIAL MESSAGE

Chief Executive Urges Injunction and National Incorporation Legislation

—Raps Girls Who Marry Foreign Noblemen.

Washington.—Conditions in both the senate and the house were such that the special message of the president, further outlining his views as to legislation, which was sent to congress Monday received but scant attention. The message arrived late in the day and the house was so tied up under its various bills that it could not receive the message, while the senate was in the midst of the consideration of the naval appropriation bill under the ten-minute rule when the document reached that body. Unlike the house, the senate permitted the formal presentation of the message, but by the time the naval bill had been disposed of the house was late and the attendance so small that no attempt was made to read the document.

The message in part: In my message to the congress of March 25, 1908, I outlined certain measures which I believe the majority of our constituents desire to have enacted into law at this time. These measures do not represent by any means all that I would like to see done if our constituents desire that they do represent what I believe can now be done if an earnest effort toward this end is made.

Asks Injunction Legislation. First, as to the power of injunction and of punishment for contempt. In contempt cases, save where immediate action is imperative, the trial should be before a jury. As regards injunctions, some such legislation as that I have previously recommended should be enacted. They are blind who fail to recognize the extreme bitterness caused among large bodies of worthy citizens by the use that has been repeatedly made of the power of injunction in labor disputes. Those in whose judgment we have most right to trust are of the opinion that while much of the complaint against the use of the injunction is unwarranted, yet that it is unquestionably true that in a number of cases this power has been used to the grave injury of the rights of innocent persons. I ask that it be limited in some such way that I have already pointed out in my previous messages, for the very reason that I do not wish to see an embittered effort made to destroy it. It is unwise, stubbornly to refuse to provide against a repetition of the abuses which have caused the present unrest. In a democracy like ours it is to expect permanently to thwart the determination of the great body of our citizens. It may be and often is the highest duty of a court to legislate, or an executive, to resist and defy a gust of popular passion; and most certainly no public servant, whatever may be the consequences to himself, should yield to what he thinks wrong and

Decries Overuse of Injunction. But in a question which is emphatically one of public policy, and the policy which the public demands is that the injunction be applied, and in persistent refusal to grant to a large portion of our people what is right is only too apt in the end to result in causing such irritation that when the right is obtained it is obtained in the course of a movement so ill considered and violent as to be accompanied by such that it is wrong to expect permanently to thwart the determination of the great body of our citizens. It may be and often is the highest duty of a court to legislate, or an executive, to resist and defy a gust of popular passion; and most certainly no public servant, whatever may be the consequences to himself, should yield to what he thinks wrong and

Would Strengthen Trust Law. The strengthening of the anti-trust law is demanded upon both moral and economic grounds. Our purpose in strengthening it is to secure more effective control of the national government over the business use of the vast masses of individual, and especially of corporate, wealth, which at the present time monopolize most of the industrial business of the country; and we believe the control can best be exercised by preventing the accumulation of riches, rather than merely by trying to destroy them when they have already grown. In the highest sense of the word it is a duty for congress to control of the business use of this great wealth is conservative. We are trying to steer a safe middle course, which also will be able to create a class government on the one hand, or a socialistic class government on the other, either of which would be fraught with disaster to our free institutions, state and national. We are trying to avoid alike the evils which would flow from government ownership of the public utilities, by which interstate commerce is chiefly carried on, and the evils which flow from the riot and chaos of unrestricted individuals. There is grave danger to our free institutions in the corrupting influence exercised by great wealth suddenly concentrated in the hands of the few. We would in the same manner try to remedy this danger, in spite of the sullen opposition of these few very powerful men, and with the full purpose to protect them in all their rights at the very time that we require them to deal right fully with others.

Evidence of a Paper Trust. Washington.—Evidence tending to show that there has been unity of action among paper-mills in the matter of fixing the price of paper, as well as an understanding among a number of them shall sell to the customer of another; that contracts for paper could not be obtained for a period longer than one year, and that the price was fixed when that was restricted their output, was presented Monday by John Norris of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, before the house committee.

Camille-Bannerman is Buried. London.—The funeral service of the Church of England was solemnized in Westminster Abbey at noon Monday evening by the Rev. Henry Campbell-Bannerman, premier of Great Britain, who died April 22, in the presence of a large gathering representing the political life of England. After the service a short procession moved from the abbey to Euston station, where a special train took the coffin, some of Sir Henry's relatives and a few of his closest friends to Scotland.

Need National Incorporation. No judicial tribunal has the knowledge or experience to determine in the first place whether a given combination is advisable or necessary in the interest of the public. Some body, whether a commission, or a bureau under the department of commerce and labor, should be given this power. My personal belief is that ultimately we shall have to adopt a national incorporation law, though I am well aware that this may be impossible at present. Over the action of the executive body in which the power is placed the courts should possess merely a power of review analogous to that which obtains in connection with the work of the interstate commerce commission at present. To confer this power would not be a leap in the dark; it would merely be to carry still further the theory of effective government of corporations which was responsible for the creation of the interstate commerce commission and for the enlargement of its powers, and for the creation of the bureau of corporations.

Labor Unions Exempted. So far as labor is engaged in production only, its claims to be exempted from the anti-trust law are sound. This would substantially cover the field of laborers to combine, to strike peacefully, and to enter into trade agreements with the employers. But when labor undertakes in a wrongful manner to prevent the distribution and sale of the products of labor, or by certain forms of the boycott, it has left the field of production, and its action may plainly be seen to determine whether such action is contrary to sound public policy. The heartiest encouragement should be given to the wage-workers to form labor unions and to enter into agreements with their employers; and their right to strike, so long as they act peaceably, must be preserved. But we should sanction neither a boycott nor a black list which would be illegal at common law.

Mite Titled American Evil. Among the many kinds of evil, social, industrial and political, which it is our duty as a nation steadily to combat, there is none at the same time more base and more dangerous than the one which treats the plain and simple rule of honesty with contempt if they interfere with making a profit; and as a nation we cannot be held entitled if we condone such action. The man who preaches hatred of wealth honestly acquired, who incites envy and jealousy and who looks with scorn upon his fellows who by thrift, energy and industry have become men of means, is a menace to the community. But his counterpart in evil is to be found in that particular kind of multimillionaire who is almost the least enviable, and is certainly one of the least admirable of all our citizens; a man of whom it has been well said that his face has grown hard and cruel while his body has grown soft; whose son is a fool and his daughter a foreign princess whose normal pleasures are at best those of tasteless and extravagant luxury, and whose real delight, whose real life work, is the accumulation of power to the most selfish and least elevating form. In the chaos of an absolutely unrestricted commercial individualism under modern conditions, this is a type that becomes prominent as inevitably as the marauder baron became prominent in the physical chaos of the dark ages. We are striving for legislation that will imitate the abuses which give this type its flourishing prominence.

PROHIBITION IS HIT

HOT ATTACK ON MOVEMENT BY RICHARD BARTHOLOTT.

CALLED "DEVILISH DEVICE"

"Fanatics" Are Threatened with a Counter Crusade and Are Accused of Disregarding the Constitution.

Washington.—A spirited attack on prohibition was made Wednesday by Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri before the house committee on the District of Columbia, which has under consideration the Sims bill providing for prohibition in the district. "Prohibition is a devilish device to nail the human family more securely to the cross of King Alcohol," he declared. He also charged that the professional prohibitionists had "corrupted women and children" and that they had "cracked the whip" over state legislatures. "Now," he continued, "they are trying to crack the whip over the congress of the United States. But this attempt we must resist. Above all things we must remember that prohibition does not succeed in its purpose and that it is a dangerous and costly experiment."

Mr. Bartholdt intimated that if the prohibitionists kept up their crusade against the movement may do some crusading themselves. "If this thing goes on," he said, "if these prohibitionists open the Pandora's box of government inquiry and prohibition, we may go still farther than ever they intended. We may investigate whether or not many American homes are deserted because the wives and mothers spend their time on the streets and on the hustings agitating for prohibition. We may try to ascertain whether or not many of the so-called temperance drinks which are consumed by American women in sickening quantities are alcoholic, and do endless harm."

San Francisco.—Warned that a number of Koreans in San Francisco were preparing to assassinate the Bishop of Frisco, the Rev. J. J. The Koreans, who were a majority of the Republican members and which is the measure that will be presented to the conference of the Republicans in the house, is to be held within a few days, nothing is left of the Aldrich currency bill except the provision for the payment of interest on government deposits in national banks. The provisions for the issuance of emergency currency on corporate bonds are entirely swept away.

Gott shot and killed Dr. Danziger three months ago during the doctor's visit to Anna Spangler, the 16-year-old niece of Gott. It was the announced opinion of alienists that Gott killed the physician during an attack of temporary insanity caused by one of what may be true about Dr. Danziger by the girl.

OTHER REMARKABLE CURES.

Mr. Jacob L. Davis, Galena, Stone County, Mo., writes: "I have been in bad health for thirty-seven years, and after taking twelve bottles of your Peru-na I am cured." Mr. C. N. Peterson, 323 South Main St., Council Bluffs, Iowa, writes: "I cannot tell you how much good Peru-na has done me. Constant confinement in my store began to tell on my health, and I felt that I was gradually breaking down. I tried several remedies, but obtained no permanent relief until I took Peru-na. I felt better immediately, and five bottles restored me to complete health."

A SINCERE RECOMMENDATION.

Mr. D. C. Crosser, Brvo, Allegan Co., Mich., writes: "Two years ago I was badly afflicted with catarrh of the stomach. I had a run of typhoid fever, was very debilitated. I could find nothing I could eat without causing distress and sour stomach. Finally I came to the conclusion that I had catarrh of the stomach and seeing Peru-na advertised, began to take it. It helped me soon, and after taking three or four bottles I was entirely cured of stomach trouble, and can now eat anything."
