Sixty Years a King.
Much of the splendor appropriate to a celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of Francis Joseph's accession to the throne of Austria (Dec. 2, 1848) was discounted by the observances in the capital of the empire in May and June last. The people of Austria and Hungary have made the year rather than the day of coronation significant. Sixty years is a long reign. Those who have achieved it or surpassed it are usually among the notable figures of history. Among the latter it is of interest to recall Queen Victoria of England, who reigned sixty-three years, from 1837 to 1901, and Louis XIV., who wielded the destinies of France seventy-two years, from 1643 to 1715.

In point of fact the reigns of both Queen Victoria and Emperor Francis Joseph were longer than that of the noted French king. A remedy ruled for the infant king for eight years, and although he is assumed to have reigned from the age of thirteen, his rule was only nominal. Victoria was elected when she ascended the throne and Francis Joseph the same age when he took up the scepter during a period of revolutionary excitement in 1848. Francis had a troubled reign. Last year his health was critical, and his countrymen were surprised when he rallied to greet the German princes in his palace last May and to attend the ordeal of a three days' review of the historical pageantry which was the chief feature of the year's anniversary ceremonies the following month.

The letting of the contract in October for deepening Dismal Swamp canal started on its course another deep waterway project of national importance. This canal connects the waters of Chesapeake bay with the sounds of North Carolina and is practically a link in the great inland shipway from Florida to New England. When completed this route will enable vessels of commerce to avoid the stormy passes of our eastern coast and will be serviceable to the navy in time of war.

Uncle Sam is asked to put $35,000,000 more into Panama canal work in 1900, and if a vote on the budget is returned he can just cast one ballot for the entire nation.

Some people would be glad to see "country board" upfitted while Roosevelt's commission is on that job.

Sometimes, after a man has found himself, the main proposition involved seems smaller than ever before.

"Fighting Bob" Evans has reversed an all too popular precedent by fighting first and talking afterward.

Talk about "The White House princess" is still in order for any who incline that way.

Personal liberty has the right of the whole road, but only on one side at a time. Even a landslide must balk a bit when it strikes dead level.

REID TALKS OF JUDGE TAFT
Tells Britishers He Will Be an Able Successor to the Present President.

London, Nov. 5.—Willelmus Beld, United States ambassador, was the guest of honor at the Atlantic Union dinner to celebrate the establishment of penny postage between American and Great Britain. Speaking of the election of Taft the ambassador said: "The character and interests of the president-elect give the highest guarantee that the most powerful and most popular president since Lincoln is to have a bold and able successor trained to the business and quite competent to continue the great record made by recent administrations."

"Mr. Taft was brought up in an atmosphere of honorable public service, and no American doubts that his experience fits him for his new post. The mounting admiration will pursue the same policy with which you are familiar." After speaking of those who brought about penny postage Beld said that everybody will wish success for J. Henkleur Heaton in his crusade for a penny-a-word cable rate.

Island Home Bank Fails.
Providence, Nov. 5.—With the approval of the Rhode Island state board of bank corporations, William T. Goodwin, the state bank commissioner, took control of the Central Trust company, of this city, and applied to the supreme court for a receiver. He also asks an injunction to restrain the bank from transacting business, claiming that it was hazardous for people to deposit their funds with the institution.

Naval Buildings Near Chicago.
Washington, Nov. 5.—For the construction of six buildings at the naval station at North Chicago, Wis., Ham J. Scow Building company, of Chicago, was the lowest bidder (24) at $128,000.

TRUSTEES ECONOMIZE
Village Dads Refuse to Take Pay for Special Meetings Provided by Ordinance. $40.50 Saved.

The village board held its regular meeting Monday evening with President Spinner presiding and all members present.

The minutes of the previous meeting and treasurer's report for the month of October were read and approved. The following bills were presented: P. A. Hawley, cement walk $ 3 24 William Horwarth " " 7 92 H. D. A. Grebe " " 7 92 C. Homuth, labor, " " 1 20 H. Pingle, Sr., labor, " " 10 10 August Scherl, labor, " " 1 50 Ed Wilmington, labor, " " 1 00 Ed Peters, salary, " " 45 00 G. W. Spinner, 6 months salary 12 50 Fred Jahnholtz, salary, " " 40 00 Roy C. Myers, 6 months salary 50 00 Do burial permits, " " 3 22 Do postage, " " 21 Northwestern Gas, Light & Coke Company, light, " " 1 50 E. F. Schaefer, covering table Review, advertising, " " 10 38 L. F. Schroeder, material, " " 29 75 Plugg & Company, material, " " 23 16 A. L. Robertson, pumping, " " 75 00 Do lighting, " " 79 30 Fred Benson, special night watch, " " 2 00 Charles Hutchinson, special night watch, " " 2 00 Total, " " 498 69

Trustee Alverson moved that the bills be allowed. The motion was carried by a vote of 5 to 0. Trustee Lageschulte did not vote on the question. He said that he would vote for it if the amount did not overreach the appropriation.

The bills for salary of trustees for the past six months included services rendered at special meetings. Trustee Peters thought that the members had not ought to charge for special meetings. The ordinance provides that the members be allowed $1.50 for each meeting. After considerable discussion it was voted that no pay be allowed for special meetings, all members voting for except Trustee Alverson.

Application and bond of Otto Rieker for pool room license was accepted and approved. Forwarded Peters for committee on water reported that tests had shown that there was a leakage in the water of about 4,000 gallons in three hours. The committee also reported that the measurement used by the Electric Light Company would over run. The board adjourned.

Would Mortgage The Farm.
A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Georgia, W. A. Floyd by name, says "Buckley's America Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 2c at Barrington Pharmacy.

The Woman's Home Companion for November.
The November Jubilee issue of the Woman's Home Companion has a special interest, because it is the Seven Hundredth Number of the oldest living Woman's Magazine. This issue of 88 pages, illustrated by famous artists, contrasted with the little fifty 8-page issue of the same magazine which appeared in 1875, is a vivid reminder of the great strides made in periodical publishing. That old issue, popular in its day, is a modest ancestor to the big, influential magazine of today.

A Healthy Family.
"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life Pills, three years ago," says L. A. Bartlet, of Rural Route 1, Guilford, Maine. They cleanse and tone the system in a gentle way that does you good. 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

A Go-as-you-please Capital.
Without doubt Nairoh is rather unique as a British African capital in its composition of inhabitants. Not only does east jog west, but both jog East, figuratively and literally. This circumstance comes inevitably to mind when traversing or careering the streets on a bicycle, mule, horse, donkey or cart, in a spider carriage, jinrikisha or bullock cart. It is a kind of go-as-you-please gait which has taken root in Nairoh. One turns to the left, one to the right. One skirts the gutter while the other rides through the pedestrians.—Nairoh Leader.
