Homemade Presents For the Dainty Woman—Shoe Case For Traveling—Night-dress Case—Holder For Baby Ribbon.

For women who travel as well as those who stay at home there are many novelties in ribbons and sewing cases being shown at the shops which are not only attractive, but essentially practical. While the cost of

MATERIALS REQUIRED.
Two yards of pretty cretonne.
One yard and half of elastic.
One piece of lace.
Four brass eyelets.

SHOE CASE FOR TRAVELING.
This is not extravagant, any one of them may be made at home from odd pieces of ribbon, chintz, silk or linen, which, with the addition of a bit of hand embroidery, make pretty gifts.

The shoe bag or case is a useful article which also may be constructed at home at a trifling expense from almost any material one chooses, provided it is heavy enough to keep its shape. Either linen or cretonne is particularly effective, the four pockets accommodating two pairs of shoes or slippers. These pockets are bound and fastened with the case with ribbons or tape matching or harmonizing with the material of the case, in the top of which are set four brass eyelets. In this way the necessity of tacking in place is avoided, the eyelets being slipped over brass hooks screwed in door or wall.

A convenient pocket pouch and pin case are bowed with ribbon and set above the shoe pockets. When traveling the case is simply rolled and tied with a matching ribbon tacked at one end on the outer side.

A pretty case for the robe de nuit embroidered with a heavy mercerized thread on a heavy linen identifies the long envelope case with its embroidered buttons, flap and its embroidered particular girl carries her dainty night robe. This is made of heavy white butcher's linen in envelope pattern, embroidered in white cotton thread, and may be lined, if one elects, with a dainty pink and blue china silk, beneath which is laid a single sheet of scented wadding.

Every girl who uses baby ribbon would be delighted with a case filled with three or four different shades as a five ways to prepare such a gift. For the first take a long, shallow paste-board box just wide enough to hold a neat roll of baby ribbon and long enough for as many bolts as you may wish to give. Cover this box neatly inside and out with wall paper or a pretty fancy silk, first having made as many small slits on the top as there are bolts of ribbon.

Place the covering on the box, and if it is found difficult to turn in the edges neatly around the slits, do not attempt it, but cover it with a narrow edge of plain white paper. Put the ribbon and the paper over the top of the box, and trim each slit so it is a outside of the lid. If these ends are fastened through buttons, for which narrow strips have been provided on the top of the lid to hold them in place, it will add much to the convenience of the gift.

Workbag For Christmas.
A spacious workbag is made of silk a yard and a quarter long. Across each end feathershows is sewed; then the serge on either side is gathered up as close as possible and secured so that the two pieces meet.

Ribbons in the opening together in the middle, and the bag is carried by handles of ribbons that start from the top on either side where the silk is drawn up.

PAPER CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

How to Make Attractive Desk Blotters and Wall Pockets.

Make your Christmas presents of paper. One of the most attractive of these paper articles is a desk blotter. The usual size for a woman is eighteen inches deep by fifteen wide. The materials necessary are one piece of cardboard of the dimensions mentioned and a second piece half an inch less in each dimension. The pad is covered with flowered paper on the lower side and has flowered paper corners. Plain crumpe paper is used to cover the top of the pad.

The largest of the cardboard rectangles is first covered with the flowered paper. The paper is folded over the edge to a considerable depth, at least an inch and a half being desirable. Its edges are then pasted neatly down, care being taken to make neat corners. The smaller cardboard rectangle is covered with the plain crumpe paper, which, for instance, may be yellow if a yellow flowered paper is being used. Four right angled triangles which are three inches on the two even sides are then cut from stiff and very heavy wrapping paper and covered on one side with plain and on the other with flowered paper. These are the four corners. When they are covered a margin of paper is left on the equal sides, and this is re-enforced by a narrow strip of manila. This margin is turned over and pasted to the upper side of the cardboard, which is to form the bottom of the pad. The upper part of the pad is then laid on the lower part, and they are pasted neatly together. The corners, of course, go underneath the pad corners. The pad corners are not pasted down along their long side, as it is desirable to have them free so that new blotters may be slipped in and out at will.

College Flags.
College flags are quite simple to make for Christmas gifts, but require care and much precision in putting the letters on as well as in cutting them. A good plan is to cut the letters from stiff cardstock and trace around them on the felt, afterwards cutting with a sharp knife.

In mounting on the felt background paste them on with a very thin coating of photograph paste and couch around all edges with many strands of silk crumpled down at regular intervals with a single strand of the same color.

Couching means to hold the heavy cord or many strands of silk along the edge of the thing to be outlined and stitching across it and through the material with the single thread in the needle.

Handkerchief Case.
A handkerchief case is a pretty gift that can be made from ribbon by first cutting two pieces of cardboard into heart shapes. These hearts are covered on both sides and form the bottom and the cover, respectively.

The broad flowered ribbon used is gathered on both edges, one of which is sewed to the heart at the bottom. The center of plain soft silk is set in, and the edge of the ribbon is connected to the upper edge of the lining. A ruffling of narrow ribbon trims the cover and a bow acts as a hinge. A loop answers the purpose of a lid lifter.

Fair Warning.
The answers in the correspondents' column of a German Journal contain the following: "P. S.—We really think that you had better not wait in order to receive an explanation of the reason why we have rejected your manuscript. Our staircase, we beg to inform you, has twenty-four steps, and we do not keep a bolster at the bottom."

A wall pocket of paper may be made which contains three pockets. For this purpose the bordered crumpe paper which comes in rolls may be used, or you may select paper napkins whose borders are in the form of garlands.

MATERIALS REQUIRED.
One piece of cardboard eighteen inches wide by fifteen deep and a second piece half inch less in dimension.

which will not make the pocket too long. The pocket must, of course, be just as long as the motif of the design. The materials needed are three pieces of cardboard about nine inches long, the length, however, depends upon the design of the paper which is to be used. The cardboard is just the length of the design. The three cardboard are made at equal distances in the three pieces along the bottom and sides. The perforations along the bottom are close enough together to permit of the sections of the pocket being laced together. Only three holes are necessary along the sides. Ribbon the color of the flower in the border is used to lace the sections together and fastened at the ends with two tiny bows. Along the sides bands of ribbon are used to hold the sections together. The lowest band is very short, the next one longer and so the top one longest of all. The edges of the pocket may be touched with gold paint, which adds to the attractiveness of the design.
