How to Make Christmas Presents For Both Sexes—Hatpin Cushion—Needlebook—Suit Case Set For a Man.

The hatpin cushion shown is made of pompadour ribbon and val lace. It is tied in the center with baby ribbon. The needlebook is also a dainty little trinket, easily made, and appreciated either by men or women.

The design shown is a conventional primrose pattern worked in ribbon. For the man who travels nothing will be more appreciated than what is called

MATERIALS REQUIRED.

- One piece of cotton wadding.
- One yard of Dresden ribbon.
- Yard and half valenciennois lace.
- Quarter yard taffeta silk.
- Two yards baby ribbon.

ed a suit case set. So many people use the suit case, but have never been able to overcome the difficulty of keeping the shoes and brushes from rubbing up against their clean linen. There are three different articles in this set, all of which are made of coarse linen. The receptacle for shirts is in the shape of a large envelope, the edges bound with braid, and should be large enough to contain two shirts. The bag for collars is made from the same material. The bottom is circular and made from pasteboard. A good idea is to sew to this a strip of pastebord about two inches deep. These should be covered with the linen before being fastened together. The upper part of bag should be full and gathered in by a drawing string. This protects the collars from crushing as well as keeps them clean. The third article in the set is a plain linen bag lined with oiled silk. This is intended for stockings and protects the contents of the suit case from the moisture which is taken necessary after it has been used. The hairbrush can be put in this bag if no sponge is used. The monogram can be embroidered on the outside.

To make a slumber robe for baby take two and a half yards of plain silkoline, three bolts of No. 1 ribbon, one skein of shell-floss and one hat of fine cotton.

Divide the silkoline into two equal parts, place in a frame and put in layers of cotton between, ready for tying. Tie the ribbons all in tiny bows. Thread the needle with the Shell-floss, using it double. Bring the needle up from the middle, then down again, taking a stitch through one of the bows. Tie the yarn on the wrong side, with three or four extra needles tied to the knot to make a small turt. Continue the knitting in this manner, beginning with two and a half inches from the edges, making the turt four inches apart. Turn in the edges all around and buttonhole closely with the yarn used slazily. Crochet a row of shells around the quilt, each shell of five double crochet fastened with a single crochet and placed close enough together to make the work lie flat and filled at the corners. On the right side, just inside the buttonhole, make a row of feather-stitching with the yarn. This makes a light dainty cover for the baby. It is very pretty of blue silkoline lined with white ribbons or of white silkoline lined with pink and blue.

Safety Pin Holder.

As a gift to young mothers to accompany the baby basket, a safety pin holder makes useful presents. Among the new fancy articles that are being made for Christmas is a folding hatbox which very much resembles a candlestick shade. A semi-circle is first cut out of buckram or tailor's canvas, the outer edge being twenty-two inches and the height five inches. It can be covered with plain colored linen or flowered cretonne and is bound with gold braid, which is glued on, or with silk braid to match the cover. Three clasps or hooks are sewed on the ends, and when these are fastened together the whole forms a cone on which the hat can rest on the table or the hatbox. Another acceptable gift is a hand-made medicine case, which would be found most useful when traveling. It is made of plain linen bound with red braid. Cut a piece of the linen 14 by 12 inches and fashion it so that it forms four well shaped flaps. Bind these with the braid. Then take about ten inches of red silk quarter elastic and stitch it to the center of the linen in six different places. In the elastic put five two ounce bottles.
