Noted Authority on Poultry Will Speak in County

Farm Bureau Meeting at Lake Zurich on Tuesday, Feb. 28

Educational meetings of special interest to poultry raisers, and to which the public is invited, will be held Tuesday, Feb. 28, at the grade school auditorium, Grays Lake, at 1:30 p. m. and at the Lake Zurich high school, Lake Zurich, at 8 p. m. It has been announced that Prof. Walter H. Krueck, formerly of Purdue University, has been engaged as the speaker and will discuss poultry problems. Professor Krueck is widely known as an authority on nutrition and is a very forceful speaker with a real message. Arrangements have also been made to show an educational film entitled, "The Farmer's Flock." This is said to be an unusually interesting and instructive picture.

These meetings are being sponsored by the Lake County Farm Bureau in cooperation with the Lake County Farm Supply company, Grays Lake and Lake Zurich.

Since 1927, Professor Krueck has conducted extensive educational meetings in 27 different states and he has become widely known for his interesting lectures on many different agricultural subjects. He has written many articles for the press and answers thousands of letters from feeders, who seek for his help on their poultry and livestock problems.

Insult Bank in Mundelein Is Sold to Home People and Is Fully Reorganized

The State Bank of Mundelein is now a strictly home owned bank as the result of sale of all Insull holdings to residents of the community in which it is located. The sale was brought about through the assistance of Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago. Samuel Insull's holdings in Mundelein and Libertyville have been gradually reduced. At one time the Insull family owned 425 shares of stock and consequently was the largest stockholder in the two communities. Insull owned a bank, a wholesale gasoline and oil business and also other enterprises. Proceeds from the sale of bank stock were retained in the bank. A new set of officers and a new board of directors were elected.

County Clerks Still Refuse to Give up Ballots for Investigation by Weber

The battle to gain possession of the ballots cast in the tenth congressional district at the general election November 8 continues with county clerks hanging on to those in their possession.

Although a subpoena was issued by Frank T. Fowler, designated as a commissioner by Charles H. Weber, democratic candidate, ordering County Clerk Lew Hendee to give up the ballots, the Lake county clerk refused to do so.

Hendee stated that his position would be the same as County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer of Cook county who refused to produce the ballots on the advice of South Trust clerk of the house of representatives.

Hendee did, however, produce the poll books, tally sheets, and the record of the canvass. These were identified as exhibits and the corps of workers representing Weber and James Simpson Jr. of Wadsworth who was elected on the basis of the official canvass, prepared to scrutinize these records.

Brilliant Constellation

The Southern cross is a constellation situated near the Antarctic circle. It consists of four bright stars. The two brilliant stars, which mark the summit and foot have nearly the same right ascension. The constellation, therefore, is almost vertical when passing the meridian, and these two stars act as pointers to the Antarctic circle. The constellation becomes visible at about north latitude 30 degrees, but haze and fog near the sea horizon will usually obscure it until a latitude six or seven degrees farther south has been reached.

This payment is generally made after the patient quits often neglects to pay the hospital bill after he has recovered.

Lady Blanche Farm

A Romance of the Complanee—By Frances Parkinson Keyes

CHAPTER XIII

As the first visitor to Hamstead, that brought letters from Jacqueline, nursing in a convalescent home in Brittany, and David, operating in a field hospital directly behind the firing line from Anzac, driving his ambulance over shell-holes in France; from Jack and Thomas and Philip at Camp Leconte—all as yet, unharmed, unwell.

Then, suddenly, the first blow fell.

A telegram came for Blanche.

Not Sol's father, instead of phoning it up to the house, as had telephoned so many times, wrote it down slowly with his stammering pen, and looking up at the station, walked down the road, across the deep snow with his pocket, blowing his nose on his red handkerchief handkerchief as he went along.

Blanche was standing on the ironing staircase, holding out the handkerchief, too, had heard the knock.

"It's been—been expected."
