Men We Like to Meet

What is the year 1933 going to bring us? A great many people are asking that question. Three months have almost passed and we must admit that great changes are taking place, nationally and internationally. These changes were brought about by a change in leadership in our own country.

TOWN ELECTION TUESDAY, APRIL 4

ROADS

In Relation to the Development of Your Community

The Office of Road Commissioner Is Important to Both Village and Township

FOR SUPERVISOR

V. D. HAWLEY

Qualified by Experience

Election Tuesday, April 4

Committee for Advancing Interests of Barrington Township

The election of an efficient, honest, commissioner who has full time to devote to repair and maintenance of roads in Barrington township is of more than passing importance to the township and to the village.

Better roads are directly important to the business men because they encourage more shoppers to come into town and facilitate store deliveries to the country homes.

This discussion is not offered in the interests of any candidate for the office of road commissioner. Instead, it is an earnest appeal to the voters of the village and town of Barrington to study the records of the several candidates for the office and find out what they have to offer.

Your commissioner should understand the science of road building and road maintenance, so that he can get the best possible results from the money he has to spend.

He should be honest, conscientious and industrious, because the job is not just an office for giving some man an income.

He should not be a man engaged in other work, merely taking care of roads in his spare time. Instead, he should have full time to devote to the position to which the people elect him.

Good roads in their home community and throughout the territory adjoining their community will be appreciated by the motorists 365 days of the year.

Better roads are of importance indirectly to local merchants, contractors, carpenters, painters, architects, real estate men, automobile dealers, and insurance agents because of the greater field for business resulting from the increased real estate development and growing population.
