

Science Lecturer Stresses Need of Spiritual Sense

Dr. John Tett of Kansas City Speaks at High School Auditorium Wednesday

In a lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Science of Self-Expression," Dr. John M. Tett, C.E.D. of Kansas City, Mo., who spoke at the school auditorium Wednesday evening, stated that in Christian Science one learns that the substance of anything is in the meaning of it; what that thing is in mind.

He used the life of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, as an example of great incentive by her lifelong devotion into the Bible for its substance and true, divine support which allowed her to reveal the spiritual meanings of the scriptures for human apprehension and utilization. Throughout the lecture Dr. Tett quoted from her discovery and its application to human needs as set forth by Mrs. Eddy in her text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

"In Christian Science," he said, "one learns that the substance of anything is in mind. The substance of a thing is not in its act, a thing is to be sought and found. There could be no higher incentive to that search than the example of the discoverer. Founder and Leader of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, for it was her lifelong devotion into the Bible for its substance, its divinely mental import, that enabled this spiritually-minded woman to discover the real, the spiritual meanings of the scriptures, and to reduce divine science or knowledge of God and His creation, man and the universe, to human apprehension and utilization. Her discovery, and its application to human needs, Mrs. Eddy set forth in her text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Of this volume she declared: "I have been beginning the higher meaning of this book since writing it for the First Church of Christ, Scientist and Miscellany, p. 114. Again, of herself, she writes in the Boston Herald for May 5, 1896, under the caption "A Word in Defense": "I even hope that those who are not enough to understand it may do so honestly and not too earnestly and thus seldom, until mankind learn more of my meaning and the spiritual meaning of the book." (Miscellany, p. 246.) Of tradition and well-wisher alike, Dr. Tett went on to explain, "This oft-misunderstood woman asked only to be understood. The facts of her life are to be found in authentic and authorized biographies, obtainable at Christian Science Reading Rooms. They are also told by individuals yet living, who know and love her. But Mrs. Eddy has created the need to look for her especially in her writings. Through those sources of reliable information one reaches the inevitable conclusion that only a divinely inspired thinker could have written Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures; that only a true and courageous character could have lived her life of selflessness and devotion to mankind. As the meaning of Christian Science dwains upon one's consciousness there comes also the understanding of Mrs. Eddy's life-purpose and resolves, that the gospel of the kingdom might be brought to every dweller on the earth. To know the meaning of Christian Science is to know Mrs. Eddy's meaning, for Christian Science and Mrs. Eddy are inseparable. That deeply spiritual meaning is illustrated in these words from the book of Job: "When men are cast down, then thou shalt say, There is lifting up; and he shall save the
