

Call of the Wild Billed at Catlow Sunday, Monday

Curly Top Starring Shirley Temple Here for Three Day Showing

With such outstanding features as "The Irish in Us," "Call of the Wild," "Curly Top," "The Whole Town's Talking," and "Orchids to You," the Catlow theatre is offering a wealth of entertainment value in their current listings.

"The Irish in Us," the James Cagney-Pat O'Brien opus, finishes its three day run tonight.

It will be followed by the Friday night showing of Edward G. Robinson in "The Whole Town's Talking."

The story concerns the hilarious adventures of an ineffectual, frightened little clerk who is mistaken for the country's most sought-after gangster. He is given a "passport" by the authorities to identify him at all times.

His gangster counterpart, however, frightens the clerk into hiding nights while he uses the "passport" to carry on his criminal activities. Jones, the clerk, finally develops an under-recognized courage when his dream-love, the lovely Joan Arthur, is kidnapped by the gangster.

In "Orchids to You," the Saturday offering, Jean Metz has the part of a beautiful woman, whose train across could break a thousand hearts.

Jack London's famous yarn of the Klondike, "Call of the Wild," is scheduled for presentation Sunday and Monday. Clark Gable heads the cast, with Jack Oakie and Lucretia Taylor earning star ratings.

This roaring story of the Yukon sweeps across the screen with all the intensity of a gold rush... where men turn savages and a woman is the prey of the fittest.

The newest mystery film from the pen of the justly famous "Thin Man" is "The Glass Key," coming to the Catlow Tuesday night. George Raft plays the role of the patient-butcher sleuth in this spectacular murder mystery.

The happiest picture of Shirley Temple's career, "Curly Top" will be presented Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

In "Curly Top," a charming story of a little girl who captures the heart of a lonely bachelor and makes both their dreams come true, Shirley has two new songs to sing and several new and intricate dance routines for audience approval.

In this comedy-drama, John Boles is cast as a bachelor who adores Shirley and her big sister, Rochelle Hudson. His generosity takes him from the drab and greasy surroundings of an orphanage to the sunny summer surroundings of a palatial home in Southampton.

A color cartoon, "Dut Gang" is a new comedy added to the list of interest for this bill.

Look Pleasant, Please MARY STARBUCK KERRY

Mrs. Burns was getting ready to go to the photographer. She wanted to have a good picture. It probably would be a long time before she could have another one taken, and it would go to all of her relatives and to many of the important friends she had made in her club and church.

Her hair had been carefully waved, she had laid out her new silk dress to wear, and now she was applying her special face cream and powder with special care. In the meantime, little Robbie, who had been playing about the room, was naturally much interested in the process of "dressing up" which was going on and wanted to stand close beside her mother to see just how everything was done.

Mrs. Burns did not appreciate Margery's interest, however, and ordered her away. She spoke at first in an ordinary tone of voice, then when Margery repeatedly returned, she spoke impatiently, and finally angrily. She could not send the child out of the room, as there was no one else to look after her.

The photographer's picture came out beautifully. Unfortunately Mrs. Burns did not realize that another quite different picture had been taken by Margery. For this experience, together with those of many other occasions, was paying in Margery's consciousness a portrait of her mother that she would carry with her all her life.

Mrs. White was going to have her picture taken the same day.

Her little Robbie was with her, and the little boys are quite as much interested in watching Mother "dress up" as little girls are.

Mrs. White, seeing that Robbie wanted to stand beside her and watch every movement she made, allowed him to share in the wonderful process. She sat him to work as her assistant. She let him hold her the comb and brush, she let him brush her hair, she let him hold the powder, and finally let him bring her the dress which she had laid out on the bed.

Mrs. White realized that going to the photographer was not so important as the everyday task of being a mother. If the picture the photographer made came out poorly, it could be destroyed, and another taken, but the picture Robbie was getting of Mother, through her conduct toward him and others, was a lifetime picture of her. Besides, and this is worth considering though Mrs. White had not thought of it, when the photographer said, "Ready," she would not have to summon an artificial look of pleasantness to her face. Because she had kept pleasant at home, a happy look would naturally be there, and her picture would be the photograph of her real self, just as Robbie's picture of her would be.

125,000 PEOPLE IN THE CHICAGO AREA ARE LIVING BETTER BECAUSE OF GAS HEAT

A job nobody wants

WANTED A man to tend furnace, keep fires steady, shovel and haul ashes, be on the job 24 hours a day, keep house clean. Salary a few cents a day.

but Gas Heat will take it!

If this advertisement appeared in the paper you read daily, what would you say? Ridiculous! Nonsense! Absurd! But just think a moment.

You wouldn't want the job at that salary. Nor would anyone you know. Drudgery, back-breaking toil. Long hours, night work, no days off. And only a few cents a day for your trouble. Such an advertisement may appear ridiculous. Nevertheless, it's the job you actually hold right now, if you're still putting up with old-fashioned methods of heating.

Make up your mind to be rid of all furnace worries and work. For a few cents more a day, your family could be enjoying all the freedom and luxury of modern gas heat. Gas heat, of course, takes care of itself. It is clean and absolutely automatic. Once you have it installed, you're free from shoveling coal, tending the furnace and cleaning out furnace dirt. Gas heat gives you welcome hours of extra leisure. More time to play with the children, more time for the things you've always wanted to do. More time for sleep in the mornings, too. No icy trips to the basement. The furnace starts up in the morning automatically.

Let us show you how reasonably your family may enjoy gas heat. Its many advantages cost only a few cents more a day. Investigate now. Call your nearest Public Service office and ask for free estimate.

"I have been using gas for 10 years and I am perfectly satisfied with it. My heating costs are now 90 per cent less than when I first used gas." A. T. KATES, 205 Kenilworth Ave., Kenilworth, Ill.
