

Scott Hall Receives Severe Injuries in Car Accident Near Libertyville

Scott Hall, 215 S. Cook street, was severely cut and bruised when the car he was driving slid off the icy pavement on Milwaukee avenue near Libertyville early Sunday evening. The car tumbled into a concrete culvert and was demolished. The owner of the car was John Popp of Barrington.

Miss Anna Cahidy of Ivanhoe was riding in the car was also seriously injured.

Miss Jane Amanda Ashton, age 14, great-aunt of Mrs. William Sandell and a frequent visitor at the Sandell home in Barrington, died at her home in Crystal Lake, Monday evening.

Miss Ashton fell in her home and fractured her right hip on Dec. 20. The shock of the fall affected her heart and death was caused by heart trouble.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Gilbert's funeral home and burial took place at the Crystal cemetery. Rev. Flurgan of the Congregational church in Crystal Lake officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Charles R. Drusell of Barrington.

Mayas Are of Oriental Origin, Chinese Assert

An Oriental origin of the ancient Mayas and Aztecs, former partly civilized races of Central America, is deduced by a Chinese author, according to a series of articles in the Chinese press. The author states that the blood of the Mayas and Aztecs was poured over statues of the gods and other sacred objects, according to a communication to the Royal Society of Canada.

Both the Mayas and the Aztecs held religious sacrifices of war captives and other human beings, in some or which the victim's head was cut from the still-living body of the victim and his blood poured on the altar or offered to the gods. There were found disks of porous sandstone showing what are believed to be traces of such human blood, soaked up by the sandstone at the time of sacrifice and apparently buried for some superstitious or religious reason.

Dread of Storms Cause Many People to Suffer

More human suffering is caused by the dread of storms than by the storms themselves, asserts a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer. No one will appreciate the truth of this statement who has not felt such dread himself or been associated with persons who do. It is a very acute form of suffering which does not come from the storm itself but from the dread of it. Some people are chiefly afraid of the wind, while it is the total storm effect which frightens others. Most adults who suffer in this way developed the fear when children and through association with older people who were afraid. The fear can be overcome if witnessed by many adults who were in dread of storms with young children. Most adults who were in dread of storms with young children were gradually taught themselves better. Children do not seem to have an instinctive dread of storms, but they do inherit it from their parents. They see the adults about them taking it as a matter of course, perhaps showing interest and pleasure in some of the phenomena, laughing at an unusually sharp crash of thunder, etc. They, too, accept storms without fear.

Practically all metals must be separated from oxygen as a prime step in their production, for most metal ores contain the metal only in oxide form, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Aluminum is no exception. But while iron is very easy to reduce from iron oxide, aluminum is extremely difficult with the iron, the ore is charged into the blast furnace with limestone and coke and the furnace is blown with air. The reducing gases from the coke convert the iron into metallic form, add the impurities like silica and alumina, pass into the slag. But when this is tried on aluminum ore it is necessary to generate such great heat to melt it that most of the associated impurities likewise are reduced to metals and metalloids and alloy with and contaminate the aluminum.

Local Ambulance Damaged in Collision on Slippery Road Near Mt. Prospect

The Danieles and Willmering ambulance was damaged in an automobile accident on the Northwest highway while enroute to a Chicago hospital with a local patient, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The accident occurred about one mile west of Mt. Prospect. The ambulance was being driven on the outer lane of the 40 foot highway and the on-coming car, driven by J. P. Moehling Jr. of Mt. Prospect began skidding on the icy pavement as it approached the ambulance. The Mt. Prospect car is reported to have made a complete pivot as it skidded from the opposite outer lane and hit the left front wheel and fender of the ambulance. The extent of damage of the ambulance was a broken steering rod, a smashed fender, a sprung wheel, and a broken spring. The Mt. Prospect car was wrecked to a considerably greater extent.

Shaking Head to Mean "No"

The custom of shaking the head to indicate "no," writes O. H. Turner, in the Kansas City Times, had its inception among the lower animals. A mother animal, trying to get her offspring to accept food that she had brought to it, occasionally found that the young animal had had sufficient food or did not fancy the kind of food offered. The natural reaction of the infant animal under such circumstances was to close the mouth tight and shake the head from side to side to present its mother from forcing food into its mouth. Thus was evolved the human habit of closing the lips and shaking the head from side to side to indicate a negative answer.

World's Richest Street, Chandni Chowk in Delhi

What is the richest street in the world? Without taking into account the environs of the Stock exchange and Wall street, where unforeseen fortunes change hands, the little-known Chandni Chowk in Delhi has substantial claims, says a writer in the Montreal Herald. It has often been referred to as the richest street in Asia, and unlike other commercial thoroughfares, the greater part of its wealth is there for all to see. But many are the treasures which are hidden away in secret recesses of the shops of curio dealers and jewelers in that picturesque street. One of the dealers, the walls of whose establishment are covered with letters of appointment from Highnesses and Khercepelles of all descriptions, has a manufactured countless wonderful golden and jeweled embroideries for crowned heads and ruling princes. He was responsible for the historic peacock gown, costing no less than one thousand pounds, which the late Lady Curzon wore at the Durbar ball, attended by four thousand guests in the Delhi fort in 1908.

Warm Weather Helps Warm weather causes a higher rate of metabolism and greater consumption of body fuel. This is why, says an authority at Tulane university, the Dixie girls have a more athletic contour than their northern cousins.

Early Roman Blonds The Romans were mostly dark haired people, but the desire to be blond led some Roman ladies to experiment with dyes and other preparations.

VOLUME 50, NUMBER 2 Depositors Flock to Clearing House to Assign Credit

More Than $600 Released to Use After First Two Half Days. The Barrington Merchants Clearing House association is clearing up with deposit assignments coming in daily, and merchants and depositors both are classic about the plans for releasing 10 per cent of the deposits of the First State bank. Prior to noon Thursday, two half days after the opening of the association, 25 depositors assigned 10 per cent of their claims against the bank. The total amount assigned was $10,000. Many depositors also had assigned 10 per cent of their claims. Mr. Schroeder predicted the total amount will be doubled by the end of the week. The secretary's office is open only from 9 a. m. until noon daily. Depositors should call in the mornings. Although the average 10 per cent assignment already made is $212, there has been a wide variation in the amounts. The smallest was for $2.47 while the largest assignment was more than $200. Few depositors had actually spent any of their released cash with the stores prior to Thursday noon due to a delay the first three days of the week in verifying the deposits at the receivership headquarters. The first credit issued with a store was for $4,440.

Liberty's credit association will prove a success if evident from the enthusiastic reception depositors have given it during the first three days since the receivership was announced. Although the officers of the association and the newspapers have taken steps to explain operation of the assignment plan, a few depositors and merchants have reported that one or two points are not clear to them.

A question frequently asked is what does the receiver do as a depositor? The answer is: if one is a depositor nothing. Any depositor in the bank (unless he is a stockholder) can assign 10 per cent of his claim to the clearing house without any cost to himself.

A question asked by several merchants is: will the depositors be able to pay the exact amount due or will be pay in round figures such as $10 and then ask for change? The answer is: a depositor can get an assignment to a merchant for the exact amount owed, and there need not be any matter of change.

If a depositor with credit at the clearing house wants to pay a food bill of $5.25, he can get an assignment for the exact amount to pay the merchant.

Another question asked is: any chance of fraudulent payment with counterfeit or forged assignments? The answer is: if this plan does not involve the use of scrip. If John Smith uses an assignment to pay a bill owed by Ed Jones, the amount involved is merely transferred from Smith's account on the clearing house books to Jones' account. Jones gives a receipt signed and stamped by the clearing house secretary and signed by Smith.

Theodore Suhr Family Has Narrow Escape When Skids on Ice in Pavement

Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Suhr and daughter of South Cook street narrowly escaped severe injury Sunday when the car Rev. Suhr was driving, skidded on the pavement as he turned the corner from Hillside avenue to the city and started down the hill. The car ran over the curb and tumbled on the west side of the street. It brushed a large tree on the right, crossed the side walk and after running over another shrubbery it broke through the lower branches of an apple tree. The car moved on, propelled finally by its down-hill direction and after hitting a corner of the house of O. C. Bieschke, 544 Grove avenue, it came to a stop about 700 feet behind the house.

The occupants of the car sustained more or less bruising and physical injury. The car and porch of the Bieschke home were damaged slightly.
