Salem's Cage Quint Gets Submerged by Mighty Methodists

St. Paul Defeats Baptists, 31 to 15, Tie Salem for First Place

A rejuvenated Methodist quintet threw the church basketball league into an uproar Monday night by upsetting the previously undefeated Salem five by a score of 26 to 16. This defeat dropped Salem into a first place tie with St. Paul who earlier in the evening had easily turned back the Baptists, 31 to 15.

Playing their best game of the year against the decidedly off-form Salemites, the Methodists, after leading by only a narrow margin during the first three quarters of the game, stepped out in the final period to gain an easy victory. Tommy Johnson's nine points in the second half were a big factor in determining the outcome. Salem played without Eddie Gieske, regular guard.

With Ray Wichman back in the line-up, St. Paul was just too good for the tiny Baptists. Wolf, Reese, and Wichman dominated the play.

Two important games will be played next Monday night, Jan. 21, when the Baptists meet the Methodists, and Salem tackles St. Anne. Both Salem and the Methodists must win to stay in the running for the league title.

$2318 Assigned to Clearing House by Bank Depositors

100 Families' Buying Power Increased by Merchants Association

One hundred depositors in the First State bank have assigned 10 per cent of their deposit claims to the Barrington Merchants Clearing House association, according to B. A. Schroeder, secretary.

The total amount of the assignments is $2318.38. Of this amount, $1411.05 had been spent at the stores which are members of the association.

Although $1411.05 is not a great deal of money to be absorbed by the nearly 40 merchants who are members of the association, it represents just that much additional buying power for the depositors who have had part of their frozen assets liquidated into merchandise at regular market value.

While the clearing house has proven a very fine organization for the bank depositors, it has been of value to merchants who are members. It has stimulated trade during a season when retail business is usually dull. The certificates are worth 100 cents on the dollar minus the 3 per cent charge for defraying expenses of the clearing house. Consequently, they are a good substitute for cash at a time when money is not too plentiful.

The conditions under which the merchants accept assignments vary as they are regulated by each merchant in his own case. Some merchants accept them in payment of old accounts only. Some accept them if accompanied by equivalent amounts of cash in payment of bills. For example of the latter, a $20 purchase can be paid for with a ten dollar certificate and $10 in cash. A few merchants accept the assignments only in payment of old accounts.

The places of business which have joined the association and will accept assignments include:

Cold Snap Recedes After Season's Cold Weather Record Is Reached Here

Cold weather was responsible for much discomfort in Barrington this week, but it was not as intense as had been expected, a minimum of 16 below having been predicted by official weather bureaus.

Thermometers in Barrington registered minimums of between 13 and 14 below, but the lowest official record for the locality was 11½ degrees below zero early Thursday morning. Thermometers began to rise after the seasonal records were reached Thursday, indicating that the cold snap is receding.

Although the attendance at the local schools was but slightly affected by the cold weather there was a noticeable increase in the number of pupils who either brought their lunch or patronized the school's cafeteria at noon.
