BARRINGTON REVIEW

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1930

Chicago Plumber Plays Possum With Two State Highway Police Sunday

A 20-year-old man, alive, but unconscious and appearing more dead than alive to two state highway policemen, was found in a ditch along route 12, four miles northwest of Barrington, Sunday at about 5 p. m.

The officers brought the limp figure to Barrington and put it to bed at the Barrington General hospital where they were informed that the man was alive but merely "dead to the world."

In a short time the patient was asking the customary questions about where he was and how he had gotten there. His strong inclination to converse and argue provided a bit of merriment for hospital attendants and policemen. He gave a fuzzy report of his most recent experiences but was finally able to contact a telephone friend who came to the hospital to get him.

The man identified himself as O. W. Herrmann, 2544 Fullerton avenue, Chicago, a plumber. Mrs. Herrmann was located at the ski meet.

His officers were William Galt, instructor of Barrington and George Niemeyer of Lake Forest.

Property Values in Lake County Cut $9,000,000

Beard of Review Completes Work; Ends Long Session

The taxable value of Lake County real estate and personal property has been reduced $9,000,000 in a year, according to figures submitted by the board of review which is completing its annual job at Waukegan this week.

The total figure was set by the board at $77,731,515. The cut is due largely to the 10 per cent blanket reduction ordered by the board. This group, which includes H. D. Kelsey of Barrington, chairman of the board, and James F. King, has been in session since early last summer, reviewing the assessment rolls compiled by the township assessors all over the county.

Ordinarily the board completes its work in September. An Illinois statute covering the activities and compensation of county review boards provides for pay to the members until September when the boards are expected to complete their work and adjourn. Due to the re-assessment of Waukegan, ordered by the board, the work has dragged out until the present time.

Frank McChesney, chairman of the board of review has served without pay. Tax rates probably will be higher than they were a year ago. Kelsey reported. The rates will not be as much higher as the assessments are lower in most cases and the total amount of taxes to be paid will not be as great.

The board of review since September has completed a virtual re-assessment of all personal property in Waukegan township cutting down the total turned in by assessor Russ Alford from $7,213,940 to $4,147,765. Most of this cut was from the Public Service Co. property. The personal property of the company was assessed at $1,386,340 as compared to $1,703,060 for all other personal property in the city.

Fog and Ice Roads Cut Attendance at Norge Ski Tourney

Lowering fog combined with icy pavements demolished the attendance of the Norge ski tournament at Fox River Grove Sunday to less than half the number that usually attends. Warm air made the snow sticky and the slide was consequently unusually slow. No distance records were broken, the best jumps ranging from 155 to 164 feet.

The Norge-Ski club has planned an extensive program, securing the best skiers of United States and Canada and also had seven carloads of snow from Escanaba, Mich. Workmen were engaged for a week improving the slide. The club invited Johanna Kollstad of Norway to make the first leap, an undertaking that is considered the greatest honor of the contest. She performed the difficult feat of making the track that all others were to follow.

"Unlike many other sportsmen who receive large sums for services the ski jumpers receive no salary or prize when they win. Only prizes, medals or trophies are given. A large gold medal called the Chicago medal is the highest prize. The club furnishes all the traveling and hotel expenses which is all the jumper receives if he does not qualify for one of the prizes."

Skiing is a natural sport in the northern mountains. Artificial slides on hills here are especially difficult to force. The jumper who says the distance from the take-off to the landing place is far to short.

Sunday the jumpers had to leap out into a box of fox and the crowd could not see them until after they had left the take-off.

Bradley Stresses Value of Ethical Living for Youth

The task of meeting the world problems during the next few years was the basis of an address by Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's church, Chicago to a large and interested audience at the high school auditorium, Friday evening. "Ethical Character" was the topic of his address. The speaker, secretary of the Parent-Teacher association.

Dr. Bradley spoke in part as follows:

"We are in a changing world. The community in which I grew up was static; things were outlined, young people knew what was expected of them. There were honor standards but very few social standards concerning birth or death. A breath of scandal then struck in a breeze. Today the wrong does it a brazen brazen; this makes a new atmosphere for our young people."

"No one knows what is coming next, but we are going somewhere—fast—but where? This collapse or breakdown began with the world war, with its tragedies upon tragedies. Our boys, many of them who had never been out of their own state before were thrown into that war. We could not come back the same; it was impossible. And this very fact is a challenge to education and religion."

"The war has taken from 12 to 14 million people walking the streets, living as dogs. Two per cent of the population controls the world. We were one of the victors in the war but we really were losers. We haven't had a minute of peace since the war closed. We can't give the soldiers what we owe them or give them work. And unless we can meet this challenge it will be a disaster. We have two roads before us, and we have two destinies or communitisms. This will come within five years, and it is our young people who must face it. What are they going to do about it? We, the older people have made a great mess of our lives. Today in Chicago 30,000 little children go to school hungry; $400,000,000 people are hungry; 8,000,000 people are starving, and 12,000,000 are starving."

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Plagge Are Honored on Silver Wedding Anniversary Day

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Plagge, 545 Grove avenue, were completely surprised Saturday evening when the Plagge relatives gathered at their home for a six o'clock dinner. The occasion was the silver anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Plagge's wedding, and the evening was filled with surprises.

At the close of the dinner hour the hosts presented a silver coffee service to the honored guests. Professor and Mrs. Herbert J. Plagge and Dr. and Mrs. Homer H. Plagge of Ames, Ia. and Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Schultz of Oakland, Calif. were represented in the gift. The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Plagge presented a bouquet of flowers to their parents. Mrs. Plagge received a small truck filled with silver dollars, Mr. Plagge's gift. The Christian Community club of which Mrs. Plagge is teacher remembered the Plagges with a floor lamp.

The following relatives were present: John C. Plagge, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Gleke and son Willard, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rodl, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Plagge, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miles of Arlington Heights and E. A. Alekson of Niles Center, became a vice chairman. Mr. Calkins was elected president.

More than 200 individuals from various parts of the northwest and suburban areas participated in the program. Following a dinner served by the ladies of the church the program moved into a series of introductions of districts and representative groups. A colorful and interesting feature surrounded the lighting of the 25 candles on the birthday cake each representing a year of scout history and interesting facts of that year's accomplishment given by Scoutmaster Alvin Adams of a group of scouts.

A vice president A. L. Webster of Des Plaines paid tribute to the services of the scouts while in interest in the subject at home he mounting to unprecedented heights. An overflow crowd of 200 persons filled the hall.

Charles A. Steele of Highland Park, the speaker of the evening, entertained and inspired the entire group with his interesting narration of personal experiences in scouting in his own country and throughout the region. The election of the officers completed the business of the evening. Community singing and entertaining stunts under the leadership of Field scout commissioner E. J. Anderson contributed much to the evening's program. Entertaining.

Sewer Case Will Be Special Topic of Board Meeting

Citizens' Advisory Committee Requested to Meet With Trustees Friday

General discussion of previously considered methods of financing the reconstruction of the sewer system finally led to a decision for another meeting at a special session of the village board Friday night. The meeting, primarily for the purpose of talking over sewer plans and conditions, will be another special public session on the matter of seeking the John Cornelius Lyden, John Schwartz, L. B. Paddock and Miss Mabel Schaefer. The Review has been able to verify the candidates for Mr. Paddock and Miss Schaefer.

After February 12, final day for filing applications, a complete list of candidates should be available.

Is Swamped With Salesmen After Rumor of Wealth

Immigration Check for $2500 Is Taken Seriously by Many Here

Three automobile dealers, a half dozen insurance men and several other salesmen thought they had discovered in Barrington this week the best prospect since the onset of the depression. The men were merely responding to a rumor which began circulating Monday morning that Charles Albrim of the Cuba Electric Co. had been the lucky winner in a tooth paste naming contest, receiving an immigration check for $2500. The story actually happened was revealed by Mr. Albrim after he had had several days of well-earned rest. He was disappointed in the contest. He had believed the tale in its most colorful details. Hearing a radio announcement that the Sterling company had won the contest, he had submitted for a new dental product. Mr. Albrim entered the contest and accordingly received an immigration check for $2500. The contest has not been closed, so Mr. Albrim still has a reasonable chance of winning the grand prize by a vote of 677 to 440.

Kelsey succeeds John G. Wirtz, Mundelein banker and farmer, who refused to become a candidate for reelection due to the weight of his own business on the farm and in the bank.

Kelsey for years has been active in the Pure Milk association.

Basketball Fans Predict Chances for Local Title

Who'll down Barrington? That is the question that basketball fans over the entire Northwest are asking while interest in the subject at home is mounting to unprecedented heights. An overflow crowd of 200 persons filled the hall.
