Barrington Woman's Club

The literature committee of the Barrington Woman's Club presented Mrs. Robert Work in a review of "Modern Art" by Thomas Craven a public library. Mrs. Work brought out interesting facts concerning Thomas Craven's life. According to Mr. Craven, the world has been profoundly disturbed by the precipitate course of art during the last generation. Critics found upon subtle technicalities have come and gone in swift succession. These cults had their origins in France. They were Bohemian in conception and international in membership. They were born in Paris; many were transported to America. Almost half of the book is devoted to American artists. Among these are Frank Lloyd Wright, architect; George Grey Barnard and Jacob Epstein, sculptors.
