The Man From Yonder

The man up there stood still. Slowly he shook off his mittens and with a bare thumb he carried, set slowly to one knee, placing it on the tail of the other snowshoe. His breath was not just steady as he snuggled his cheek against the rifle butt. No man's word, he, shooting from ambush that way. Nor were his hands just steady.

He sighted carefully, trying to still the tremor of his arm. He let his breath slip out slowly, he squeezed.

The crack of the rifle echoed and resounded across the chopping, thin Elliott bay still, as he had pitched on his face. One of his hands was outstretched, the other pinned beneath him. His face, one cheek in the snow, was turned toward the man who had fired but it was far away.

For many minutes the man in the timber remained kneeling. Elliott did not stir. Then, cautiously, the latter propped up the ejected shell, slipped it into his pocket, raised to his feet and, backing cautiously, struck into the deep timber.

Mrs. Garnet Rodgers Is Injured in Automobile Accident Near Macomb

Mrs. Garnet Rodgers, fourth grade teacher of the local school, was slightly injured in an automobile accident that nearly demolished two cars near Macomb, Ill. last week. A cousin of Mrs. Rodgers was severely injured.

The car in which Mrs. Rodgers was riding ran off the road, and as the driver brought it back, it skidded and collided with the other machine. Mrs. Rodgers' mother and a friend were also slightly injured.

Mrs. Rodgers has been visiting at Macomb for the past three weeks having been called home because of her mother's illness.

Members of the Barrington High School Alumni Association, the organization sponsoring the production, report that the cast has already displayed some brilliant bits of interpretation of the comedy bit.

A 15 piece orchestra and a new comic stunt act are also being planned as added attractions for the two evenings. Both features will be given by members of the alumni association.

New Cabin Now in Use for All Scout Activities

Five Scout Troops and Camp Five Girls Hold Their Meetings in Cabin

With the new scout cabin, on East Russell street, now being used during the afternoon and evening of the week for days of the week by boy scouts, girl scouts and camp fire girls the utility aspect of the new scout cabin home has been fully appreciated for the first time. Several troops held their first meetings in the cabin last week. Others plan to hold their initial meetings there this week.

The present schedule of meetings at the cabin is as follows: Boy scout troop 21, Tuesday, 7:30 p. m.; troop 19, Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.; cub pack, Monday, 7 p. m.; girl scout troop one, Thursday, 7 p. m.; troop two, Tuesday, 7:30 p. m.; troop three, Thursday, 7:30 p. m.; camp fire girls, Wednesday afternoon.

Other special meetings of scouts and their leaders are also held at the cabin when the time does not conflict with stated meetings. Boy scout troop 29 is still meeting at the cabin with their school church. As soon as this troop arranges to hold its meetings at the cabin all scout activity, including that of both girls and boys, will be transferred to the new meeting place.

Observe Anniversary
Local observance of the national birthday celebration of the girl scouts will take place Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 12 when members of all three troops will meet at the cabin with their school church. Each troop will contribute to the entertainment. The occasion commemorates the third anniversary of girl scouting. Plans for the joint meeting were made at a girl scout council meeting at the local school Monday afternoon.

The girl scout troops are engaged in various handicraft projects. The girl of troops three under the direction of their captain, Miss Marion Schroeder are making a rug. In troop one the girls are starting to crocheted collars. Miss Josephine Park is the captain. Troop two has been devoting its time recently to dramatics in preparation for a play it plans to give at the joint anniversary celebration Tuesday. The play is directed by the troop's captain, Miss Irene Winkley.

Open Training Course
Four different courses of training operating simultaneously as a university of scouting for boy scouts will open at the Metropolitan High school Thursday evening, Mar. 14, according to an announcement released early this week by J. G. Carr, chairman of leadership training of the

Ten Students Are Selected for Play by Dramatic Club

"Believe Me, Xantippe" has been chosen by the High School Dramatic club to be given by the ten members of the organization Friday and Saturday evenings, Mar. 19 and 20. The play is a comedy and promises to be one of the best productions the club has ever given.

Building Activity Quiet in Barrington for Third Successive Month

Barrington's building activity has been at a standstill for three successive months. November, 1934 was the last month that permits were issued in Barrington when a week's response totaling $900 was recorded.

February, 1934 with no permits in a marked contrast with the same month one year ago when permits totaling $715 were issued. They included remodeling the village hall and construction of St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran church.
