Case Workers Report 50 Families Are on Relief in Barrington

Approximately 50 families in the village of Barrington are on relief at the present time. Fred Fleming reported at the Barrington Lions club Monday night.

Relief is fairly administered, Mr. Fleming added. Mr. Fleming obtained the information in an interview last week with the two women who have charge of IREH work in this community.

Case workers affirmed that they were pleased the club had taken an interest in IREH administration. Mr. Fleming reported. If any case is reported to the Lions club of a deserving family falling to get relief, it will be taken up with the case worker and investigated.

Seascope Ship for Barrington Youths May Be Organized

Special Committee and Twenty Local Boys Will Meet at Jewel Tea Plant

A meeting, the culmination of six months' planning to organize a Barrington seascope ship, the second of its kind in the Northwest Suburban council, will be held in the auditorium of the Jewel Tea Co. Wednesday, March 27 at 8 p. m.

The ultimate purpose of the organization is to construct a ship and to get it on water. Chicago groups are using Lake Michigan. The most famous seascope ship is the Kansas, which was launched on the Missouri river.

Boys who enter seascope activity receive a thorough training in seamanship. They are equipped with all nautical terms and ship equipment and management. They call their master a skipper and their assistants mates.

Partie Ridge is the only scout center in the council that has a seascope ship at the present time. It was organized three years ago.

State Commander to Be Speaker at Community Dinner

Barrington Legionnaires Make Plans for Meeting Here April 29

Paul G. Armstrong, commander of the Illinois department of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker at the community dinner which will be held on Monday, April 29, by the Barrington post.

Commander Martin H. Schreiber received an acceptance this week to an invitation sent to the state commander. A committee of Legion members will arrange an interesting program of speeches and music for a dinner meeting which they hope will be the brightest community social affair of the season.

All residents of the village will be eligible to attend the dinner. Commander Schreiber said. Although special invitations will be sent to the service clubs, any citizen in the community who wishes to attend will be welcome.

The dinner will be held at the Barrington post. The program will include a variety of entertainment. The dinner will be held at the Barrington post.

Trustees Want More Money Before They Will Back Proposition

A majority of the village trustees at a meeting with the firemen Friday night held firmly that the original agreement for the fire department was not to be altered.

The board was informed during the two-hour discussion that the new trustees to buy the fire truck for $11,535. Farm and estate owners living near Barrington have paid $800 toward purchasing the truck. $15 has been paid for each set of buildings to be protected.

At the amount collected lacks $84 of the figure necessary to make first payment on the equipment. The fire department, whose members have collected most of the money thus far, was informed that at least the amount of that deficiency would have to be made up by the time of the next regular board meeting.

Waning Epidemics Are Being Watched for New Signs of Development

Although the number of cases of measles and scarlet fever in Barrington is decreasing, there is just enough of the epidemic left to merit special precaution, according to E. W. Basse, village health officer.

Maloney and PWA Officials Reach Agreeable Plan

Attorney and Engineer Begin Survey for Scale of Rental Rates

Having explained to public works officials that an obligatory bond issue of approximately $54,000 as collateral for the proposed PWA loan for Barrington's sewer improvement is not the most satisfactory method of backing the loan, Village Attorney David B. Maloney returned from Washington, D. C. Saturday.

Mr. Maloney stated that he received a favorable reception at the capitol and had ample time to present all details of the local situation. Consideration and support in the matter were given by Senators J. Hamilton Lewis and Michael J. Conroy, Congressman Leonard Schuetz, as well as leading public works officials and engineers.

Mr. Maloney is convinced the officials will smooth the road for a loan without the bond issue. The tentative plan submitted by the attorney was satisfactory to the PWA officials subject to furnishing them with a scale of rates to be charged on property owners as an annual rental to retire the government loan.

An obligatory to compiling the scale of rates Attorney Maloney and Special Engineer Arthur W. Consoer of the engineering concern, Consoer, Bader and Quinlan, were in Barrington Tuesday morning to begin a careful survey of all sewer and water connections. The number of connections and the volume of water delivered at all low business firms and institutions needing more water than the average home apartment will be checked.

Although inventories are being made, it is not yet possible to disclose a statement as to its outcome, it has been suggested that there may be a minimum annual rental charge of $1.00 per additional sum for users of water over a certain amount.

The next step in the effort to obtain the PWA loan is to submit to Washington the scale of rates proposed.

Star Ticket Salesmen Undertake Big Job in Movie Show Promotion

Two men against the field is the competitive basis for sale of tickets to the Lions benefit movie "Clive of India" which will be at the Catlow theatre, Monday to Wednesday inclusive, April 2, 3 and 10.

Fred Fleming and Burris Cloar will attempt to sell more tickets than all other members of the club combined. Both audits started determined later, will be awarded the winners. For the last Lions club benefit movie performance, the Lions club sold approximately 1,000 tickets as all other members of the club, but they were not working as a sales team competing against the other members.

The movie will be given for the benefit of the boy scout cabin fund. The Lions club is paying for materials used in the cabin, but the money by benefit movies.

Doolittle - Tyrrell Recount Begins in Court Next Monday

Decision on 883 Votes May Not Be Reached for Three Weeks

A final attempt to adjust the Doolittle-Tyrrell Lake county sheriff's recount will probably be under way by Monday it was learned reliably this week. The validity of the ballot contest was called into question Tuesday morning by the court where a decision must be rendered.

Attorneys for both parties will be called into a conference today by County Judge Perry L. Persons was an opening date for the recount session on the recount will be held on Monday. It is thought possible that this important work, which will probably stretch over three weeks or more, can be started before Monday.

Rumors have been frequently heard that parties on one side of the recount would demand that a complete check be made on all unopened ballots in each of the 75 Lake county precincts.

It was learned from the court Monday that such a check was made during the course of the recount work. All ballots pertaining to the recount were removed from the vaults and taken to counting rooms for examination. At the close of the recount work by election experts and attorneys for both parties in the sheriff's battle, Doolittle was shown leading by a total of 322 votes. Tyrrell led by 18,858 in 18,852 for Tyrrell.

In the original canvass Doolittle was given a total of 10,973 to 10,936 for Tyrrell. This gave Doolittle a lead of 137 votes. The final decision of the recount rest now with the court in the decision to be rendered as to validity of the 883 ballots. The recount will be held on Monday. McDade and Ryan continued the recount on the highway until they reached Palatine where they abandoned themselves waiting for Nelson to come.

Mrs. Kramer Tells of Gun Battle at Entrance to Park

Witnesses Testify at Trial of Chase in Federal Court

Mrs. Frances Kramer of Barrington, operator of the gasoline station opposite the entrance to North Side park, was called to the witness stand Wednesday in the federal court murder trial of John Paul Chase being conducted in Chicago.

Mrs. Kramer, who watched the late November 17 from her window of the oil station house, heard the gun fire from the automobile stand Wednesday in the federal court murder trial of John Paul Chase being conducted in Chicago.

Nelson, his wife, and Chase jumped from their car, the Ford of the oil station house, heard the gun fire from the automobile stand Wednesday in the federal court murder trial of John Paul Chase being conducted in Chicago.

Sherman testified to seeing the two federal agents at the front of their Hudson car during the hunt. After the hunt was over, he and William Gallagher found Hollis lying near a telephone pole north of the road, dying, and Crowley propped against the south of the road roadway station.

Testimony given by Ryan and McDade revealed that these two men were traveling south-east. Chase had the federal men covered and ordered them to pull up. The federal men, not as well armed attempted to get the car. Both sides fired their machine. Nelson followed and Chase shot at the federal car through the windshield. Ryan returned the fire through the front of the car. At this point, Crowley and Hollis passed, turned around and opened fire on Nelson's machine. The latter pulled up at the side of the road. The government car stopped on the highway. McDade and Ryan continued along the highway until they reached Palatine where they abandoned themselves waiting for Nelson to come.

High School Students Display Unusual Artistic Ability in Two New Classes

Twenty-nine local high school students have displayed unusual artistic ability through their work in two new art classes that were started at the opening of the present school term.

Mr. Smiley instructs the new course which meets for one hour every day of the week in the new woodworking room in the basement of the school building. The course was tried as an experiment at the request of numerous students. At registration time it was discovered that only two of the chief navigators were able to enter the course this year. Others were not permitted to because of class conflicts. The course is outlined to cover a year's time. The designing of advertising posters in various colors has been the chief work of the class in the present time. Some have already been displayed at the school, and plans for a public exhibition in the business section of the village are being considered. The students are permitted to select their own subjects for the posters, but they are given adequate instruction in perspective layout and all other details. Water-proof colors are used. Other projects that will soon be started include the designing of poppy day posters. This will be the first time that all members of the two classes will work on the same subject. Later in the spring the classes will work out-of-doors sketching objects and landscapes in pencil or pastel crayon.

Is Kicked by Horse Jacob Muller of Chicago Highlands was kicked by a horse Friday afternoon and sustained a broken knee cap. He will be confined to his bed for several weeks.

Efforts of American Missions in China Are Explained by Former Local Teacher

The importance of American missions concerning their efforts in training the Chinese to help their own people about the civilization and customs of the western world, rather than attempting the futile task of trying to support a government which is a point emphasized in a talk given by Dr. Lewis K. Smythe of the sociology department at the Salem Evangelical church Sunday night.

A similar illustrated talk was given by Dr. Smythe to the pupils of the junior high and high schools Monday morning. Dr. Smythe, a member of the Barrington high school faculty five years ago, is spending a year's furlough in America after having been connected with the University of Nanking for six years. He is now studying at the University of Chicago where he received a degree of doctor of Philosophy in the theology department in 1928.

All phases of university activity, athletic as well as academic, strikingly similar to those of the western world, rather than attempting the futile task of trying to support a government which is a point emphasized in a talk given by Dr. Lewis K. Smythe of the sociology department at the Salem Evangelical church Sunday night.

The tremendous task of the 16 mission schools like the University of Nanking with its 800 students and also of the government schools penetrating their influence into the vast peasant lands of China where only one-half of the population is Christians and where each family struggles on three and one-half acres of farming land was stressed by the speaker, although his pictures presented a more advanced picture of life about the university.
