Kearney Recalls His First Visit Here—Yes Indeed!

Marshall V. Kearney of Chicago, assistant state's attorney, remembers very well his first visit to Barrington even though it was quite a few years ago. Mr. Kearney, who spoke at the Barrington Men's club meeting at the Methodist church Tuesday night, told of his experience in somewhat of the following manner:

It seems that about 25 years ago Kearney was playing baseball with a team in the city and came out to Barrington to play the local town team. The present assistant state's attorney was at that time both the manager and pitcher of the team, and after his teammates had gone down in 1, 2, 3 order in the first inning, he went out on the mound to pitch. Pityful of action happened because before long the score was 15 to 0, the bases loaded, no one was out, and Kearney was still hurling! As he said: "I never saw such big, husky fellows as those Barrington men up at the plate."
