BARRINGTON REVIEW

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1925

WASHO ON ECONOMY COMMITTEE PLANNING $51,913 REDUCTION

A program of further retrenchment in Lake county government expenses has been worked out by the board of supervisors special economy committee of which Harry W. Washo of Lake Zurich is a member.

This plan is designed to slash expenses under those of the previous year $51,913.54. This economy depends on the passage of two bills now pending before the state legislature. The committee's plan is in the form of a resolution and will be acted on June 10. If approved, as is expected to be, it will be forwarded to the state legislature for consideration of the bills before it can become effective.

One of the steps in economy would be merging of the county probate courts, with the county judge acting on probate matters. This plan alone would save $3600.

Members of the economy committee are William Steele, Walter Dresser, and John Thomas.

Get Rich Quick? Buy a Chain Letter for $1 and Get Back $1024—Maybe

"Do you want to make a lot of money?"
"Get out of here!"
"But you can't lose on this one. It's absolutely guaranteed!"
"Get out of here!"
"But really this isn't a mail chain letter. This is different!"
"Get out of here!"
"Now wouldn't you want to take in $1024 in exchange for one measly dollar? I tell you there is no chance to lose in this one. It's different. You'll sell two letters and you personally receive your customers to the post office to see that the money is mailed to the first name on the list. This is different than the old chain letter plans. This is a—"

"I said get out of here with your guaranteed $1024 for $1 personally solicited type of chain letter. That scheme hit Barrington four days ago, and since then 17 men, women, boys and girls have been out of here! They were utterly, identically scheme. This town is completely sold out on the one dollar chain letter. Peddle your scheme around Keokuk. Barrington started there before someone else thinks of it, and you'll make a fortune."

The above conversation took place Wednesday morning in a local hardware store. And, of course, the subject of discussion was the second chain letter wave to hit this town. The first, a strictly mail letter plan (prohibited by postal laws and regulations) ran its course. In about a week, many persons tried it out and expected to receive a few thousand dollars in return for one invested. Generally, a few of the earliest participants received a few dollars through the mail, but the later ones to enter had to change their tenth-of-a-dollar opinion to pleasure. The result: A few of the early pluggers on the dollar "sure to work" scheme will get a few dollars to tell their friends about. By Thursday morning, this second chain letter rush was beginning to be history. The number of local chain letter salesmen multiplied in geometric progression and their were more salesmen than prospective buyers. The same is happening in nearby all communities. The scheme is beginning to strangle itself.
