

Drum, Bugle Corps of District May Be Here Wednesday

Local Legion Post Plans Parade, Contest Plus District Meet

A parade of drum and bugle corps of the sixth district American Legion units and competition between various corps at the local ball park will be a highlight of the sixth district meeting to be held in Barrington Wednesday evening, July 24 if all corps accept Barrington's invitation to come.

Park Ridge drum and bugle corps, state champion, is included in this district.

Answers have not been received from the various posts to date according to Commander M. H. Schreiber but tentative plans are being made for a parade and also a drum and bugle corps contest about 7:30 p. m. prior to the regular district meeting to be held in the school auditorium that day.

Members of the local post will serve refreshments at its conclusion. A committee appointed by Commander Schreiber to take charge of local arrangements for the meeting includes the following: Cecil Paxton, in charge of food and basic corps activities, and Paul Schroeder, Kenneth Shoop and Emil Miller.

It is estimated that between 200 and 400 guests will attend this district meeting.

Tennison Dislike Criticism Tennison published a small volume of poems in 1920, the year before he left college, and another volume in 1922. They were both severely criticized. Blackwood's business sense, common sense, "drive" and Carlyle characterized the esthetic verse as "lollipop." This criticism caused the poet to remain quiet for nearly 10 years.

25 Enter Vacation Reading Contest at Public Library

Party to Be Given for All Reading at Least Eight Books

With 25 boys and girls enrolled in a newly organized vacation reading club the contest being held in conjunction with the club is now in full swing. Miss Olive Dobson, local librarian, is in charge.

Entrance requirements state that each contestant must read at least one book a week, not including series books, Tarnan stories or magazines, and the winners must read at least eight books.

At the end of the contest there will be a party to which all winners will be invited. A specific prize will be given to the boy and girl reading the largest number of books. The contest only started last week, but it is not too late for further enrollments since any boy or girl can easily read two books to make up for missing the first week, Miss Dobson stated.

Those entered in the contest to date are, Ruth Emerick, Nancy Bradley, Leona Bohrer, Florence Schreiner, Helen Rohrbach, Frances Dewitt, Joyce Nicolai, Harry Jean McClure, Jack Greening, Julia Myerman, Emogene Golladay, Bruce Miller, Robert Clark, Faith Pedersen, Gloria Homuth, Lester Homuth, Hildegard Schultz, Margaret Wiedenbeck, Frances Platte, Van Nicolai, Irving Schlegel, Paul Docks, Harriet Taylor, Hugh Waterman, Gretchen Mundlach.

Two of the girls, Mary Jean McClure and Faith Pedersen are reading white away on vacation.

Although he is accused of being Public Enemy No. 1 of other birds of the prairie sections the black and white sapsucker is one of the finest architects of the feathered tribes, says Pathfinder Magazine. His nest, which is built of sticks, is sometimes as large as a barrel hush and is domed over. The inside of the nest is plastered with mud, neatly lined and is completely weather proof.

Auto Theft Gang Sentenced to Jail in Criminal Court Prison sentences were meted out today at the Cook county criminal court for members of the auto theft gang that had been operating in this territory. John Jure of Gilbert's prominent garage owner and school teacher, was sentenced to from 1 to 18 months. Nick Wasselovich, Moscow Park, was also given a 1 to 18 year sentence. Marvin Jure, son of John Jure, and Edward Magoon, Des Plaines, were granted probation. Other members of the gang had already received sentences of 1 year each. Arranged upon information furnished by W. Beale, local chief of police, they were held for the theft of a car belonging to Richard Taylor, 811 E. Hillside avenue. With the arrest and conviction of these men police believe they have solved many of the missing car cases in this city. Jure had used his garage in Gilbert as a "stripping plant" for the cars taken from around here. At the average change would be made and the auto they sold as a used car.
