Plant Life in Animals' Hair

Plant life in animals' hair is a new discovery. It is the hair of animals that serve their host. One exception, however, is a green slug which lives in the cracks of the hair of the sloth and gives this tree-hanging mammal a mantle of invisibility that protects it from enemies. -Collier's Weekly.

Outdoor Pageant, Cabin Dedication Set for Sept. 12

Mrs. W. A. Fanning to be in Charge of Production; Roles Assigned

Dedication of Barrington post cabin will take place Sept. 12 in conjunction with an outdoor pageant. It was decided at a meeting of the recent cabin committee held in the Howard Brubaker home on Dundas avenue Friday evening.

Mrs. W. A. Fanning will have charge of the pageant.

The following roles will be played by members of various local groups: African Bushmen—club guests sponsored by American Legion; Arabs—troop 10, Salem church; Indians—campus girls, Royal Neighbors; Knights—girl guests, Barrington Woman's club; Pioneers—troop 21, Lions club; Atholians—Bela Scotts, Jewel Tea Co.

Program and publicity committees will be announced next week.

The recent cabin committee includes Roy Wilmering, E. Plager, Mrs. Harold Grebe and Howard Brubaker. A representative from each organization sponsoring a boy or girl unit attended the meeting Friday.

Details of arrangements will be worked out later but it is planned to hold the pageant in the south park following dedication of the cabin.

"Tambarakets" to Sing at Fox River Grove 'Yarmark'

Twenty Civic Groups Plan Entertainment for August 10, 11

The big question in and around Moline county during the past two weeks has been: "What's a 'Yarmark'?" All that those who are curious need to do is ask an older generation German or Czecho-Slovak.

With any person who has lived in Germany or that part of Europe which had been known as Bohemia knows all about "Yarmarks."

"Those who know will say that 'Yarmark' means first of all a good time.

They will tell you they used to walk or ride miles to attend 'Yarmarks' and that these lasted as long as two weeks.

The "Yarmark" which will be on at Fox River Grove Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 10 and 11, will have all of the best features which made it so popular in central Europe plus numerous modern innovations.
