Beautiful Scenes Entertain Many at Scout Pageant

Scene 1: "An Arab Sheik Welcomes Two New Warriors" done by troop 10. Two boys appeared before the chief and his council with spoils of a foraging party and were given a leaf of the Koran, history and astronomy. They were accepted as men after showing their riding and fighting ability.

Scene 2: "Conferring of Knighthood" by girl scouts, a beautiful tableau depicting the solemn rites of chivalrous days in medieval civilization. Scene 3, "Indian Youth Becomes a Warrior," by troop 25 and campfire girls in costume. Scene 6, "The Young Pioneer Initiation," by troop 21, depicting an early American settler as their stockade was besieged by Indians and a small lad volunteered to go for aid in the face of death. Scene 7, "Presentation of Eagle Scout Award," by the Northwest Suburban Council. A modern scout was shown in this scene as receiving the highest honor in scouting. Encouraged by his troop and in company with his parents, he was taken before an arch enumerating the original character points of modern youth and given his award.

Troop 10 was awarded the trophy for having the greatest number of guests present. They have generously offered it to any group wishing to go on trips.

The scout cabin committee wishes to express its appreciation to the following firms for their assistance in making the event possible: Barrington village board; Park board; Jewel Tea, Public Service Co., Illinois Bell telephone company, Benjamin Electric Co., Dan Plains, Shortell Lumber, Loughmuth & Hager, J. H. Catlow, J. W. Buchy, Pfund-dell Nursery at Elmhurst, Schroeder Hardware and R. F. Kocher Sr.
