

Acme to Give Away Refrigerator Unit; Prize in Contest

With a Kelvinator electric refrigerator model K-485, to be given away as the prize, announcement was made today of a Christmas letter writing contest to be conducted by Acme Home Service, local Kelvinator dealers. The subject for the contest is "I Want a Kelvinator most for Christmas."

Each contestant must write 100 words or less on that subject. The contest opens November 25 and closes at midnight on December 24. Persons living in or near Barrington or surrounding territory may write, wire, telephone or visit the Acme Home Service store to secure a copy of the free contest folder which explains all details of the contest and gives helpful ideas for writing the letters. Judges will be selected from a group of prominent local people and will be announced later.

"No purchase of any kind is necessary to enter the contest, but contestants must secure a copy of the official contest folder in order to be eligible for entry," states C. W. Form of Acme Home Service. "It is open to everybody over 18 years of age who lives in or near Barrington, except employees of our company and members of our families and members of judges' families. Employees of our company will give every aid possible to those wishing to enter the contest. Demonstrations of Kelvinator electric refrigerators will be given to interested parties at any time."

"Another interesting feature of our contest is that if an entrant purchases a Kelvinator during the contest and later is declared the prize winner, the model which has been purchased becomes the prize instead of the model K-485." This was explained by Mr. Form that entries will be judged solely upon the knowledge of the Kelvinator electric refrigerator as shown in the letter written.

Barrington Hills

The special matinee given at the Catlow last Saturday afternoon was of interest to both town and country. The picture which told the romantic story of Franz Schubert's life and, particularly of writing of that splendid composition "The Unfinished Symphony" was one of the most beautiful and highly artistic screen plays ever brought to Barrington. The coming of the consul general of Great Britain, Lewis Bernays, and also of Mr. Rose, was an added interest. After the performance Mr. and Mrs. Robert Work invited Mr. and Mrs. Berrays and Mr. and Mrs. Rose to their home for a cup of tea and a chance to meet more intimately some of their Barrington friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Work entertained Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robertson at dinner Tuesday evening.

Miss Betty Howland of Beverly Hills visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Howland over the last weekend. H. C. Cheney left Monday for a trip East, expecting to visit first with his daughter Sally, who is at school in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., then to spend a few days in New Jersey and see the Princeton game

Saturday. Barrington Hills will be well represented this year for beside Mr. Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rowe will be there. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Selpp expect to be at the Dartmouth-Princeton game. Their son is a Princeton student and they go East this week to spend the holiday with him.

Mrs. Roberta P. Howland entertained a few guests Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hochstetler returned to Barrington this week to stay until after the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cheney gave a small dinner party Friday night. The Barrington Auxiliary of the Visiting Nurses' association of Chicago were busy Monday afternoon making surgical dressings. Mrs. Robert Buckley was hostess. Mrs. Evan Evans is on the sick list this week.

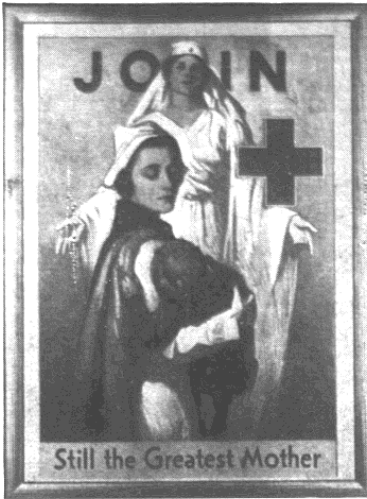

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Byron Smith and little Sonny Boy have gone into Chicago for the winter. Mr. Harlan Canby was hostess to the Kaffee Klatsch last week and Mrs. Sheldon Clark is entertaining the group this week. Over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nestlerode's house guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Colfer, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ty of Glen Ellyn and West Chicago and Dr. Saunders of the University of Chicago.

John Edmond was a patient in the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, last week, but is home again greatly improved. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harper and children spent the week-end at their Barrington home on the Maple Hill road.

The Edward Kohlstaer is showing considerable interest in preparations for the building of a new home west of town. They are out frequently and their friends hope the house will be started in the near future. Last Wednesday night Selden White and Billie White entertained a number of friends at dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Ford Carter Jr. gave a cocktail party Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, who live at Glen View, but are still identified as members of Barrington Hills community, have been enjoying a motor trip through the East, and are at home again. The election of officers of the Barrington Hills Country club which is a November function each year resulted in the following selections being made for the coming year: President, Selden White; vice president, F. H. Johnston; secretary and treasurer, Harold Byron Smith.

To "Kick the Bucket"
The expression "kick the bucket," which we consider slang, had its origin in the time of the ancient Egyptians. It is directly traced to the language of the Egyptians and it is illustrated in the hieroglyphics from which we have gained our knowledge of this people. In the Egyptian language the word for "kick" is "khekh," meaning to return or send back. Thus, in the hieroglyphics, the act of kicking the bucket is the return of an empty bucket—that is, a body without life. The bucket was used constantly by the Egyptians in their sign writing as a symbol of death. Though it seems a strange coincidence, this is but one of numerous instances where in the customs and language of ancient peoples have been transferred into the slang interpretations of modern usage.—Washington Post

Active Campaign Sponsored by Red Cross Committee

Canvassing for Barrington for the annual Red Cross drive started last week with Mrs. Erman S. Smith as chairman of the campaign. Booths have been established at the Public Service company and in the First National bank and personal solicitations will be made to every local resident. It was announced.

The drive will end Thanksgiving Day. The committee assisting Mrs. Smith includes Mrs. H. C. Cheney, Mrs. Arnett Lines, Mrs. Emory Wilder, Mrs. Daniel Woodhead and Mrs. Earl Virden.

The following children have volunteered their services and are canvassing the village: Robert Plazge, Harold Jorgensen, Ellen and Beth Sears, Arnold and Frieda Kohorst, Norritine Beerman, Sylvia Oct, Polly Ann Brooke and Ellen Jensen.

Boarded Wrong Ships
When the American Revolution broke out Britain's admiralty offered a large money reward and three years' exemption from service to any of her seamen who embarked on board an American ship and made themselves masters of her. Unfortunately for Britain, Englishmen who sought for the rewards did not always trouble to distinguish between American and French ships, inflaming France and hastening France's alliance with America.

V-8 LEADERSHIP

On October 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year. One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm. These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out, in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

TRISLIA DRICK

"Go, though you might like to go to the show with the person, as I've come over to you," explained thirteen-year-old Nellie to her mother, Mrs. Phyllis Smith, as they answered her ring at the door.

"Oh, there is a good picture going to the living room with her mother out sewing."

"Mother, this is Nellie. The mood, one of my classmates, was to know if I will go to movies with her."

"I'm very glad to have you," Mrs. Smith said pleasantly. Then she asked the same question. Phyllis had asked: "Is this good picture today? I've been busy to read the advertisement."

"I didn't notice," Nellie answered. "I really don't know what is of course there's always a picture and some short picture."

"How do you know you will go if you don't know what are the pictures?" questioned Mrs. Smith, surprised.

"Why, we just go every Saturday afternoon," explained Nellie. "Don't you?" she asked, turning to Phyllis.

"No, Nellie," answered Phyllis. "We go only when there is a picture that we especially like to see. Thank you a lot for me, too, though."

"We always go on Saturday afternoon," said Nellie. "You see," explained Phyllis. "There are so many other things like to do on Saturday. We have a lot, and I'm fond of my out-of-door games. When we see a movie that I don't wish I had spent the time playing tennis, instead of, O, there's paper. Let us see what the time is."

"They read the advertisement," she really don't believe I want to see that," said Phyllis. "It sounds so dreadfully 'common' and silly. Don't you think so?"

"It doesn't sound so very interesting," admitted Nellie. "I really don't believe I want to see that," said Phyllis. "It sounds so dreadfully 'common' and silly. Don't you think so?"
