Water Project Is Held Up; Men Work on Expansion Job

More than 30 men are working on village WPA project No. 2917, cutting down the fill on the paving expansion joints, which project has been approved for 100 per cent of its allotment; but the meagre amount of work done on project 1549, for connecting dead end water mains and replacing the old water reservoir, is being undone because of failure of the WPA to furnish necessary supplies fast enough to keep the job going.

East Main Street to Be Financed by Gas Tax Receipts

Although this project has not been officially approved, the majority of the board have expressed themselves favorable to it. An alternative project, widening of West Main street from Gardfield to Hough on the south side and from Gardfield to the Callow theatre on the north side, has been proposed. This would involve complete street widening, grading as well as paving, and the expense would be greater than the East Main improvement, which would necessitate only widening of the concrete surface.
