1938 Seal Campaign Nearing Its Close

With the 1938 Christmas seal campaign nearing its close, Mrs. Joseph Wollat, chairman of the Barrington Christmas seal committee, today reminded Barrington residents of the work the seals make possible in their own community.

The Barrington health center, Hough and Lake streets, is financed by proceeds from the seal sale. Mrs. Wollat lists some of the services provided last year as follows: Community and school health service which included an immunization program for the prevention of diphtheria and smallpox. Services of a public health nurse. Miss MacLeish, who assisted at the center's monthly infant clinic. Medical examinations by the medical director of the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county, Dr. J. B. Novak, for high school athletes, physical examinations by physicians for other high school students and faculty members.

Bi-weekly health conferences attended by the center conducted by the health center nurse. Distribution of literature on good health and prevention of disease.

Instruction through visitations and other media on how to avoid tuberculosis. Health center programs and campaigns in co-operation with other local health organizations to make Barrington a more healthful place in which to live.

"All these services are made possible by the sale of Christmas seals by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county, an affiliate of the National Tuberculosis association," Mrs. Wollat pointed out. "The local program is part of a nation-wide program carried on by 1500 tuberculosis associations and 1200 smaller committees."

"Statistics prove the effectiveness of the methods used. Thirty years ago when the tuberculosis campaign was in its infancy and the first nation-wide Christmas seal sale was being held, 148 of every 100,000 people living in the United States were dying annually from tuberculosis. In 1938 there were about 50 deaths from this disease out of every 100,000 people," she stated.
