Six Local Scouts at Camp This Week

Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta, the boy scout camp of the Northwest Suburban council and Kenosha council, Boy Scouts of America, is carrying on in excellent manner with the camp filled to capacity for the remainder of the season.

The following scouts are attending camp this week: Robert Haines, Wayne Rutledge, Marshall Stayer, Robert Langdale, Jack Gröning and Boyd Miller, troop 25, Barrington; James Creighton, John Coghill, Donald Coghill, Gilbert Thomas, Mitchell Rhoads, Royal Anderson, Lyman Jones, Elmer Christmann, Richard Trueman, Frank Griffin, Richard Ehrhardt, Jerry Bruhnke, William Burmeister, Richard Ziemann and Scoutmaster M. C. Rhodes of troop 2, Park Ridge; William Scherer, Donald Shaw and Jack Mathis of troop 1, Park Ridge; Tom Coleman, Tom Jarvis, Kay Sebert, Ralph Smith, Charles Leveck, Robert Blitzer, Elmer Thorsen, Bert Rose, troop 7, Arlington Heights; Joseph Holbrook and Allen Brodie of troop 4, Park Ridge; Donald Tiedt, Clifton Whittington, William Flech, Albert Goeier, Harold Kroger, Harold Blos, Raymond Nitch, Jack Kittredge, and Robert Serbinski of troop 8, Niles; Robert Wehrmann, troop 6; Charles McKinley, Robert Douthett, Otto Strobach, troop 29 of Des Plaines; Warren Person, troop 18, Wheeling; Tom Humphreys and August Penkava of troop 9, Palatine.

Last week one feature of the program was the mammoth parade held on Independence Day in which each unit of the camp presented a scene and all the campers were dressed in various costumes. The pioneer village unit fired up a very fine replica of the covered wagon of pioneer days, the nautical unit a water scene, and the base camp a scene of ancient times with one of the members being carried on a litter and the Indian village presented a colorful picture with Indian costumes.

Scout William Scherer of troop 1 of Park Ridge was selected as alternate for honor camper for the second week and Allen Mathis of troop 1 of Park Ridge was selected to serve on the junior staff in recognition of his very fine achievement during his period at camp.

Considerable is being accomplished in merit badge work and scout advancement.

The Gleaners class of St. Paul church will have an ice cream social on the church lawn Wednesday evening, July 20. They will also be a homemade candy booth in charge of the Senior league.
